Stirling Fall Fair Prize Lists Offer Excellent Prizes In All Classes

Achievement Day To Be Held For Various 4-H Clubs — Special School Section

The prize lists for Stirling Fall Fair to be held on September 16th and 17th are ready for distribution this week.

The Directors have endeavored to make the prize list attractive and have been well supported by outside firms and local citizens who have offered special prizes in the various classes.

Horse Classes

In the horse section there are the customary Heavy Draught, Agricultural, Roadster, Carriage, Hackney, Pony and Wagon Classes.

There are also several special prizes offered which should result in one of the best shows of horses at Stirling Fair in years.

Cattle Classes

In the cattle, prizes are offered for Ayrshire, Holstein, Jersey, Hereford, Dual Purpose and beef breeds. There are also special prizes listed for all classes.

The customary classes are provided for sheep, swine and poultry.

A feature this year is the Eaton's of Canada Livestock Special awarded to the exhibitor winning the highest number of points in the Livestock Classes. An exhibitor winning this trophy at another 1960 Fair will not be eligible at the local Fair.

Ladies' Work

The ladies' work section of the prize list includes children's wear, ladies' wear, men's wear, and homecraft divisions. There is also a junior section featured for exhibitors from 9 to 12 years and teenagers. Attractive prizes are offered as well as several good specials donated by interested parties.

There are also classes for Cheese, Garden and Roots, Fruits, Grain and Seeds and Domestic Science.

Public School Section

A special section for public schools in Sidney, Rawdon and Stirling is also included, with good prizes being offered for exhibits in various classes. School Parade

There will be the customary school parade competition for rural public schools with good cash prizes. The teachers and pupils of the various rural schools are urged to enter this competition. See the prize list for complete details.

Junior Farmer Section

There is a Junior Farmer Section in which the Achievement Days of the various 4-H Clubs are featured. There are five clubs, the Stirling 4-H Calf Club, South Hastings 4-H Grain Club, South Hastings 4-H Tractor Club and the Moira-Trent 4-H Forestry Club. These Clubs are sponsored and financed by the Canada and Ontario Departments of Agriculture and the Stirling Agricultural Society.

Be An Exhibitor

The farmers and their wives, as well as local citizens, are urged to get a prize list and be an exhibitor in one of the many classes offered. The Agricultural Society sponsors the Fair entirely in the interests of the farmers of the surrounding district and should be encouraged.

Copies of the prize list may be obtained from R. E. Shortt, Secretary; Davidson's Feeds, Patterson's Men's Wear or at the News-Argus office.

The local public school pupils will get their prize lists at the school from the Principal.

Local and Personal

Mrs. E. A. Manchester, of Marmora, Mrs. Dr. McDougall, of Strathroy, Mrs. J. W. Richardson, of Deloro, were dinner guests of Mrs. Russell Stapley on Wednesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. David Mumby and children, of Moira, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Vardy, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vardy and Donna, all of town, spent Sunday at Papineau Lake.

Stirling Meets Cardiff Next

Stirling Juveniles will play Cardiff in the next round of the Juvenile "C" Softball Play-downs, with the first game to be played in Cardiff, West of Bancroft, on Saturday night, September 3rd.

The second game will be played on the Frankford School grounds. Cardiff eliminated Hastings in two straight games and the winner of the Stirling-Cardiff series will be in the Ontario semi-finals.

Sheridan's Horses Win At Central Canada Exhibition

Mr. and Mrs. John Sheridan attended the Ottawa Exhibition last week and won several prizes on their show horses.

On Tuesday in the Heavy Harness Horse Class, over 15.2 hands they won 2nd with "Dufferin Emperor", with Mr. Sheridan driving; 2nd in the Lady's Heavy Harness Horse Class, with Mrs. Sheridan the driver; and 2nd in the Roadster 15.2 and under class with "Lee Mann".

On Thursday, they won second in the Hackney Heavy Harness Team Class with "Dufferin Emperor" and "Hillsburgh Leading Lady".

Friday, "Dufferin Emperor" took third prize in the single high stepper over 14.2 hands. They also won 2nd prize in the Harness Horse Stake with the same horse and 3rd prize in the Roadster Stake with "Lee Man".

Rainbow Fishing Camp Residence Destroyed By Fire Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm And Family Escape In Just Their Night Clothes

The home of Albert Wilhelm at the Rainbow Fishing Camp widely known as the old Pioneer Rosebush home at the Trent River, was completely destroyed by fire early Monday morning, around 1 o'clock. The family had retired about 10.30 p.m. and was awakened by a strange noise to find their usual exit blocked by flames. Mr. Wilhelm had presence of mind to gather his family to an upstairs window, from where he jumped. He secured a ladder and through the bravery and courage of all, he was able to rescue his wife and family. They escaped with only the clothes they were wearing. The complete contents were destroyed. Mr. Wilhelm, who has lived here for about 3 years, was doing a thriving tourist business.

An Old House

This old house was one of the oldest, and could be the oldest, of its kind in the vicinity. When Mrs. Lewis Smith Rosebush (who was born in 1820) first saw the place when she was in her teen-age, it was well established, having been freshly painted, being the first house in the vicinity to receive a "coat of paint"—something new in those days. It was built by Lewis Rosebush—Joseph & Sons, the first pioneers of the community—who came to this area around 1794.

This home had been completely modernized. The original home was a frame one, made from the Virgin forests with hand squared timbers, mortised joints and hardwood wooden pins. The nails and spikes were blacksmith-made. Many of the boards, due to the large logs, were 30 inches wide. No lath and plaster were used in its construction. It was

Garden Tour Held Monday

On Monday afternoon, August 29th, eighteen members of Stirling Horticultural Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Armstrong for the annual garden tour.

After looking over Mrs. Armstrong's garden, the party proceeded to inspect the gardens of Mrs. L. Wannamaker, Mrs. Ivan Caldwell, Mrs. V. Stacey, Mrs. Chas. Conley, Mr. Fred Houchin, Mrs. Allen Wannamaker, Church St., Mrs. C. Rollins and Mrs. J. Chambers. Rain interrupted the tour at this point and the party proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Brooks where lunch of doughnuts and coffee was served and a social time enjoyed.

Several parts of a newsletter was read by some of the members and a letter from Mrs. Sheperdson re a bus trip to Toronto to the International Rose show to be held at Casa Loma on October 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th. Anyone wishing to go on this trip will contact one of the following committee: Mrs. Ross Bush, Mrs. Raymond McConnell or Mrs. Floyd Armstrong not later than September 5th as there are a lot of plans to be made by Mrs. Sheperdson.

Plans were made for a very interesting meeting in October. Look for further notice under the Crest in your local paper.

Labour Day At The P.O.

Monday next, September 5th, being Labour Day and a public holiday the public wicket at the local post office will be open from 8 to 9 a.m. only. There will be no rural mail delivery.

The public lobby will be open as usual for the convenience of boxholders.

Don Pollock Winner of Nine Awards At C.N.E.

Donald J. Pollock, of Campbellford, won seven out of nine possible awards in Canadian National exhibition cheese judging. He was first in factory white and coloured cheeses, Canada stilton and cheddar.

Irving W. Cuth, of Ingleside, won the silver trophy for the highest scoring factory cheese. Roy Greenhorn, of Athens, won one of the factory coloured cheese classes.

Mr. Pollock is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pollock, Church Street, Stirling.

originally a hotel or social centre for its day, as the Trent River was then the main thoroughfare and this was a community centre. The community hall or "ball" room was very large and complete with a huge fire place and chimney from floor to ceiling, wide enough for a huge 6 ft. log. This house was the centre of many activities common to the time.

The house, as it stood when burned, was two complete buildings put together. The one facing the river was built in 1841 at the time Lewis Smith Rosebush, son of the first Lewis, was married and where his sons, Hiram Rosebush—moved these to his brothers and sisters were born. Hiram Rosebush, moved these together in the early 1900's. There are many descendants of this pioneer family in Stirling and vicinity and Belleville and Trenton.

Much credit was given the Frankford Fire Department and the neighbours for their speedy actions which saved the nearby house, built in 1925 by Hiram Rosebush and sons, Norman and Ernest Rosebush.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

Men's Triples Tourney Saturday

Only four outside rinks turned up for the men's triples tournament on Saturday afternoon and four local rinks made up the draw. Three fifteen-end games were played and some excellent bowling was enjoyed. The outside rinks were from Campbellford, Trenton, and Belleville.

High honours for the day were won by a local rink composed of K. Stapley, F. R. Mallory and R. E. Fox, skip, with a score of 53 plus five. The high two-game winner was a Belleville rink composed of W. Van Tassel, Geo. McGee and Gordon Watkin, skip, with a score of 49 plus one. A Trenton rink, composed of Haker, Peacock and H. Ormslaw, skip, was the high one-game winner with a score of 49.

The draw was conducted by F. R. Mallory and the ladies served a dinner at six o'clock.

First Game

Watkins, Belleville, vs Brown, Stirling, 15-12; Bennett, Campbellford, vs Tompkins, Stirling, 20-11; Fox, Stirling, vs Ormslaw, Trenton, 17-15; Fraser, Stirling, vs Meyers, Campbellford, 17-6.

Second Game

Marvin Reid Heavy Hitter With Two Home Runs — Stewart Pitches Good Ball

Stirling Juveniles advanced further along the softball play-off trail on Friday night when they defeated Warkworth 14-5 in the third and deciding game in the district series. The game was played under the lights at the Frankford School grounds and was witnessed by a large crowd of fans. G. Stewart was on the mound and pitched shutout ball throughout with the exception of the sixth inning when he gave the visitors all their runs. He was replaced by Kerr, who completed the inning, but came back strong for the remainder of the game. Stirling hitters were led by Marvin Reid, who got two homers, one a grand slam, and had their big inning in the seventh when they pushed across 9 runs. They scored one each in the first four innings and added another in the ninth.

Score by innings:

Stirling 1 1 1 0 0 9 0 1—14
Warkworth 0 0 0 0 5 0 0 0—5

X. P. Mayhew Loses Mother

Stirling and district friends extend sympathy to X. P. Mayhew in the loss of his mother, Mrs. Peter Briscoe, who passed away in Victoria Hospital, Renfrew, on Saturday, August 27th. She was in her 77th year and was predeceased by her husband in April last.

Minimum Prices Recommended For Treated Seed

Minimum prices for treated seed in new bags (basis at farm or local shipping point) have just been recommended by the Seed Marketing Committee of the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association.

Winter Wheat:
Registered No. 1—$2.40 per bushel.
Certified No. 1—$2.20 per bushel.
Commercial No. 1—$2.00 per bushel.

Rye (Tetra Petkus):
Commercial No. 1—$1.75 per bushel.
Winter Barley — (mostly Hudson variety):

Registered No. 1—$2.25 per bushel.
Certified No. 1—$2.10 per bushel.
Commercial No. 1—$1.90 per bushel.
The committee also discloses the following:

Genesee now comprises more than 90 per cent of the registered acreage of winter wheat in Ontario.

18 million bushels is the estimated winter wheat production for 1969 in Ontario, with a trend developing to storing and feeding.

Winter barley acreage is increasing with brewers and malters contracting for some 10,000 acres of Hudson variety.

Tetra Petkus Rye is being used extensively for pasture, silage, grain and tensively for pasture, silage, grain and winter cover crops.

CNR Reorganized

President Donald Gordon has announced a plan to revise the organizational structure of the Canadian National Railways system.

He said the aim is to decentralize authority and modernize administrative techniques.

The plan calls for reconstituting the present three regions, 10 districts and 31 divisions into five regions which in turn will be divided into 13 "business units" with jurisdiction over all rail transportation activities in assigned geographic areas.

The present Central Region, which includes nearly all of Ontario and Quebec, will be divided into the St. Lawrence Region with headquarters at Montreal and the Great Lakes Region with headquarters at Toronto. The present Western Region, which includes the entire territory west from the Lakehead to the Pacific Ocean, will be divided into the Prairie Region with headquarters at Winnipeg and the Mountain Region with headquarters at Edmonton. The present Atlantic Region with headquarters at Moncton remains substantially the same.

The reorganization, which follows two years of intensive study, is designed to achieve a faster and more effective response to varying local needs in today's highly competitive business environment, Mr. Gordon said.

What Can We Do?

The following item was distributed to every pupil in a South Dakota School. It reads as follows:

Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen agers: "What can we do?" "Where can we go?"

I can make a few suggestions: Go Home! Remove the storm windows. Paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Learn to cook. Scrub the floors. Repair the sink. Get a new job. Help your . . . pastor, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And when you're through — and not too tired — read a good book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. The world does not owe you a living. Your city does not owe you fancy amusements. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy, and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

In plain simple words: Grow up; quit being a baby; get out of your dream world; develop a backbone, not a wish bone; and start acting like a man or lady.

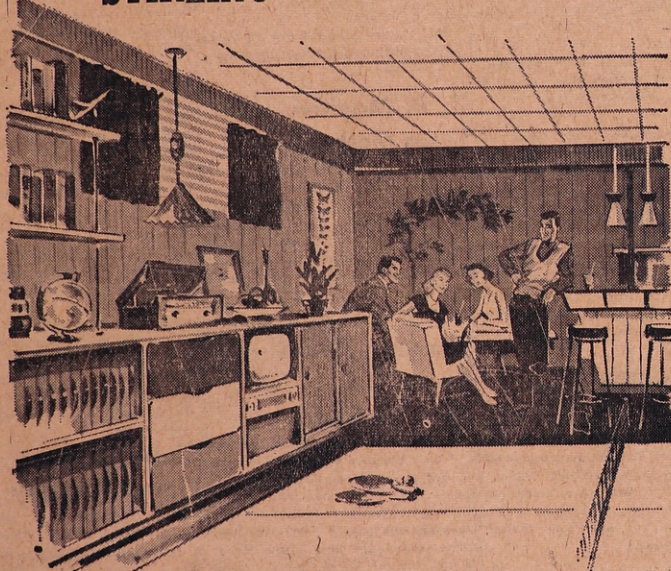

I'm a parent. I'm tired of nursing, protecting, helping, appealing, begging, excusing, tolerating, denying myself needed comforts for every whim and fancy, just because your selfish ego, instead of common sense, dominates your personality and thinking.

Speed lengthens the shadow of danger that stretches ahead of every moving car. "Slow Down and Live!" asks the Ontario Safety League.

Mine's History Is Story of Deloro Village

By Bob Santer — Peterboro Examiner

It is impossible to write a history of the village of Deloro without, at the same time, writing a history of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company plant.

Their stories are so intertwined and the two were always so dependent on each other that they are inseparable.

Deloro began as a small shack community in the 1860's when gold was discovered in the site of the present smelting plant. In those days, of course, it did not have a name — it was just part of Marmora Township.

Early engineers' estimates of the value of the gold strike were soon found to have been far too optimistic. The bad news was passed to the backers in England but they had invested too much money into the project to abandon it. They told the mine manager to keep searching for a rich vein.

Shaft after shaft was sunk without success — 25 of them can still be located on the property today but late in the 19th century, the investors' money ran out and the gold mine was closed down in 1901.

Just before the turn of the century, the gold mine had been joined by an arsenic company managed by Peter Kirkgaard.

Silver in 1904

In 1904 silver was struck at Cobalt, Ont., and because the cobalt ore, in which the silver was found, also contained arsenic, it seemed logical to Mr. Kirkgaard that he could persuade some of the silver mines to send their ore to his plant for smelting and refining.

M. J. O'Brien, later Senator O'Brien, agreed to back the new industry and then Mr. Kirkgaard teamed up with Professor Stafford Kirkpatrick, of Queen's University, who had devised a new process for extracting silver from cobalt ore.

Between them, the trio had the money, the knowledge and the facilities for processing the ore from Cobalt but it was three years before they persuaded some of the mines to start shipments. They were helped by heavy penalties levied on ore sent to the United States for processing because of the arsenic content.

In 1907, the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited began full-time operations and produced silver and arsenic.

Up to that time, cobalt was used only for colouring and ceramics and world production amounted to less than 300 tons annually. Although demand was slight, the company started extracting cobalt from the ore too, in 1909.

Harry Loveless started work at the plant in 1910. He was one of 125 men on the payroll.

Mr. Loveless worked at the plant for 48 years before retiring in 1958, but he can still remember the early days there.

He recalls it was in 1914 that the first cobalt metal produced commercially in the world was manufactured at the Deloro plant. The new process soon progressed to the production of stellite—which is cobalt mixed with tungsten and chromium. Stellite became a much sought-after war material and from 1915 to 1919, the plant shipped large quantities of the alloy to the United States, England and France.

Headed Operations

It was in 1915 that Charles Buskard, a graduate mining engineer from Queen's University, joined the staff. Over the years, he and Mr. Loveless were to rise to the head of the respective operations. Mr. Buskard became manager of cobalt operations and Mr. Loveless becoming general foreman.

When the Deloro company had purchased the Canadian Goldfields' operations, the deal had included a small group of company houses just outside the plant gates. Both Mr. Buskard and Mr. Loveless remember the first concrete block houses the company built in 1916. The same year saw the building of the Deloro public school which took the place of a make-shift classroom in the basement of the community hall.

Tired of paying taxes to Marmora Township and getting little in return, the community residents decided to seek incorporation as a village in 1918. Because they did not have the minimum population of 1,000 required for incorporation, the citizens sponsored a special bill which was passed in 1919 and the Village of Deloro was officially born.

Served as Reeve

S. B. Wright, general manager of the Deloro plant, was acclaimed first reeve of the village and since then there has never been an election for reeve—never has there been more than one candidate for the position—and it was not until 1945 that an election was held for council.

Although the plant had plenty of ore stock-piled in 1921, demand for cobalt dwindled and there were large lay-offs. After two years, demand began to pick up again but in 1929, it looked as if Deloro was finished. It was saved, paradoxically, by the closing of some of the bigger silver mines in Cobalt. These mines cleared out all their cobalt at once and shipped it to Deloro at a low price. The huge stock of cobalt kept the plant operating—even through the depression—until 1939 when once again world demand for cobalt boomed.

A cobalt plant in Oolen, Belgium, processing ore from the Belgian Congo, was supplying most of the world demand for 8,000 tons of cobalt annually at this time but soon it was necessary to start shipping the Congo ore to Deloro—the only cobalt plant on the North American continent. Throughout the war, the Deloro plant produced silver, nickel, cobalt, arsenic and copper from the Congo ore. The plant was also receiving ore from the English Rhokana Company in Southern Rhodesia.

Slump of '47-'50

From 1947 to 1950, the company and the village went into another slump to be saved this time by the Korean war. After this war the American government, tired of being caught without cobalt in wartime, subsidized the cobalt miners in the Cobalt-Gowganda area and contracted with Deloro for a stock-pile that kept the plant operating full strength to 1955.

Since then, the company has been struggling against impossible economic odds. Cobalt can be produced in Belgium for the same price that it costs to dig the ore out of the ground in Canada.

From $2.60 per pound in 1957, the world market price of cobalt has dropped to $1.50 this year and it is no longer possible for the company to carry on. There is no silver left in the Cobalt area and although it would be possible to use the company's smelting and refining facilities for other ores—customers still have to be found.

The residents of the neighbouring villages of Madoc and Marmora, which have both benefitted through the years from Deloro shoppers, are not prepared to let Deloro close without a fight, however, and they are asking government help in finding another use for the plant.

The Save-Deloro campaign has only four months in which to get action. After that time, plant manager Jack Cram predicts there will be only watchmen at the plant.

Cobalt is not solely responsible for building the reputation of Deloro Village — baseball has helped too.

Bill Regan, who has been with the firm 40 years, still recalls the days when he played third base for the Deloro team that won the Ontario Intermediate A championship.

The village ball team was formed in 1919 when the plant was employing 400 men. The team played in the Trent Valley League with Tweed, Havelock, Madoc and Marmora. Among the plant workers, however, were some first-class players from Quebec and southern Ontario.

Team Too Good

Deloro was just too good for the other teams in the league and after winning practically every game from 1919, it was decided to join the Bay of Quinte League consisting of Picton, Point Anne and Belleville.

It was in 1926 that the Deloro squad, after 24 games in the semi-finals and finals, was presented with the Ontario championship trophy in Oshawa.

After this triumph, the team moved into the Central Ont. Senior League with Kingston, Belleville, Oshawa and Peterborough and until 1929, the Deloro ball games drew huge crowds to the ball park in the shadow of the smelting plant.

Over the same period, the village also formed a good hockey club but it did not match the success of the baseball team.

As proof of the plant workers' versatility, there was a soccer team, a tennis club and a lawn bowling club, all formed in those golden years.

The fun ended in 1929 when the bottom fell out of the market. The baseball team was immediately disbanded and although the hockey team carried on, it was a poor shadow of its former self.

For many years the bowling green and the tennis courts were kept in immaculate condition but today the baseball field is buried under thousands of tons of ore residue, the tennis court is dilapidated and the bowling green is unused.

There are now 52 homes in Deloro. At least 15 are empty — many need a coat of paint. The village has gone downhill with the price of cobalt.

Admittedly, there are still houses well-kept and freshly painted. These are still some with carefully tended flower gardens but the empty tree-lined main street now leads to a deserted plant where only 30 men work and as many as 600 worked before. It is a far cry from the days recalled by Mr. Buskard when Deloro homes had piped water and sewers before Marmora and Madoc.

Mr. Buskard became the village's third reeve in 1944. The first reeve, S. B. Wright, had served until 1942, when he was succeeded by R. A. Elliott, also general manager of the plant. Mr. Elliott vacated the post in 1944.

Mr. Buskard served as reeve until his retirement in 1958 when he handed over the reins to L. R. Whittlemore. During his 14 years in office, he was instrumental in having a water area formed and water piped into village homes.

That is the history of Deloro to August 27th, 1960. Whether the history will end in December and whether Deloro will then become a ghost town depends on government mining experts who will soon be visiting the plant to see if it can be adapted for another use.

The Little Bass And His World

In a quiet cove of the pond, a small bass, swimming about in the midst of pondweeds and waterweeds, lives in a world engagingly different from our own.

The leafy stems of the tall submerged plants are his forest. Within it there are no trails that we could recognize, but the little bass has his preferred pathways to food and safety. Over his treetops a glassy surface, like a strange kind of window, separates his realm from the distant sky. The sunshine that reaches him is tempered, and the shadows that it casts are subdued. The clouds that drift overhead are soft and vague.

His leafy forest is a place of translucent vistas.

Within his world he moves freely in every direction, up and down, right and left. He may linger in the crowns of his small trees or may visit their base, rooted in the ooze. In all of this, he moves with effortless ease. If he so elects, he may thrust his head through the glassy window, above the treetops and glimpse a different world.

When cold weather comes, when seeds are detached from the waterweeds and sent floating upward, when the submerged forest silently bows to the inevitable cycle, when the surface of the pond becomes a locked door, the world of the little bass does not cease to exist. In the deeper part of the cove, his life goes on. His forest landscape is altered, as the ceiling of ice brings twilight to the corridors and open spaces. But as when a stage is darkened while new scenery is moved into place, the returning sun will once more shine through a glassy window and send its subdued rays in a submerged forest where a small bass swims about — From "Beyond the Cabin Door," by Walter Collins O'Kane.

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE RE-AFFIRMS CHARITABLE STATUS OF MORAL RE-ARMAMENT

Eight Members of Parliament including Revenue Minister Nowlan and two Parliamentary Under Secretaries sternly took to task the CCF Member from Kootenay West, H. W. Herridge, for a "vitriolic attack" on Moral Re-Armament in the House of Commons last week.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for External Affairs, referring to the CCF's attack said, "I must say I was surprised, but I suppose that those in this world who don't agree with the precepts of socialism and Communism might well come under such attack."

Referring to the fact that the charitable status under which gifts to Moral Re-Armament are tax deductible, the Revenue Minister said "Years ago the Minister then responsible ruled that Moral Re-Armament was a charitable organization within the meaning of the Act, and I have seen no reason, and I have heard no reason tonight why that decision should be reversed or interfered with."

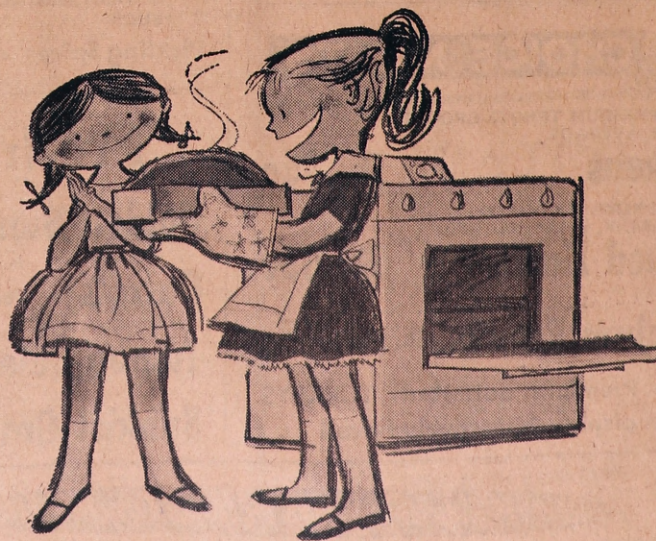

Drawing the attention of the House to the continuing attacks on MRA that appear with regularity in the official Communist paper, Major Chesley Carter of Newfoundland affirmed that the purpose of Moral Re-Armament was not the formation of any type of religious or political party and that its charter was granted in recognition of its aim — "To advance Christian religion" — and that it at no point attempted nor desired to compete with any religious body.

In conclusion Mr. Carter said, "Moral Re-Armament does heal the mistrust, hates and resentments among the peoples of the world. It holds out to mankind the challenge of living by absolute moral standards."

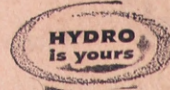

this better be the way to Jerry Poindexter's heart!

Nice going little schemer! He's practically "in your power," right now, thanks to electricity! Remember... when you're aiming at a man's heart by way of his tummy, it's your range that counts!

Little girls and big girls, too, are safer and more successful with their meal-planning when they cook on a modern electric range. To get more out of life, get the most out of electricity.

Mount Pleasant

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Ann Smith and Mr. George Francis Johnston, of Berkeley, Ontario, was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

Miss Ruth Sharpe is holidaying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sharp and will return to her position on the High School staff, Oshawa, in September. Ruth recently visited at Beaumont, Texas, and then she and Mrs. J. B. Bech travelled by jet plane to and from Mexico where they spent a few weeks on a guided tour of that country. Mrs. Bech accompanied Ruth home and spent a day at Mount Pleasant before travelling to Ottawa for a holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Murney Fleming, Columbus, Ontario, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan and attended the shower for the newlyweds.

Mrs. Herbert Smith accompanied Mrs. George Haggerty and they attended the Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Tweedy, Belleville, on August 14th.

Rev. R. R. Bonsteel, Bronte, called on several friends here last week.

RIVER VALLEY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

200 men and women convened in Montreal, Canada, August 21st to 31st to discuss problems of Adult Education in a Changing World. Dr. Nancy Adams, Area Vice-President for A.C.W.V. is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pollock, of Warkworth, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Don Knight and family. Mrs. Paul Sharp was a supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher on the occasion of the 80th Anniversary of her birth.

Guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sharp and Bert were Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hagerman, Salem, Miss Myrtle Reid, Ottawa, and Mrs. Harlod Reid, Crookston.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan attended a shower on Thursday evening in honour of their son and his wife at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, Stirling.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen spent a few days this week at Niagara Falls, Toronto and the C.N.E. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ormel MacMullen and family, of Belleville.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher gave a message for the Ontario Temperance Federation on Sunday morning.

Trousseau Tea

On Wednesday, August 24th, afternoon and evening, Mrs. Herbert Smith entertained a large number of friends and relatives to a trousseau tea in honour of her daughter, Eleanor, who was married the following Saturday.

The rooms were decorated with summer blooms. The wedding gifts were displayed downstairs, while the shower gifts and trousseau were nicely arranged for all to view. The dining table was covered with white damask and centred with silver tea services, candelabra and a bowl of delicate fuchsia pink blooms.

Those who served and poured included Mrs. Frank Smith, Madoc Junction; Mrs. George Haggerty, of Stirling; Mrs. Ernest Carr, River Valley; Mrs. Robert Hoard and Miss Norma Hoard, of Hoards; Mrs. Robert Merrick and Mrs. Grant Hubble. The guests included the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. B. Spry, Stirling, and her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Bedford, Trenton; Mrs. Vernon Curry, of Toronto and Mrs. Morris Morrison, of Bethel.

RAISED LIVING STANDARDS

RECREATION FOR SONS AND DAUGHTERS

SOEST, West Germany

Two months of summer holidays — what to do with the youngsters?

The Canadian Army's NATO force is solving the problem in much the same manner as communities back home — supervised recreation. But the children of our fighting men have an added advantage in this area of Westphalia. They and their mothers can take tours to places of historic days, with the co-operation of the dous Wuppertal Zoo.

The three communities of Werl, Hemer and Soest have similar programs for their youngsters. As we drove in to the Soest Permanent Married Quarters, we saw a group of lads in a game of baseball, so we decided to stop right here.

The Canadian Army brought professional directors to West Germany at the beginning of July, and in a few days, with the co-operations of the "Mayors" and committees, full programs were in full swing in each of the communities.

At Soest, we met Capt. H. R. Ryan, director of intra-mural athletics and recreation for men at McGill University, and Lieut. Norman Higgs, physical education director of Chippewa Secondary School, North Bay, who are directing the Brigade Headquarters program.

They have a group of teen-agers engaged by the community committee headed by Major Jack Baillie, "Mayor" of the Soest community. Five of them are on duty each day. Providing excellent leadership are "Pat" Elliott, Bob Long, Gloria Dann, Judy Clark, Cheryl Bramwell, Barbara Campbell, Penny Provin, Bob Hanna, Doug Crookes, Denis Bult-Francis, John McKibbin, Beverley Campbell, Camille LeGros, Sandra Rayner, Sandy Weeks, Patricia Watson, Brian Bellefontaine and Karla Williams.

The junior program takes in girls up to nine years, and boys to seven — over that the boys are apt to look on the games as "sissy" affairs, and so are sent on to the senior groups.

The juniors participate in singing and low organization games, arts and crafts. They have a story-telling period and a free play period. Seniors have a wide variety of activity with the main focus on high organization games like baseball and softball, touch football, a Canadian version of cricket, volleyball, deck tennis and track and field. A field day for track and field for boys and girls was held July 29th. Classes were set by height not age. Leagues were also organized for softball, volleyball and football.

While the playgrounds were well attended, the highlight of the summer program is swimming. The program parallels the Red Cross system, including two classes for beginners, intermediate and advanced.

An innovation for adults was the course in physical recreation for married women — "fitness through participation."

Four tours may be chosen by mothers and children from the 14 offered. A system of reservations ensures a fair distribution. Tours leave by bus from the Maple Leaf Service store at 10 a.m., and arrive back at 5 p.m.

Tours include visits to Altema Castle; Bad Driburg, well-known spa; Furstenburg, sightseeing and china; Hagen, Hohensyberg castle; Detmold, Hermann Monument; sightseeing and shopping at Essen, Dortmund, and Munster; the zoo and famous monorail at Wuppertal, the Sauerland trip includes Winterberg and other sightseeing at Munsterland and Tecklenburg. Two of the most popular tours will be repeated at the end of the season.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

WALKING AFTER THE BALL

Vernon Law, star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, told a writer for THIS WEEK magazine some of the secrets of becoming a winner. Law keeps a little black book in which he has written down things he has noticed about winners in the great sport of baseball. One of the first observations was this:

Nobody ever became a ballplayer by walking after the ball!

What a wealth of philosophy there is in that one observation!

Another pointed comment was this: "When you start to slide — slide. He who changes his mind may exchange a good leg for a broken one."

Another was: "You'll never become a .300 hitter unless you take your bat off your shoulder."

Seldom have I been so impressed with words. Law, who is an elder of his church as well as being one of the finest pitchers in baseball, speaks volumes in each single line. His observations in his own trade apply with stinging force to most other human enterprises.

Nobody ever became a ballplayer by walking after the ball! Any man who can get that wisdom etched into his carnium is half way to home. Any nation with young men who know this truth and live by it will be wealthy and secure.

Canadians, in general, do not walk after the ball. We are hustlers. We are industrious and hard working. But in recent years there has been a drift away from such an attitude. There are some who preach that by some political magic or other we can become secure and well-fed and strong while walking, not running, after the ball. We cannot. We must hustle. No nation ever became great without zeal and enterprise and plenty of hard work.

And there was another bit of advice in Vernon Law's black notebook — advice some of those who call for more government spending ought to read and absorb. It was packed into one sharp sentence, too.

"Don't throw the ball before you have it."

The Good Driver

There is a grim consistency in the way Ontario automobile drivers challenge trains for the right of way, says the Ontario Safety League. In 1959, there were 443 collisions at R.R. crossings, compared with 454, 529, 503 in the three preceding years. No car has won yet.

Drivers are reminded that windshield and windows should be cleaned inside at least once a month, to maintain proper visibility for strain-free driving. The Ontario Safety League points out that smoking increases the rate at which film builds up on glass inside the car.

Tragic irony surrounded the taking of a final drink by a Navy Petty Officer, reports the Ontario Safety League. He had several drinks at an establishment called "First and Last Stop". Leaving there after midnight, he drove along Farewell Street at a speed higher than the posted speed limit. He failed to heed a sign warning of a dangerous curve, mounted a curb, struck several trees and came to rest against a fence — surrounding a cemetery. He died a few hours later.

"Over protection" of children from traffic hazards in school areas may be more dangerous than giving them no special protection at all, warns the Ontario Safety League. If children are overly protected in school areas they may develop an attitude of carelessness that will make them less safety conscious, and so increase their vulnerability elsewhere. One of the essentials in protecting children from hazards is positive safety education, to develop alertness, good judgement and self-reliance.

When did you last check the pressure in your spare tire? asks the Ontario Safety League. Your fifth tire is a safety device, but neglect to check it regularly could make it hazardous, or useless when needed in an emergency.

CONSERVATION NEWS

HUNTING SEASONS TWEED DISTRICT

In the Tweed Forest District which consists of the Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac, Prince Edward, South Renfrew and the 3 Northern most Township of Lanark, the season for ducks, geese, grouse and partridge commences on September 24th. The deer and moose season opens November 7th.

Deer — November 7th to November 19th (Northern Section); November 7th to November 12th (Southern Section).

Moose — November 7th, to November 19th; (in the Northern Section only — special permit is required).

Grouse & Partridge — September 24th to November 19th.

Ducks, Geese, Rails, Coots and Gallinules — September 24th to Dec. 15th.

Pheasants — October 8th to October 29th.

Bag Limits And Possession Limits

Grouse — 5 per day; possession — 20.

Partridge (Hungarian)—8 per day; possession — 16.

Ducks—6 per day, includes 1 wood-duck and 1 redhead or canvas back; possession — 12, includes only 1 redhead or canvas back.

Geese — 5 per day; possession—10. Rails, Coots and Gallinules — 6 per day (aggregate); possession — 12 (aggregate).

Pheasants — 3 per day, of which not more than 1 shall be a hen.

SEED COLLECTION QUOTAS SET FOR THE TWEED DISTRICT

If you look carefully, you may see dollars hanging from the upper branches of the trees in your locality. Seed collection time is here again and the Tweed District of the Department of Lands and Forests is issuing contracts for the collection of Red Pine and White Spruce cones at $6.00 per bushel, Red Spruce at $8.00 per bushel, and White Cedar at $10.00 per bushel. These contracts are being issued through your local Chief Forest Ranger or Deputy Chief Forest Ranger who has been assigned a collection quota.

If you are interested in collecting cones, first get a contract. Without it you will not be able to sell your cones.

Secondly, make sure the cones are ripe before picking. Ripe Red Pine cones are a deep purple colour with reddish brown scale tips, and will float when placed in kerosene. White Spruce and Cedar cones turn brown when ripe, while Red Spruce turn a greenish brown. A further test for all species is to examine the seeds under the cone scales. If the seed is firm, and not pulpy and soft, it is probably ripe. If there is any doubt, you should ask advice from the nearest office of the Department.

Deadline for Cutting Permit Applications

October 15th, has been set as the closing date for receipt of applications for District Cutting Licenses (Cutting Permits) in the Tweed District. If you are planning a small logging operation, but are waiting until the cool fall weather before starting, you should be sure to get your application in before the deadline date.

Because the total volume of rough hardwood pulpwood required this year from Crown Land by the Hinde and Dauch Paper Company has now been issued, no further pulpwood permits can be issued unless the applicant has another market. Sawlog permits will be issued subject only to the limitations of allowable annual cut for the District.

Life Expectancy Up, Especially Average Woman

Mr. Average Canadian Man has, statistically speaking, been given an extra 1.3 years to live. But the statistics are more generous to Mrs. Average Canadian Woman. She's has 2.1 years added to her life expectancy.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the life expectancy at birth for Canadian males has reached 67.6 years, based on deaths in the three-year period around the 1956 census. In 1951, the life span averaged only 66.3 years.

The life expectancy at birth for Canadian females has been averaged at 72.9 years, compared with 70.3 in 1951.

The average life span has increased considerably in both sexes in recent years. In 1931, the average for Canadian males was only 60 years, for females, 62.1.

DBS statistics indicate the increases in life expectancy apply predominantly to the younger group particularly infants, and diminish in old age.

While longevity has improved for both sexes, there has been only slight improvement for males beyond middle life.

The DBS report issued recently says the improvement in life expectancy, particularly among children and adolescents, is due mainly to the substantial reduction of mortality from infectious diseases.

But on the other hand, diseases associated with middle age are much less easy to control, so DBS sums up, it is unlikely that improvement in life expectancy in the future will be nearly as rapid as that of the past quarter-century.

TO KEEP A PEACH

Peaches have withstood the battering of centuries. Today's delicate golden peach would certainly not be recognized as the descendant of the wild fruit known as far back as the year 2000 B.C. At that time, the peach was small, hairy and hard with a sour flavour and certainly not to be compared with the large, plump, tender, deliciously flavoured peach of today. Much time and effort has been and is still being spent in trying to produce peaches of better quality for the consumer.

A peach's complexion is very important and should be examined closely before buying. The complexion forms the background of the peach and should be lightest green or yellowish and not dark green. A green peach will shrivel and become tough and rubbery instead of ripening. Do not choose peaches that show signs of brown rot, worm holes or growth cracks.

If the peaches you have bought are ripe and you are not quite ready to use them, spread them out on a tray so they will not bruise and store them in a cool place. On the other hand, if they are a little underripe they will ripen at room temperature.

Fresh peaches can be eaten at any time of the day. At breakfast — serve them whole or sliced on hot or cold cereal. At lunch — enjoy them in a fruit salad, over vanilla ice cream or with white or brown sugar and cream. At snack time — just bite into their plump, tender flesh. At dinner — be a bit fancier and serve a dessert made with peaches; pies, dumplings, puddings, whips — all are delicious when made with the fresh fruit.

For a change, try stewing a few peaches. Blanch and remove the skin before simmering in water until just tender. Add sugar after simmering. This gives a better fruit flavour.

Eat as many peaches as possible while they are fresh. Unfortunately, the season lasts only a few weeks but there are many ways "to keep a peach" so that you can enjoy it all year round. Can it, freeze it, put it in preserves or make peach jam, for no matter which way you choose, it will be a pleasure to eat.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

The growth of the Church in Brazil has been aided greatly by the phenomenal growth in the circulation of Bibles increased from 122,000 in 1955 to 211,000 in 1959. The Bible Society of Brazil reports that the distribution of Bibles increased from 122,000 in 1958 to 211,000 in 1959. The Society hopes to print 300,000 copies in 1960 even though the importation of Bible paper over a given quota is heavily taxed. The paper produced locally in Brazil is not suitable for whole Bibles.

The Society has now issued as a 45,000 line Concordance, which was originally prepared for inclusion in the revised revision of the Portuguese Bible.

In recent years, several Roman Catholic editions of the Scriptures in Portuguese have been published by Roman Catholic organizations. A new translation of the whole Bible, based on the Maresdous version was published in 1959.

Suggested Bible Readings

Sunday — Psalms 37: 1-40
Monday — Psalms 6: 1-10
Tuesday — Psalms 15: 1-5
Wednesday — Psalms 26: 1-22
Thursday — Isaiah 9: 1-21
Friday — Isaiah 2: 1-22
Saturday — Isaiah 11: 1-16

Back To School Means Sandwiches

With school scheduled soon to reopen, it's time to make plans for daily sessions of sandwich making. And one of the most important things to consider is the fact that lunch which is carried is one of the main meals of the day. It should provide a third of the day's food requirements, advises the Home Economics Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Milk, either to drink or in soup or pudding, should be included in every schoolgoing lunch box. Bread can be in sandwiches or as a salad accompaniment. Meat, fish, poultry, cheese, egg or peanut butter can become satisfying filling for sandwiches. Raw fruit or vegetables round out a nutritious lunch and provide interesting variety. Cake, cookies, doughnuts or pie may be added, depending upon the individual's need for more food.

In order to pack attractive and healthful lunches, it is necessary to plan menus and shop in advance. Bread can be varied and buns used for sandwiches, too. A supply of paper napkins and waxed paper or other food wrap is almost as necessary as the food itself. Keep lunch making equipment together in a convenient spot in the kitchen, so that small covered plastic dishes or jars with tight lids, elastic bands, serviettes and so on are always handy. The best lunch box is made of metal, with a convenient carrying handle, and is well ventilated and easily cleaned. For children, it should be marked well for easy identification. Wash and air lunch boxes daily.

The River Valley Mission Band joined with the Missionary group for their August meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Bush. Sixteen members, nine visitors and ten or more children were in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Glenn Bush, opened the meeting with the hymn, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", followed by the Lord's Prayer. The minutes were read and approved. The Mission Band had prepared the programme and it was presented under the leadership of Cheryl Utman. The hymn, "When He Cometh" was sung, Marilyn Conley read the Scripture lesson, Psalm 95, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Ernest Carr. The Mission

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunham, R.R. 2, Harold, Ontario, announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris Marilyn to Craig Jackson Featherstone, son of Mr. Max Featherstone, Burlington, Ontario, and the late Mrs. Featherstone. Marriage to take place on October 1st, 1960, at 2 o'clock in Grace Chapel, Stirling, Ontario.

Band sang an African song, "Kum ba Yah". Alice de Bruyn gave a very interesting reading from the World Friends. Cheryl closed the worship service with prayer.

After the dedication of the offering, everyone answered the roll call by giving a name from the Bible, beginning with the first initial of each one's name. All enjoyed, "God Sees the Little Sparrow Fall", presented by Jane and Judy Bush. Joyce Carr gave a reading, "Thanksgiving Morning". Trudy Bush recited a poem, "Growing".

In a very interesting manner, Cheryl told of her week at Quin-Mo-Lac Camp. She showed a very interesting display of the things made in handicraft. Susan Bush sang the "Train Song" in a very pleasing manner.

Mrs. Jack Bush very capably spoke to the adults of the group on Missionary Education, and told the story with the help of a flannel board to the children of Mary Jones and her Bible.

Missionary education is the love of all people both at home and abroad. This begins at home with the attitude of the parents towards the races. It is also broadened at Sunday School Nursery School, our books, friends, Baby bands and Mission Band.

Baby Band teaches the little ones to give and to help others and serves as a link between church and home.

Mission Band, with the use of the Study Packets, teaches the children to love God and love thy neighbour. At Mission Band, God becomes more real to them. Leader should deem it a privilege not a duty to teach the children as they are our future generation.

The story of Mary Jones and her Bible told of a little Welsh girl saving her pennies for several years to buy a Bible and how she walked twenty-five miles to the minister's home to get it. Mary Jones married and after she died her Bible was placed in a museum where it can be seen if you visit England.

All joined in singing "Jesus Loves Me" in English and African. Linda Pulver gave a reading, followed by

No Parking Proposed On Front St. West From Emma To Annis Streets

Regular Meeting Of Council Held Tues. Night; Open Bridge Tenders Sept. 16th

Acting in accordance with a suggestion from Police Chief D. Ketcheson, Council will pass a By-law prohibiting parking on Front St. W. between Emma and Annis Streets, according to a decision reached at the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night. Reeve J. V. Holt presided and Councillors Wm. Morton, C. E. Bateman, B. Jones and H. R. Tompkins were in attendance.

Water Service At Cemetery

Councillor C. E. Bateman, chairman of the Cemetery Committee, announced that a summer water service had been installed at the local cemetery to replace the former well which was being filled in. Some 400 feet of plastic piping was required.

Reeve J. V. Holt gave a report on the meeting held in Trenton to consider the formation of the lower Trent River Conservation Area. The lack of a quorum prevented any definite decision being made.

Option On Land

Councillor H. R. Tompkins reported that option had been procured on a section of land required for changing the course of the creek west of the proposed new bridge on Henry Street in accordance with the suggestion of Department of Highways officials, also for raising and grading of the portion of Henry St. south of the bridge.

A communication was tabled from L. Langlois, stating that the Village was not to apply dust layer in future on county roads within the Village limits. If this were done the county would not reimburse the Village for the same.

Police Report

Chief Douglas Ketcheson presented his monthly report which was adopted on motion of Councillors Bateman and Morton.

Correspondence was tabled from Ontario Department of Highways, Ontario Water Resources Commission, Bell Telephone Co., Ontario Municipal Association, Dr. E. A. Berry, of Ontario Water Resources, re survey area near Village well; and City of Windsor. The correspondence was received and filed on motion of Councillors Tompkins and Jones.

Frank Brockma, Road Superintendent, also reported on his work.

Councillor W. J. Morton, Chairman of the Streets Committee, reported on various matters in connection with the paving of west Front St. and stated he had the finest co-operation from the Ontario Highway officials and the contractors.

On motion of Councillors Tompkins and Bateman the Clerk was instructed to write Thos. Sharp, Kingston, Ontario Highways District Engineer, expressing the thanks and appreciation of Council for his co-operation in having the asphalt surfacing extended the full width of Front St. West of Annis Street to the Frankford Road corner. It enhanced the appearance of the job and will save considerable maintenance costs in the future.

The question of the collection of delinquent dog tax was introduced by the Clerk and the matter was left in abeyance.

The Clerk also referred to the matter of complaints re the Frontage tax and suggested that a Court of Revision be held on the 1961 assessment on October 14th, at which time Frontage complaints could be settled. This was concurred in by members of Council.

To Open Tenders

The question of when the tenders for the new Henry St. Bridge should be opened was discussed and on motion of Councillors Jones and Bateman, they will be opened at 4 p.m. on Friday, September 16th.

The following accounts were paid:

Division Court

Fifth Division Court was held Wednesday morning, September 7th, at the Council Chambers, with Judge J. C. Anderson, of Belleville, presiding and Duncan Montgomery as Clerk of Court. Four cases were tried.

Lose To Cardiff By 9 To 4

Stirling Juveniles dropped the first game of the play-offs with Cardiff on Saturday evening last by a score of 9-4. The game was played on the home diamond of the winners and was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators.

Next Game In Frankford

The second game will be played in Frankford on Saturday night at 8 p.m. The locals, who had a bad game on Saturday last, hope to bounce back and force a third and deciding game.

$2900 In Scholarships Won By Students of Stirling-Rawdon School

Several pupils of the Stirling-Rawdon District High School have brought honour to themselves and their school by winning $2900 in Scholarships in the June examinations.

Dominion-Provincial Student-Aid Bursaries Type A to University, value $500, were won by Miss Janice Coombes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Coombes, Michael Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, and Eddie Mayhew, son of Mr. and Mrs. X. P. Mayhew. A similar Bursary Type A for Grade 23, value $100, was won by Robert Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke.

Miss Coombes and Mr. Mayhew also each won an Atkinson Charitable Foundation Bursary to University, value $400.

The Bursary for Higher Education given by the Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter L.O.D.E., value $100, was won by Michael Long and Miss Mildred Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Morton, won an Ontario Scholarship of $400 for securing an average of 80% or more in eight Grade 13 papers (two of which must be English) written in June last.

To Receive Silver Medal

Word was received this week by Mrs. Russell Stapley that her grandson, John Svoboda, Jr., of Penetanguishene, Ont., obtained 88 per cent on his Grade V piano examinations. He received a letter from the R.C. of M. stating it was the highest mark in that grade in Ontario and also that this Fall he would receive a silver medal from them for achieving this standing.

Engagement

The engagement is announced of Joan Olive McGowan, daughter of Mrs. Carrie O. Barton, of Campbellford, Ontario, and the late Mr. Cephas McGowan, to Delbert Melville McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGee, of Stirling, Ontario. Wedding to take place in St. John's United Church, Campbellford, on September 24th, 1960.

Stirling Lumber Ltd. Moves To New North St. Location

Stirling Lumber Limited, operated by D. W. Rodgers, moved to its new location on the West side of North St. (Highway 14), this week. Established in 1945, this firm has seen its business grow over the years until it was necessary to find larger quarters. Subsequently, the necessary land was purchased and a fine new building erected to accommodate all branches of the business.

The new building, which has an over all space of 12,000 ft., houses a store area, 85x48 ft., in which hardware accessories, paints, floor and ceiling tile, arborites and all other building requirements are on display, and provides ample storage space for a complete supply of lumber and other building materials.

The Stirling and district citizens join in extending congratulations to Mr. Rodgers on his fine new building and will wish him continued success.

A record of 486,000 babies were born in Canada in 1959.

Mrs. W. H. Cooke Hostess To Monthly Meeting of Stirling W.I.

(by Luella Bronson)

The Stirling Women's Institute meeting was held a week earlier on account of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kingston, long-time residents of Stirling community.

Mrs. W. H. Cooke opened her home for this meeting on the evening of August 29th.

The President, Mrs. Blanche Reid, occupied the chair and welcomed all members and visitors. She opened the meeting with the singing of the Ode, followed by prayer.

The roll call, "What Makes Good Health", was well received with worth-while "helps" for good health—such as, fresh air; plain wholesome food, rest and a contented mind.

The Secretary, Mrs. Bronson, read the correspondence including an invitation from Chatterton W.I. secretary, Mrs. Wm. Dixon, to meet with them Thursday evening, September 8th at the Turner School. The speaker will be Mrs. Wallis, Field Naturalist. This invitation was accepted with pleasure and plans for the members' transportation were discussed, and left with the President to complete.

"Eat To Live" Workshop for this district will be held October 31st, at Wallbridge Church Hall, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with box lunch at noon. This letter was from the District Sec. Treasurer, Mrs. H. Coulter, Foxboro.

A Senior Training School on "Window Treatment", with Miss J. Armour, specialist in home furnishings, will be at Stirling Community Hall, Tuesday, October 18th and Wednesday, October 20th.

Bills were presented and ordered paid amounting to $26.20. Visiting

Break-in At Service Station

A break-in at Montgomery's Service Station, corner of Green and Front Streets, took place some time during last night. Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in a 9-inch window near the wash rack. Mr. Montgomery states that "nothing was taken."

Camp Leader

Rev. K. J. Rooney has just returned from Glen Mhor Presbyterian Camp, near Beaverton, where he served as Resources Leader for ten days. There were fifty intermediate boys and six leaders at this year's camp.

Boy Scouts Meet Tuesday

Members of the Stirling Boy Scouts are requested to be present for the opening meeting of the Fall term at the High School on Tuesday next, September 13th, at 7.30 p.m. James McIntosh is the Scoutmaster.

Goes To Ottawa

Bob McArthur, who has been employed at the News-Argus for the past seventeen months, has gone to Ottawa, where he will attend Technical School. His friends join in wishing him success in his new sphere of learning.

Lady Directors' Demonstration Booth At Fair

The lady directors of the Stirling Agricultural Society will sponsor a demonstration booth in the main building at Stirling Fall Fair on Saturday, September 17th, next.

School Crests

School crests for both High and Public school pupils will be made at the booth and the boys and girls are invited to visit the booth and secure their crests.

committee for the three months, Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Ward, reported eight calls. The Birthday Box was showered with gifts by Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Cooke. Happy birthday was sung for these ladies. One new member was added to the roll call list. Collection was taken and the business closed with singing The Queen.

The programme included readings by Mrs. Reid and Mrs. M. Williams, the subject of the latter being, "The Evolution of Handwriting". Since the beginning of time, mankind has expressed its hopes, desires, and ideals by the written word. Many an important paper has been signed with the pen. The history of handwriting is the history of man himself. From the quill to the fountain pen is a small piece of progress in the world today. Small as it may seem, it holds a very important job in everyday living. For over one thousand years, the quill remained the only existing writing instrument. With the invention of the fountain and ball point pens, Lewis Edison Waterman's dream of a really clean, efficient writing instrument was finally realized. This is the history of handwriting—virtually every business, social and political communication has required handwriting. War cannot be declared without the President's signature on the Declaration, in ink—nor can peace be declared without signatures, in ink. Every act of living requires the written word. One cannot be legally born without a signature on a birth certificate, and one isn't legally dead until a death certificate has been signed. Between these extremes, one is signed. Honoured On 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bush Were Recipients of Many Gifts From Their Relatives

On Thursday evening, September 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bush and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush entertained at a surprise dinner party, at the former's home, in honour of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bush, on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

The rooms were decorated with bells and pink and white streamers and the table centred with a three-tiered anniversary fruit cake.

The supper guests included, Mr. Arthur Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Bush, Mrs. Mary Vandervoort, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Utman, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bush, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, Mr. Jared Hannah, Miss Marilyn Conley and Mr. and Mrs. Bush's six grandchildren.

Mr. Jack Bush, on behalf of the family, proposed a toast to the bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush presented them with a beautiful array of gifts.

Later in the evening, some thirty friends and neighbours arrived, including the brothers and sisters of the bride, who was the former Bessie Rosebush, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tucker, who were also celebrating their wedding anniversary.

After opening their gifts, Mr. and Mrs. Bush made suitable replies, thanking everyone for the gifts and surprise party that had been arranged for them. Assisted by Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Ralph Utman, the hostesses served refreshments.

A sing song, with Mrs. Phil Conley at the piano, brought this pleasant evening to a close.

Attention All Cubs

The first meeting of Stirling Cubs will be held on Monday evening at the Public School—time seven o'clock. All boys who want to join must be there as registration closes Monday night. Be sure to bring your registration fee, which is fifty cents. All boys must be eight years old. So boys, if you want to be a Cub, be there Monday evening.

Mrs. T. Hinds Loses Mother

Following a lengthy illness, Mrs. Geo. Chrysler, of Campbellford, mother of Mrs. Thos. Hinds, of Wellman's, passed away on Sunday, September 4th. The funeral took place on Tuesday at Bennett's Funeral Home.

Surviving besides her husband are four sons, Arthur, of Hastings; Raymond and Loyal, of Campbellford and Earl, of Warkworth; three daughters, Mrs. Sam Laundry, of Bonarlaw; Mrs. Thos. Hinds, of Harold, and Mrs. Carroll Sharpe, of Campbellford, and one brother, Aubert Hughes, of Highland Creek.

Honoured On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Grills, of Carmel, (Frankford R.R. 3), were honoured by their relatives and friends on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Wednesday, August 31st.

They were invited for a drive by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Grills, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Owens and Peter, of Whitby, and were taken to the Quinte Hotel, Belleville, where sixty-five relatives and friends were present to surprise them.

A delicious turkey dinner was served, topped off with ice cream and a decorated anniversary cake.

All enjoyed an hour of entertainment. An appropriate address was read and they were presented with a chest of silverware, hammered aluminum lazy Susan and bread tray to match.

John and Mildred expressed their thanks to the family, relatives and friends for the party in their honour and also for the gifts they received.

Honoured On Birthday

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McInroy, Springbrook, on Friday, August 26th, when a surprise party was given in honour of Mr. Andrew McInroy. It was his 78th birthday.

About fifty friends and neighbours and relatives gathered and presented Mr. McInroy with many lovely and useful gifts and cards. A lovely birthday cake was presented to him by his sister, Etta.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Keegan and Hal, and Mrs. Lillian Haas, Clayton, U.S.A.; Miss Cindy McClash, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rose and Donald, Scarborough; Mrs. George Brownhill, Scarborough; Messrs. Gerald and Murney Emmory, Toronto; Mr. Isaac McInroy and Marjorie, Bracebridge; Mr. O'Neill, Bracebridge; Mrs. Gertrude Campney and sister, Shirley, Toronto; Mr. Thos. Caldwell, Bonarlaw; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stevens, Madoc; Mr. Alex McInroy and family, Campbellford; Mr. Edward McInroy, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vance, Minto.

Mr. McInroy thanked all for the lovely gifts. All joined in singing, "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow". Lunch was served and several pictures taken.

Elliott-Broadworth Wedding

A lovely late summer wedding was solemnized in Salem United Church, on Saturday, August 20th, in a candlelight ceremony when Marion Eva Broadworth, of Harold, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Broadworth, became the bride of Robert George Elliott, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott. The Rev. H. Stobbert, of Ivanhoe, assisted by the Rev. J. McLeod, of Mar-mora, officiated before a beautiful background of tall white candles, assorted gladioli and ferns.

Mr. Harold Saries, of Harold, presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Miss Doris Donnan, of West Huntingdon, Ontario, in her rendition of "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charmingly gowned in white silk organza in street-length, with full-length fitted sleeves. She wore a crown headdress of net iced with sequins and seed pearls, finger-tip veil of silk tulle illusion and carried a cascade bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses, white stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Miss Shirley Broadworth attended her sister as maid of honour, wearing turquoise silk organza with pleated bodice and full skirt in street-length, accented by a satin cummerbund and bow. A white velvet hat, gloves and shoes with nosegay of shrimp-tinted mums completed her costume. Miss Doreen Elliott and Miss Donna Elliott, sisters of the bridegroom, were gowned similarly to that of the maid of honour.

The little flower girl, Miss Ruth Saries, of Harold, Ontario, was sweet in her shrimp coloured frock of silk organza and white lace. She wore a matching headdress and carried a wee basket of blue and white tinted mums.

Mr. Bruce Dobbs, of Belleville, attended the bridegroom, while Messrs. Bill and James Elliott, of Belleville, ushered the guests.

The reception was held at the church hall, where the bride's table was appointed in the traditional manner with white damask, wedding cake with pink and white rosebuds and flanked by tall candles in silver holders and the bridal bouquets. The catering was done by Salem W.A.

The bride's mother received the guests, wearing a flowered moss-green silk gown with matching hat and white and black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Assisting in the receiving line was the bridegroom's mother, who wore pale blue chiffon sheath with duster, matching hat, white accessories, and corsage of pink carnations.

For the wedding trip to Wasaga Beach and Toronto, the bride chose a plum-colored cotton dress with three-quarter sleeves, white accessories, beige travelling bag and corsage of white carnations.

Guests attended from Lindsay, Kingston, Belleville, Madoc, Bonarlaw, Bancroft and Harold, Ontario.

The bride, previous to her marriage, was entertained at a linen shower at the home of Mrs. Bert Heagle, Harold, Ontario.

Bank of Montreal Announces Scholarship Winners

Names of seven boys and six girls who have won first-year Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Scholarships in Ontario have been announced by the bank. Six plan to study science at university and seven to study arts subjects.

The 13 Ontario winners are among 50 boys and girls across Canada who are to receive $760 for first-year university study, either in arts or sciences.

They are: Michael A. Church, 18, Downsview; Sarah A. Doyle, 17, London; Richard H. Elphick, 17, Toronto; Brian S. Kawaski, 27, Toronto; Mary Krug, 17, Toronto; Linda McFarlane, 17, Burlington; James D. McGhee, 16, Thornhill; Judith Millington, 28, Willowdale; Catherine Reid, 16, Willowdale; Jean Reilly, 16, Irlington; Lee S. Sims, 17, Toronto; Robert S. Thomas, 18, Leaside; and Owen Whitby, 18, Kitchener.

The winning Ontario students were among 657 boys and girls in this province who applied — all of them top-ranking 1960 graduates of their respective high schools.

Across Canada, 2,208 students applied, and each application had to be accompanied by the recommendation of the student's principal, so that there was considerable "pre-selection" in the schools.

Winners were decided upon within the last week by provincial selection committees composed of leading educationalists in the provinces concerned.

The 50 awards of $750 now announced are the first step in a seven-year plan announced by the B of M last May to provide bank-aided university study.

Culminates in 1967

The program will culminate in 1967, the year of the centennial of Canadian Confederation and the bank's 150th anniversary, when two final Canada Centennial awards will be made. One award will be in arts and science — each in the amount of $5,000 for study anywhere in the world.

The scheme provides for a total of 124 awards in the years 1960-67 ranging from $760 to $5,000. When the plan was announced, G. Arnold Hart, president of the B of M, said the bank hoped the scholarships would provide "a tangible and worthwhile observance of the national centennial to the future national advantage."

The original name of the R.C.M.P. was the North West Mounted Rifles, but as the U.S. thought that implied an army along their border the name was changed to North West Mounted Police.

"You say you served in France?" asked the restaurant manager after sampling the new cook's first soup.

"Yes, sir. Officer's cook for two years, and wounded twice."

"You're lucky, man. It's a wonder they didn't kill you."

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)
LET 'EM LAUGH, DOC

The socialist press has been having fun with the doctors in Saskatchewan.

Let them laugh, Doc. There'll come a time when other sectors of the community will wonder why they laughed so hard at you.

Consider the farmers, for example. A vast number of Saskatchewan farmers must have voted for socialism. And I know a few of them laughed very hard at the cartoons which ribbed the doctors when Tommy Douglas won the day.

Would they have laughed if their farms had been socialized? Would they have chuckled so delightedly if they had become State managers of their farms, rather than owners? I am inclined to doubt it.

I think it is true that you muffed your campaign against socialized medicine, doctor. You may be a wizard with the scalpel but you're a washout on the stump. As individuals, you are honoured and respected, but as an organized group, you're all thumbs. You sounded as if you were trying to keep the people from getting something for nothing, and that's no way to win friends and influence people in a province that has so many citizens with more faith in the something-for-nothing theory than they have in simple arithmetic.

When the bills start coming in, the citizens of Saskatchewan are going to need you. And when their ulcers start acting up, they'll come running to you as of yore, and there won't be half the raucous laughter. They can hide the cost of just so many "free" services, and then it'll start to show.

In not too many years, they'll be crying for some sort of plan to protect them from disastrous bills, but leave them on their own to pay for the little aches and pains and emergencies most families can well afford to handle on their own. Meanwhile, every time your precious hours are taken up by a hypochondriac with an imaginary pain in his left toe, console yourself with the thought that the people who are laughing at you now will then be squirming impatiently in your waiting room, perhaps reading the dog-eared copies of Elementary Lessons in Arithmetic you have thoughtfully supplied.

Picking A Job

Where lies my future? How many youngsters have asked this question throughout the ages? And in the modern world, where the unskilled top the unemployment statistics, it faces youth with problems of selecting a career and getting the training to prepare for it.

Youngsters and their parents need help and guidance in making decisions that may shape a lifetime. This is why The Telegram, for the second year in co-operation with the CNE, industry and government departments, is helping provide a career centre at the Ex.

Last year it was aviation. This year utilities take over and the co-sponsors are Ontario Hydro and Bell Telephone. Two top educationists with a staff of more than 30, experienced in interviewing and counseling, are on hand at the centre on the mezzanine floor of the Automotive Building. A new feature has been added — information regarding educational opportunities in any field available in Ontario at universities, colleges, trade and technical schools.

In the 20th century, the race is to the educated, the trained and the technically skilled. The Careers in Utilities Centre provides youngsters with a guide to the opportunities available in two great industries and training needed to get into them. — Toronto Telegram.

Revised School Fitness Programme Planned For 1965

Ontario's Education Minister Robarts said recently by 1965 his department will have a completely revised physical fitness program for school children in all grades.

He told a directors luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition that the push button age leaves people without sufficient physical activity. And, with more leisure, new ways of providing activity must be found.

The physical fitness study committee established by the provincial government was expected to release its findings this fall.

"I feel sure that one of their main concerns will be to keep moral, mental and physical development in balance," he said. "My concept of fitness is much more than being able to play hockey well or excel in running or push-ups."

The department was concerned with health habits of children, particularly eating habits of teenagers.

"At the present time, we have an inter-departmental committee composed of officials from the department of health and department of education who are giving the whole question of eating habits close examination."

Things Can Be Worse

Last week we were undergoing a particularly trying time. Everything seemed to be going wrong, work was piling up, in fact to put it mildly, the situation was all fouled up.

Suddenly, however through the gloom came the voice of a well-meaning friend, "Cheer up, things could be worse!"

We took his advice — we cheered up and by golly he was right. Things did get worse.

Most youngsters think there are only three seasons in the year — baseball, football and basketball.

IT MAY BE THE TIP-OFF

IF you feel that maybe you're "slipping"

IF you fancy your vision is a bit hazy

IF you have too many headaches

IF you feel you are generally "just not there" any more

IF your critical seeing . . . though perfectly clear (with or without glasses) is not entirely COMFORTABLE

Take your complaint to a Vision Specialist whose methods comply with contemporary knowledge . . . enriched by long practical experience.

Reid Reunion At Oak Lake

A family reunion of the descendants of the late Theodore M. Reid and his late wife, the former Eleanor Hurst, was held at Searles Beach on Oak Lake on Sunday. Sixty-three descendants and two visitors were present. Twenty-five others were unable to attend.

An unusual feature in a gathering of this kind was that none carried the name of Reid, as their only son died in infancy. However, there were sent of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and five Eleanor present. The oldest person present was Louis R. Green, of Marmora, and the youngest was Kim Loraine Grills, seven-months' daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore (Ted) Grills, of Campbellford. The day was ideal for water sports which the younger ones enjoyed.

Members of the clan were present from Bonarlaw, Campbellford, Marmora, Oshawa, Port Hope, Peterboro, Howick, Que., Stirling, English Line and Seymour Township.

The arrangements for the day were six Theodore's present and one absent by Mrs. Arthur Burkitt.

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

Boris Zaitoff, one of the outstanding Russian writers of today writes of the new translation in modern Russian of the four Gospels, in these words, "On my desk lies a small blackbound book, with a gold cross on the cover, and above it, also in gold, 'The Gospel'. This is a new translation of the four Gospels from the Greek; published by The British and Foreign Bible Society. The translation is by Bishop Cassian, assisted by a commission made up of Prof. Kartashev, V. N. Rayevsky, Prof. A. P. Wassiloff, N. A. Koulozmine and others.

For five years, every Friday members of the Commission sat for four or five hours reading the text over and over again, comparing, discussing, sometimes so carried away that tempers were almost lost. "Once we disputed half an hour over the comma in one verse of Matthew. It also happened that, having decided upon one turn of phrase, two years later we changed it, only to return after two years to the earlier text. And now our five years' labour has taken the form of 234 small pages — the Four Gospels."

So came into being the first "private" (not specifically commissioned and authorized by the Synod of the Orthodox Church) unofficial translation in the Russian language.

Suggested Bible Readings

Sunday — Psalms 33:1-22
Monday — Psalms 39:1-13

Thursday — Psalms 56:1-13
Friday — Micah 4:1-13
Saturday — Micah 3:1-12

The Good Driver

Driver licensing is one of the Government's first lines of defence against traffic accidents, says the Ontario Safety League. A motorist in New Castle, Ind., has come up with a new excuse for driving without a license. Arrested when his car rammed a utility pole, the man explained: "I didn't think I needed a licence, because I don't know how to drive a car."

The average impact speed of cars involved in fatal accidents is about 40 m.p.h. "Slow Down and Live!" the Ontario Safety League asks all drivers.

Suspending your jacket on a hanger in the rear of a car may keep out creases. But, comments the Ontario Safety League, it may also keep out the sight of another car that is overtaking dangerously. It is quite easy to arrange a coat hanger so that the jacket hangs against the back of the back seat, without obstructing the driver's vision in any way.

Never change lanes without signalling, the Ontario Safety League asks all drivers. But remember that a turn signal often continues to blink after a gradual lane change, unless it is corrected by hand. Unintentioned signals confuse and inconvenience other drivers. For example, a car is in the passing lane showing an unmeant left-turn signal and causes following vehicles to switch into the driving lane unnecessarily.

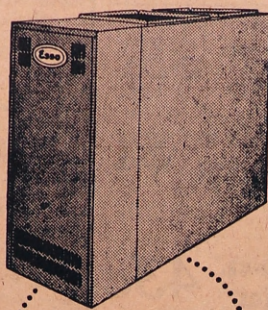

Heavy meals lead to heavy eyelids. To help keep alert, the Ontario Safety League recommends you should eat easily digestible foods such as lean meat, eggs and milk before and during long motor trips. Avoid heavy, fatty foods such as potatoes and cake which may induce drowsiness and sluggishness behind the wheel.

Any man who looks up his family tree is apt to get out on a limb.

These thirteen promising young Ontario students are among the 50 from all parts of Canada who will shortly begin their college careers in the Arts or Sciences at the Universities of their choice under the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Scholarship Plan. Each of these students will receive a scholarship of $750, in this, the first year of the Bank's seven-year Plan. We, at the Bank of Montreal, congratulate these exceptional young people. We are happy to assist them in their pursuit of a higher education in fields where they will have the opportunity — through scientific research and pursuits in the public service — to contribute in some notable way to the common good of the nation in the years ahead.

To all of these students we extend warmest wishes in their endeavours to qualify for the additional valuable scholarships to be awarded each year until 1967, when the Plan culminates in Canada's Centennial Year.

HERE ARE THE ADDITIONAL AWARDS FOR WHICH THESE STUDENTS MAY QUALIFY:

48 SCHOLARSHIPS OF $1,500...

In the Spring of 1961, the top 16 of these 50 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 for second-year university training.

In 1962 and 1963, provided at least good second-class grades have been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 per annum... leading to graduation in 1964.

24 FELLOWSHIPS OF $3,000...

In the Spring of 1964, the top eight of these 16 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 for one year's study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

In 1965 and 1966, provided a satisfactory standard of work has been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 per annum for further study leading to their Doctorate.

2 BANK OF MONTREAL CANADA CENTENNIAL AWARDS OF $5,000

In 1967, to culminate this seven-year plan, the two top students—one in Arts and one in Science—will be chosen, from all 50 original participants in the plan, to receive the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Awards of $5,000 each for a further year of study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

Thus, to each of these two winners—if they have been participants throughout the plan—the Bank will have provided financial assistance amounting to $19,250.

Scholarship Students are chosen on merit alone — academic standing and character — by independent selection committees of faculty members of Canadian Universities. THE B of M HAS NO PART, WHATEVER IN THE DECISIONS OF THE COMMITTEES.

Shirley May, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stewart, became the bride of Charles G. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller, Toronto.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before the altar by Rev. Mr. Osborne. The bride was lovely in a turquoise nylon sheer gown, in street-length, with full skirt over taffeta and shirred bodice. Her fingertip veil was caught to a small head-dress of nylon, matching her dress. She carried red roses and her accessories were white. Her bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Whittaker, of Trenton, was attired in a yellow lace gown over taffeta with white feather hat and accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

The groom was supported by Joe Sloggett, Toronto, formerly of Campbellford.

The reception was held in the Little Europe Restaurant, with the wedding luncheon in European style. Mrs. Chas. Stewart, mother of the bride, received in a gown of Airforce blue, with black accessories, assisted in the receiving line by the groom's mother, in Navy blue, with black accessories. Both ladies wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The young couple will reside in Toronto.

On Saturday evening, September 3rd, the community gathered at Sentinel-Orange Hall to honour Shirley and her husband, Mr. Alfred Barnum was chairman for the following programme: chairman's address; accordian solo, "Side by Side", and encore, by Mrs. Harold Linn; reading, "A Gift From Heaven", by Mrs. Harold Stapley; vocal duet, "Holiday For Love", and encore, by Lynne and Suzanne Spencer; guitar and vocal solo, "Tears Are Only Rain To Make Love Grow" and "I Won't Be Back Till It's Over", by Wally Jackson.

An address to the bride and groom was read by Anne Reid and a box of money was presented by Carol Heath. Both bride and groom responded and the crowd sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

SOEST, West Germany — Wives of Canadian soldiers with the 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade in this West German area find a little bit of Canada when they go shopping. In each of the three communities of Hemer, Werl and Soest are Maple Leaf Services stores, resembling our supermarkets and offering the type of food and other products with which Canadian housewives are familiar.

But, due to the purchasing pattern of the British NAAFI and the American Quartermaster, few Canadian items find their way to the shopping buggies.

Very few German products are available either, but a trip through the store is like a geography lesson—dairy products come from Denmark and Holland, bread arrives daily from The Hague, Holland; juices from the U.S.A., Australia, Jamaica and Israel; soft drinks — Coke, Pepsi-Cola, Seven-Up and Canada Dry are bottled locally; Lynn Valley, Aylmer and Globe canned foods from Canada, and salmon which is a "must" for Canadian families; milk, guaranteed 3.25 per cent, pasteurized, comes from TB-tested herds in Denmark; pasteurized ice cream is a Danish product, Denmark also sends eggs, cheese from Holland and Denmark, in a wide variety — cheddar, Camembert, Danish Blue, Kraft and Bulo.

Meat presented a problem for the M.L.S. people, for German butchers do not know Canadian cuts — they remove every bit of bones, regardless of the cut. So M.S.L. sent their head butcher to Canada and now he is teaching his men how John Canuck's better half wants her meat prepared. Most of the fresh meat comes from Holland, but the paper trays on which it is sold come from Canada.

Watching the shoppers, one might easily believe he was in a small Canadian chain store, except at the checking-out counters where German marks are paid out instead of dollars. There are many trademarks Canadians know from back home — in the soap section, for instance — Tide, Cheer, Rinso, Lux, Palmolive and Sunlight. At the cereal department there's shredded wheat, shreddies, corn flakes, rice krispies, and so on.

But groceries are not the only item offered in these Army-sponsored stores. There is a clothing section where the family can be outfitted. A gift shop and record bar stock a good supply, including cameras — the latter at bargain prices for Canadians; cards for all occasions are displayed in racks like back home.

Plans are underway, however, to amalgamate the three gift shops into a central "Holiday Shop" at Werl. Here there will be cameras and equipment, tape recorders, gifts, record bar, toys and sporting equipment.

The book section finds travel books the biggest sellers, for Canadians are inveterate travellers. The Beaver, the weekly paper for the Brigade, goes to every household free of charge; the U.S. forces daily, The Stars and Stripes, is on sale, and delivery boys have regular routes; there is also the weekly edition of The Globe and Mail; and the comic book, of course, is the biggest seller among the young fry.

One of the most popular features is the "Bulletin Board" in the lobby. Here are printed notices for the "Old Red Patch Club" in Soest and the "Club Castor" in Werl; church and social notices, and we counted 23 "For Sale" items.

A. Ross Harvey, former Eastern Canadian supervisor, manages the Soest store, hailing from Burlington, Ont. He arrived in April with Mrs. Harvey and their four children. All help in the stores are German nationals.

"A Welcome to Newcomers" pamphlet explains that ration cards are issued from Brigade for coffee, tea, cigarettes and certain alcoholic beverages.

Maple Leaf Services was incorporated in 1954 as a private corporation under Part II of the Companies' Act. Its operations are controlled by a board of five directors chosen from the Chief and Vice-Chief of the General Staff, Adjutant General and Vice-Adjutant General, Quartermaster General and Vice-Quartermaster General, and a civilian who holds the position of president and managing director.

Compulsory Fire Drills For High Schools

Ontario secondary schools will have at least five compulsory fire drills this school year.

Education Minister Robarts said at least three drills will be held in the fall and two in the spring term.

No mandatory drills have been held since 1945, although most schools do hold regular fire drill exercises.

In elementary schools, drills are required at least once a month.

Ten Rules For Civic Employees

1. A citizen is the most important person in town.

2. He is not an interruption of our work, he is the purpose of it.

3. He does us a favour when he calls.

4. He is part of our business, not an outsider.

5. He is not a cold statistic, he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.

6. He is not someone to argue or match wits with.

7. He is the fellow who makes it possible to pay your salary, whether you are a Department Head, Secretary, Clerk, Leader or Labourer.

8. He is the life-blood of this and every other city.

9. He is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment you can give him.

10. He is a person who brings us his wants; it is our job to fill those wants.

It Pays To Advertise

Let people know that you are in business! Probably one of the best examples of this is the solicitor of advertisements for a local paper who called on the village grocer and presented his card. The grocer, who had never advertised, looked at it and said, "Nothing doing. Been established 70 years, and never advertised."

"Excuse me, sir, but what is that building on the hill" asked the salesman.

"The village church," said the grocer.

"Been there long?"

"About 200 years."

"Well," was the reply, "they still ring the bell, don't they?"

Safety First

From start to finish of his driving test, the candidate had driven with extreme caution. When it was over, the examiner sighed deeply.

"Well, I'm going to pass you," he said. "I don't think you'll make a driver if you live to be 100, but if you ever have an accident it won't be your fault. In fact, you're never likely to be in an accident because you'll never get there quick enough to be mixed up in it."

The Tranquilizer In One Pocket And "The Pep Pill" In The Other

That is the caricature of one type of Modern Man, harassed by headlines; tortured by the ticker-tape, tormented by the telephone; as "maniac-depressive" as his sales-charts; wakeful when he should sleep and drowsy when he should awake. He has 2500 million neighbours in the wide world but he is alone in that private world — himself.

Here is another problem faced by the World Health Organization. This time their concern is not the African jungle or the mountains of Thailand. Their concern is us, modern man and woman. Their recommendation is not the drug as a first means of attack against acute psychosis. Patients should be cared for at home, and if home conditions are not suitable, at general hospitals, even on an out-patient basis. In the U.S.A., where the care of mental patients costs $1,000,000,000 a year, there was in 1956 a reduction of hospitalized mental cases for the first time in 184 years. Instead of an increase of 12,000 cases predicted there was a decrease of 8,000. Nearly 20,000 fewer patients meant a saving of $200,000,000 in treatment and hospital costs. Eleventh Step Progress in world health has been made during WHO's ten years of operation and the Eleventh Step will bring further progress. Epidemics and disease which have been killing millions of people up to now are no longer considered as normal hazards to human life. There is fresh hope for those peoples of the world whose strength to live and capacity to work are still undermined by ill health.

The main factor behind all this progress lies undoubtedly in the goodwill and the mutual respect WHO has been fortunate enough to win in the last ten years. It is the duty of the Health League of Canada, as National Citizens' Committee, to further the interest of Canadian in matters of health in Canada, as this is considered essential by WHO. However, we must think internationally too, for

The onion family is large and varied. Most of us have met some of the more prominent members of this family, but there are a few obscure cousins to whom we may not have been introduced. There are many varieties of onions available on the market, although the same varieties may not be found throughout the country. This is due to the fact that different kinds of onions grow in various types of soil and climates.

Onions can be classified according to their colour, which can be white, yellow or red and according to their flavour, mild or strong. White and yellow onions can be strong flavoured or mild. Red onions usually have a stronger flavour than the white or yellow varieties.

The Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture lists some of the principal types of onions you'll see on the market.

Yellow Globe type onions are yellow, strong flavoured, and have good keeping quality. They are all-purpose type suitable for seasoning, frying, boiling, baking, etc.

Red onions are large, globe shaped or slightly flattened. They are popular with onion lovers because of their extra strong flavour and are used mostly for cooking.

Spanish type onions may be yellow or white and do not keep well. They must be eaten when they mature. They have a mild, sweet flavour and are especially suitable for those who like to eat onions raw in sandwiches or salads.

Silver skin onions are small, white onions which are used mostly for pickling.

Leeks are closely related to onions. They have a rounded rather than bulb-shaped base. Leeks are much larger than green onions with broad, dark green leaves and a straight neck. They're strong flavoured and are used in soups and stews.

The fall onions on the market now are graded and marked Canada No. 1 when they are sold in consumer packages.

First Permanents Cost $1000 Each

Not all of us are born with naturally curly hair and from the beginning of time this seems to have been a challenge. The female of the species has been particularly inventive in finding ways and means to "put curl in her hair".

Over 3,000 years ago, Egyptian women were putting up their hair in many tight braids, which, when combed out, left the hair waved and slightly frizzled. However, at around the same period, Babylonian women were using strange devices known as curling tongs or crimping irons. These were heated over open flames and then applied to the hair. Curls were literally "baked" in.

While the women probably discovered these early hair grooming aids, the men quickly took over. In fact, it wasn't until the end of the 19th century that men stopped curling and waving their hair, too.

Throughout the early centuries and the middle ages, both men and women wore their hair long and elaborately arranged. Waves, braids, spiral curls, were all incorporated into intricate coiffures. For instance, in the 14th century long braids at either side of the face were turned up and coiled at the face like horns. A hundred years later, it was fashionable to wear shoulder-length hair, braid it tightly at night, and then comb it out into a fluffy frizzled hair-do in the morning. Then, with the Renaissance came new styles and fashions.

The curling tong continued as the principal grooming aid, augmented at times by clay pipes, which were also heated and applied to the hair. Pads and wire frames were used as bases for the soaring coiffures which were held in place with gum or a paste made of starch mixed with pomade.

There was one other grooming aid of those times we can be thankful not to have.

Due to the extreme elaborateness of the hair styles, which took up to five hours to prepare, the hair was dressed for a period of from two to nine weeks. Understandably this could cause the wearer some discomfort, so a daintily carved stick with a hook at one end was carried at all times and was conveniently called a "scratcher!"

Many of the hair-styles featured flat ringlets. These were made by applying a paste of flour pomatum to the hair and twirling the curl over a flat black taffeta cushion. This particular look was called the "Patted Coiffure" and was popular in England during the mid 1700's.

Arranging these elaborate hairdos was beyond the knowledge of most women and it is interesting to note that in the year 1769, there were 1,200 hairdressers in Paris alone. Making curls was a big business even then!

During the 19th century the famous Marcel wave came into being, named after a Paris hairdresser who used his curling tongs to make evenly spaced waves on the fashionable heads of Paris. This style continued in popularity for many, many years.

A big first in hair curling news came in 1960: That was the year that Charles Nestle gave the first permanent wave in London, England. In these days of home permanents it is hard to imagine that those first permanents took from eight to 12 hours to complete and cost $1,000. Women had come a long way from "setting" their hair with braids.

Of all the provinces, Ontario has the largest Indian population, about 40,000 or one-quarter of the national total; the largest Indian tribe has always been the Ojibwa, who live mainly in Northern Ontario.

In 1908 the New Zealander Ernest Rutherford, who became Baron Rutherford and died in England in 1937, won the Nobel Prize in chemistry for the work he had done in his previous nine years at McGill, where he discovered that uranium was radioactive and that the atom could be split — the basis of nuclear power and the atom bomb.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

WEED OF THE WEEK

CHICKWEED

Chickweeds are a constant source of irritation to the home owner. They start growth early in the spring and bloom and produce seeds throughout the summer. Consequently, the fight to maintain chickweed-free lawns is never-ending.

According to the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, there are several varieties of chickweed, but the types common to Ontario naturally fall into two classes — the common and the mouse-ear chickweeds.

Common chickweed is an annual with small, tender, smooth, bright green leaves and stems. The flowers are white, star-shaped, and because of the small size and prostrate growing habit of the plant are quite inconspicuous.

Mouse-ear chickweed is a perennial with very hairy leaves and stems. The stems often exude a sticky substance, which causes dust to adhere, thus giving the plant a dirty appearance. Both chickweeds spread rapidly by seeds, which ripen all summer, and by rooting at the nodes of the stems.

Frequent hoeing in the garden and flower beds will keep chickweed under control. In lawns, 2,4-D will control common chickweed and will retard mouse-ear chickweed. A more effective treatment is one ounce low volatile ester of 2,4-D mixed with four ounces of potassium cyanate in four gallons of water. Spray infested areas till the weeds are wet. Do not use on bentgrass lawns.

Further details on weed control in lawns are included in Ontario Publication 529, "Weed Control in Lawns", available from the Information Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

HOG QUALITY PREMIUMS RAISED

Agriculture Minister Douglas S. Harkness has announced that effective for hogs slaughtered in and after October 3rd, the quality premiums will be $3 per hog for carcasses grading Canada Grade A, instead of the present $2 for Grade A and $1 for Grade B.

Mr. Harkness pointed out that this is in line with a statement he made in connection with the change in national grade standards for hog carcasses, which went into effect October 5th last year.

At that time, he said that in view of the importance of encouraging the highest possible percentage of Grade A hogs, it was proposed to devote the quality premium entirely to hogs of that grade, starting the latter part of 1960.

Mr. Harkness emphasized the need for improvement in quality if the Canadian hog industry is to maintain its rightful position in the domestic and export markets. A higher proportion of lean meaty carcasses is necessary to sustain and increase consumer preference for pork products in the face of strong competition from other foods. There has been some improvement in the percentage of Grade A hogs since the revision in carcass grades, and the minister hoped the adjustment in quality premiums would provide added incentive. During the first half of this year, 30.1 per cent of hog carcasses qualified as Grade A.

It would be profitable for producers to increase the percentage of Grade A's, he said, and judging from past performance of individual producers and communities, it would seem that they could easily double the present figure.

Splinters on the ladder of success are much sharper on the way down.

SOIL SAMPLES

Farmers planning on having a soil test before ordering fertilizer for application on fall wheat, should take their soil samples and send them to the Soils Department of the Ontario Agricultural College as soon as possible to ensure their getting a report back before the crop is seeded. Experimental work indicates that the correct analysis of fertilizer applied at the proper rate can reduce the cost of fertilizer to the farmer and result in increased yields when the crop is harvested. Soil test boxes and bulletins on soil testing are available from the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture.

LIGHTER CROPS, STEADY PRICES ARE PREDICTED

Ontario farmers will harvest lighter crops this year because of a cold, wet spring, the provincial department of agriculture has predicted.

It said a strong demand for produce, however, would probably maintain steady to good prices.

Some crops have developed better than expected, said officials, who predicted last spring an extremely bad year for farmers.

More than $200,000,000 of the province's farm cash income of $867,302,000 comes from crops; the rest comes from livestock sales.

Below average will be the wheat crop, worth about $6,105,000, and the fruit crop, worth about $15,600,000 in 1959. Some varieties of fruit, such as grapes, are expected to finish stronger if good weather continues.

Ironically, weather conditions which slowed down development of other crops, has produced a good potato yield. The current crop is regarded as one of the best in years for quality.

Tobacco farmers say they'll earn more from sales than the $85,314,000 yield of 1959.

Oats, barley, soybean and other feed grain crops are expected to be spotty. Corn, hit by a wet spring and delayed seeding, may have poor to medium crops unless an extended period of hot weather arrives.

Vegetable production is average and prices steady.

Strawberries and grapes lead in the fruit field with peaches worth $4,454,800 for 2,143,000 bushels last year, expected to be down this year because of the wet spring.

Apples, worth $4,942,300 last year, also were hard hit by the wet spring.

Apples, worth $4,942,300 last year also were hard hit by the wet spring but have improved well with the summer.

USE COW SENSE WHEN FEEDING DAIRY RATIONS

Nettie's been fresh only a short time. She is milking 60 pounds per day. She needs 24 to 16 pounds of grain mix per day to hold this production but gets only 10 pounds. Result: Nettie's production drops to 40 pounds per day.

But take Babs. She's producing only 25 pounds of milk, yet she gets 10 pounds of grain just like Nettie.

Want to gain 10 pounds of milk per day without an extra feed? Then cut Babs' grain feeding in half and add the extra five pounds to Nettie's ration. With the roughage Babs will eat, she will probably be able to hold her production and gain in condition. More important, Nettie should hold or increase her 60-pound production.

The point, of course, is that every cow doesn't need the same amount of feed. And if you are going right down the line giving each cow the same-sized scoopful of feed, you aren't getting the most out of your cows or feed.

Says Dr. Bruce Stone, Dairy Cattle Specialist at the O.A.C.: "If they all get the same amount of grain the heavy milker often milks well for a short time and then will lose flesh. Then her production drops to the level that her feeding supports".

"On the other hand, the low producer gets more feed than she needs to produce milk and she puts on weight. A little weight in preparation for her next freshening is necessary but we don't want to put on more fat than necessary."

Another point is that the low producer will eat less hay and silage because she's getting extra grain. Her feeding costs go up needlessly. Heavy milkers, however, can't eat enough extra forage to hold up in production.

Individual feeding doesn't take hours of figuring. You can do a workmanlike job in your head.

If forages are of a high quality, a cow can produce as much as 20 pounds a day on them alone. To get additional milk, we must feed concentrates such as grains or mill feeds.

"You can get a fairly close idea of the cow's needs if you feed a definite ratio of grain mix to milk produced," says the Ontario Department of Agriculture dairy researcher. If you have only fair quality roughage, feed 1 pound of grain to each 3½ pounds of milk. Higher testing breeds such as Guernseys and Jerseys need more grain — about 1 lb. for each 3 to 3½ pounds of grain.

Less grain is needed with good quality roughages. For hay and silage of exceptional quality, you need only 1 pound of grain for each 4 or 5 pounds of milk for Holsteins. The other breeds can be raised proportionately.

If the cow is near drying-off and is thin, she should get more feed than the thumb-rule calls for. And if she's putting on too much fat, cut down on the grain. Growing heifers should be fed enough to keep them thrifty and growing.

"Good feeding still calls for cow sense and judgment. The thumb-rule helps get the cows nearer to the needs of each cow than giving the same amount of feed to all."

Timely Tips

Don't let the hot weather start a milk slump in your dairy herd. Top quality pasture, grain feeding and extra hay or silage will offset cattle's decreased grazing during daytime heat, says Dr. J. C. Rennie, OAC dairy cattle researcher. Provide shade in the day, and good pasture at night or extra hay if cattle are kept in dry lot at night. A hay rack near the water tank may help prevent that hot-weather drop in milk.

When you're taking soil sample this fall, be careful not to sample too near gravel roads. Soil within 25 to 50 feet of the road will be limed from drifting dust and give an incorrect reading, says T. J. Heer, in charge of OAC's Soil Testing Lab. Leave out samples from knolls too, unless they're big enough to fertilize separately.

If you are going to be using a ladder in the orchard this fall, here are some safety reminders that may save you a broken arm or leg. Don't stand the ladder up too straight. Weight changes when picking can cause the ladder to overbalance. Hal Wright, Ontario's Farm Safety Specialist, suggests that the bottom of the ladder be out one quarter of the vertical height. And always check ladders for cracked hand rails or broken rungs.

Garden Shorts

Raspberry canes die after fruiting. Cut old canes at ground level when picking is completed, advise horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It helps prevent disease infestation.

Those silky webs that mar the needles and twigs of your favourite spruce trees are the work of the spruce spider mite, the tiny pest that also attacks juniper, cedar and pine. Wash infested trees with a hose from time to time. It will break up the webs and wash away the mites, according to horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

If grass is doing poorly in shady spots, try doubling its fertilizer application rate, suggest horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Keep the area free of sun-robbing leaves and foreign matter and water deeper than usual. Many gardeners have beaten shade with ground cover plants, such as myrtle, in spots where even shade-tolerant grasses were unsuccessful.

When watering phlox, be sure not to get water on the foliage, warn horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The Church Anniversary season opened this week with the Fuller Presbyterian Church having two services on Sunday. Mr. Earl Wannamaker took the both services and delivered two excellent sermons. The choir rendered two anthems at each service and Ron McMurray gave excellent numbers on his accordion. The services were both well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irvine had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie Geen, of Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Geen, of Thomasburg and Mr. and Mrs. S. Hubble.

Sunday service at the United Church was resumed on Sunday. Rev. George Dyson was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, of Holloway.

The camp meeting at Ivanhoe closed on Sunday with the usual good crowd in attendance.

Mrs. Foster Wilson has returned home from the Belleville General Hospital much improved in health.

Miss Besie Hollinger is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and Mrs. Edith Gay of Belleville.

Rev. Allan and Mrs. Moore were guests on Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond. Mr. Moore is 85 years of age and drove his car all the way from the United States.

Mrs. Melville Reid spent Sunday afternoon and evening with her sister, Mrs. Frank Vice, of Oshawa. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Wilson and Nancy.

The Huntingdon Council met on Monday evening at the Town Hall for their September meeting.

Mrs. C. Roeper left on Tuesday for Holland. She has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Roeper for a number of weeks.

School re-opened on Tuesday morning with Mrs. Raymond Chambers as Principal. Several new little tots commenced their educational career. They were Randy, Ray, Elaine and Virginia Henwood, Elizabeth Kirby, Myrna Vollier, Alice Roeper, Ivan Cook and Freddie Revo.

Mrs. William Bray spent the weekend holiday with her daughter in Belleville, Mrs. Kenneth Wright.

Mrs. Roy Belshaw was supper hour guest on Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Melville Donnan observed their wedding anniversary and they invited members of their family, thirty-two in all, to a party at the Tweed Park.

Mr. and Mrs. James Donnan and family, of Napanee, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Donnan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hammond and family were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond.

The Labour Day holiday passed very quietly. The farmers enjoyed working the same as usual. A few attended Marmora Fair.

St. Paul's W.A.

The September meeting of St. Paul's Woman's Association was held Tuesday evening, September 6th in the church parlours. Mrs. O. Stapley was hostess and welcomed nearly fifty ladies.

The president, Mrs. C. Davidson, presided and opened the meeting by use of the W.A. Theme hymn and prayer. After reading a lovely little poem and welcoming those present, she turned the meeting over to Mrs. H. West, in charge of the devotions and programme for the evening. The Theme for the meeting was Love. All joined in singing, "Come Let Us Sing of a Wonderful Love". Mrs. J. McCaughey dwelt on the theme, "Love", as described in I Corinthians, Chapter 13. She stated Love not force should be the pattern of our daily living. Mrs. B. Glendinning read the above passage of Scripture. Mrs. H. West led in prayer. Mrs. R. Shortt favoured with a piano solo, "He Leadeth Me".

Mrs. H. West capably introduced the guest of the evening, Mrs. Frank Harris, from Wellington. She had brought with her quite a number of buttons she has collected. She displayed these, told how some were obtained, what they were made from, and why they were important. She closed her interesting talk with a poem. Mrs. H. West thanked her on behalf of the ladies.

All sang, "The Day Is Past And Over", to close the programme. Mrs. C. Davidson then assumed the chair to conduct the business. The Good Will secretary reported eight cards sent and one gift and 41 calls were made. St. Paul's W.A. accepted an invitation to attend Springbrook Tea and Bazaar on Friday, September 30. The ladies were reminded to gather up good, clean used clothing for the Fall overseas sale.

On September 29th, all ladies from the community are invited to come to St. Paul's United Church to join with them in a second World Day of Prayer meeting.

The W. A. Benediction closed the meeting. Mrs. H. West and her group served refreshments and were thanked for their splendid meeting by Mrs. Roy Bush.

Bateman Clan Holds Reunion

The annual reunion and picnic of the Bateman Clan and their descendants was held recently at Tweed Memorial Park with over 200 in attendance.

Following the noon dinner, the President, Dr. J. H. Bateman, Belleville, called the meeting to order and welcomed all present.

The Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Hazel Mumby, Spring Brook, read the minutes of the 1959 reunion and the minutes of the executive meeting held at her home in July. The financial report was also given.

Everyone was asked to observe 2 minutes silence in memory of several deceased members.

Several members of the Clan made short speeches, commenting on the splendid turn-out, the interests taken and the success of the Scholarship project.

Miss Carol Ann Johnson, Fiesherston, Wins Annual Scholarship

The Bateman Clan is the only Clan known to present an annual scholarship. Miss Carol Ann Johnson, of Fiesherston, is the recipient of the award this year. The Secretary stated there had been great interest shown among the members regarding the scholarship and many congratulatory messages had been received. Favourable comments had come from near and far regarding the project.

Various treats were given to the children present. Gifts were presented to the following: Mrs. Emma Bateman, Spring Brook, and Mr. Fred Brown, Rochester, the oldest lady and gentleman present; Master Ronald Hoard, Stirling, the youngest; Mr. Fred Brown, Rochester, received the gift for coming the farthest; Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Bateman, Spring Brook, for having the most children and grandchildren present; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Russett, Kingston, received a gift for the most recently wed; Mr. and Mrs. J. Edw. Bateman, Spring Brook, a gift for bringing the greatest number in their car.

A watermelon eating contest among the boys and girls provided a great deal of amusement. Prizes for same went to Barbara Hoard, Johnny Wallace and Glen Bateman.

Several suggestions re a bigger and better reunion were handed to the secretary for the committee to work on for future years.

Some interesting ancient history was handed in and a poem was read relating to early history of the Batemans dating back to 1835. With this was a document preserved by the Archive of the British Museum which is a deed of the sale at Port Phillip which is now Melbourne, Australia, from the native chiefs to John Bateman, founder of Victoria Colony.

Mr. Murney Bateman, Spring Brook, was elected President for the coming year and Mrs. Hazel Mumby, as Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Helen Bateman, Belleville, is again President of the Scholarship project.

Johnston-Smith Wedding

A very pretty summer wedding was solemnized on the spacious lawn of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Stirling R.R. 3, on Saturday evening, August 20th at 7 o'clock with Rev. W. G. Fletcher, B.A., officiating when their daughter, Eleanor Ann, became the bride of George Francis Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnston, Berkeley, Ontario. The lawn was decorated with strings of coloured lights and the ceremony was performed in a flood-lit area with a natural setting of evergreen trees. The verandah steps were adorned with baskets of gladioli and other summer blooms. The rooms inside were decorated with bouquets of flowers and pink bells. The wedding music was provided by Mrs. Kenneth Weaver.

The winsome bride was given in marriage by her father and was radiant in a waltz-length bridal gown of nylon and acetate lace over rayon taffeta. The fitted bodice and bouffant skirt was circled with a matching taffeta cummerbund with wide streamers. The gown was complemented by lace mitts and she wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her nylon tulle illusion fingertip veil was caught to a bridal tiara with double headpiece, highlighted with iridescent sequins, rhinestones and simulated pearls. The bride carried a white Bible, the gift of her mother, and it was crested with a cascade of red rosebuds attached satin streamers which fell to the hem of her skirt.

Mrs. Bill Morgan, friend of the bride, was matron of honour. She wore a waltz-length gown of yellow organza over taffeta and white accessories. She carried a nosegay of white Shasta daisies with yellow centres.

Mr. Harvey Johnston, Berkeley, was groomsmen for his brother.

The reception followed on the lawn and the bride's mother received the guests in a sheath dress of turquoise blue rayon and nylon lace, with matching taffeta panels in the skirt. She wore pink accessories and a corsage of tiny Sweetheart roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, wearing a cinnamon taffeta dress with applique bodice, billowing net skirt and moss green accessories. She wore a corsage of antique gold roses.

The bride's table was appointed with a white damask cloth, silver candelabra with pink and white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in white with silver dragees and centred with a floral basket of white bells and bridal doves. The wedding flowers added beauty to the nuptial table.

The parents' table was centred with a silver bowl of pink and white carnations and chrysanthemums.

The quartet tables were decorated with novelty containers, filled with pink and white asters. Mount Pleasant W.A. catered and the serviettes were Messrs. Roger Smith, Hugh Hoard, Bill Morgan, Bill Lain, Garry Wright and Bob Lain. The bride personally served her wedding cake on a silver tray, centred with blue pansies. Seventy guests were in attendance. The bride also provided corsages of white chrysanthemums for her great-grandmother, Mrs. Brad Spry, Stirling, and her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Smith, Madoc Junction.

Mrs. Johnston chose for travelling to Wasaga Beach and points in Western, Ontario, a two-piece suit of caramel-coloured bengaline with brown accessories, and a corsage of antique gold rosebuds.

Guests were in attendance from Berkeley, Shelburne, Holland Centre, Toronto, Owen Sound, Peterborough, Trenton and Stirling.

The newlyweds will reside for a short time in Ottawa where the groom is a crane operator with the Birmingham Construction Company of Hamilton.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was tendered a Trousseau Tea by her mother, a personal shower by friends in Toronto, and a miscellaneous shower by friends in the Allan School Section, at Mount Pleasant.

depends on the hand written word every day for everything you do or possess.

Mrs. Ward chose a reading entitled "Love". Love holds the world together; without love there can be no beauty, no lasting achievement. Think of the great love of "God who so loved the world", the founder of the great religion; the love of a mother for her child, expressing shining gratitude in her eyes; think of each and every one "loved sincerely". Our lives will become the finest expression of that love.

Mrs. Reid conducted a contest, "Names of Men and Women of the Bible in Jumbled Words", such as "Ytimoth" — "Timothy" or "Yram" — "Mary", with Mrs. Gay and Mrs. Cooke being the winners.

With the repeating of the Mary Stewart Collect, the meeting was brought to a close.

The Hostess and the President formed the lunch committee and served a very tasty one. A vote of thanks to the hostess and all taking part in the programme was ably expressed by Mrs. P. Bronson.

P.S. — The W.I. are again asking for co-operation from the community for good used clothing for the Scott Mission. These can be picked up for your convenience by dialing EX. 5-2147 or EX. 5-2153. Thank you.

Bride-Elect Honoured

On Monday evening, August 15th, a surprise linen shower was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Heagle in honour of Miss Marian Broadworth, bride-elect. Misses Lynda Sine and Margie Ray acted as co-hostesses. About 30 young ladies attended. As the bride-elect entered the prettily decorated living-room to the strains of "Here Comes The Bride", Miss Lynda Sine presented Marian with a corsage of pink carnations; while Miss Margie Ray also presented Mrs. Broadworth with a similar corsage. Games and contests were enjoyed after which the bride was escorted to a beautifully decorated chair, given a hat of ribbons, and above her were many coloured balloons in which were slips of paper instructing the bride where to find her gifts. Miss Margie Ray then read the address and burst the balloons. After the bride had found and unwrapped her gifts, she very suitably replied, thanking all who had contributed and helped in any way toward the success of the most appreciated shower and for the lovely gifts. The hostesses served refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

Stirling Fall Fair, Saturday, Sept. 17

SPLENDID PROGRAMME IS ARRANGED FOR AFTERNOON

Allan Shows Midway and Ted Curl and His Curl Men Are Feature Attractions

With the annual Fall Fair sponsored by the Stirling Agricultural Society scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week, September 16th and 17th, the committee in charge of the various attractions in front of the grandstand has lined up a programme for appeal to all, and indications point to it being one of the best ever seen locally.

In preparing the programme, the committee has ever kept in view that the Fair is primarily for the agriculturists of the community and has endeavoured to make it of particular interest to farmers. However, the urban dwellers have not been overlooked and there are many items that should appeal to them as well.

It is the hope of the Society that the citizens of Stirling and community will show their appreciation of the efforts put forth by the directors by giving their wholehearted support to the Fair not only with their attendance but by competing in as many events as possible.

Acknowledge Donations

The directors desire to thank the citizens of Stirling and Hastings County who, by their generous donations, have assisted them in arranging for this year's fair.

Copies of the Prize List may be obtained from R. E. Shortt, Secretary.

Trials of Speed

All of the familiar events are again on the agenda and a good afternoon's entertainment is promised for Saturday, September 17th. Horse racing enthusiasts will again be able to enjoy their favourite sport as trials of speed — Free-For-All, purse $200.; 2.25 Class, purse $175 and 2.28 Class, purse $150. — are included in the race card.

There will also be pony races for two classes, 11 to 14 hands, and under 11 hands.

Bicycle Race

Bicycle races for the boys and girls are also on the agenda. There are three classes, half mile for boys 15 and over; 1.8 mile for boys under 15, 1.8 mile for girls under 15.

Good Exhibits

There will also be the usual good horse and cattle exhibits, as well as sheep and swine. In the main building will be found the ladies' work exhibit, cheese exhibits, High and Public School exhibits and the Horticultural exhibits.

Junior Farmer Section

In the Junior Section of the Fair patrons will be privileged to view the achievement day exhibits of the Stirling 4-H Club, South Hastings 4-H Grain Club, South Hastings Sweet Corn Club, South Hastings 4-H Tractor Club and Moira Trent 4-H Forestry Club. The farm machinery companies will also have their usual display of farm equipment on the grounds.

The customary Junior Farmer section will again be featured this year.

Platform Performance

"Ted Curl and His Curl Men" will provide the platform performance during the afternoon.

Good Midway

Arrangements have been made with the Allan Shows for a Midway with rides and booths for both the children and the adult patrons of the Fair.

Refreshments booths will be in operation on the grounds, while the ladies of Wellman's United Church will serve hot meals in the Fair dining hall.

Dance on Saturday Night

The Fair programme will conclude Saturday night with a dance in the main Fair Grounds building with "Ted Curl and His Curl Men" providing the music.

Your Patronage Solicited

In presenting the programme the Committee feels it should have the support of the community and given

Suggestion Box Of C. of C. At Stirling Fair

Citizens are reminded of the Chamber of Commerce Suggestion Box at the Chamber's Booth at the Stirling Fair on Saturday, September 17th.

If you have a complaint or a suggestion as to how the Chamber may better serve the Community, drop it in the Suggestion Box.

There will also be available for distribution, a number of pamphlets which are in the public interest. Your Chamber of Commerce representatives will be glad to see you. Drop around to the Booth on Saturday.

At Teachers' College

Misses Carol Ray, Dawn Hubel, Joan Stapley and Barbara Woodbeck have enrolled at Teachers' College in Peterborough and began their studies this week.

Joins Bank Staff

Reginald McCurdy has accepted a position on the staff of the local Bank of Montreal and began his new duties on Monday.

Wins $400 Bursary

Word was received on Friday last by Michael Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, that he had been awarded an Atkinson Charitable Foundation Bursary to University, value $400.

This Bursary, along with a Dominion-Provincial Student-Aid Bursary Type A, to University, value, $500, and an I.O.D.E. Bursary, value $100, previously reported gives Mr. Long $1000. He will enrol at Queen's University for the Fall term.

Recent Bride Feted By Stirling Friends

On Wednesday evening last an enjoyable party was held at the home of Mrs. George Haggerty in honour of her daughter, Marilyn, who was married in Vancouver recently and is holidaying at her home here.

Following a program of readings and music, Mrs. Chas. Vance read an address and Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh presented Marilyn with a kitchen clock.

Marilyn expressed her thanks for the gift. Refreshments were served and a social evening enjoyed.

49 Register With Stirling Cubs

The first meeting of the Stirling Cubs was held in the Public School on Monday evening, September 12th. Forty-nine boys registered which makes a full group, so that no more boys can be accepted. Leaders in attendance were Mrs. B. Woodbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Irish. Six boys will be going up into Scouts.

Scouts Meet

The Scouts held their first meeting on Tuesday evening with fourteen in attendance. Any boys wishing to join the Scouts must be there next Tuesday. Leader Jim McIntosh will be assisted by M. Faulkner and Doug. McIntosh.

good weather, the attendance should be the best ever. All roads lead to Stirling Fair Grounds on Saturday, September 17th, and citizens of the surrounding district will be out in force to lend their support to the Agricultural Society.

Be sure to meet your friends at the Stirling Fall Fair.

Public S. Board Holds Session

The Public School Board met in regular session on Wednesday night with chairman R. D. Cooke presiding and R. Mallory, Ed. Warren, G. C. Mouck, Ralph Jeffs and Mrs. R. Luery in attendance.

D. Robson interviewed the Board regarding accident insurance, but the matter was left in abeyance.

Principal M. Scott reported an enrolment of 225. He also stated Inspector Nelson had paid the school a visit.

R. Mallory, chairman of the property committee, reported on painting, erection of new shelves, and the checking of the roof for leaks. He also stated the sewer connections had been made at the Principal's residence, which also needed painting.

Discussion was held on a number of routine matters prior to adjournment.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

K. Sine, $79.95; J. Hood, school supplies, $1500.00; Stirling Welding, $7.90; No. 3 School Activity Group, $16.00; M. Tanner, $4.05; Hatton Hardware, $5.00; H. E. Cooke, $18.00; C. Club Doubles Competition Ends

The schedule of the Stirling Lawn Bowling Club doubles was completed last Thursday night, but there are a few postponed games yet to be played before the winners will be known.

In Thursday night's games Ted Barnard and H. R. Tompkins defeated Mrs. A. Brooks and Ray Mallory 13-11; Mrs. J. Doran and A. Brooks vs. Mrs. P. Bronson and A. Fraser, 15-11; R. Hulin and Miss Rosa Spry vs. Mrs. R. Luery and Mrs. B. Woodbeck, 18-13; Mrs. H. West and W. Brown (sub for R. E. Fox) vs. Mrs. E. Burgess and Mrs. W. Brown (sub for F. R. Mallory), 17-14; Jack Doran (sub for Mrs. W. T. Elliott) and Mrs. J. B. Hough vs. Mrs. R. Hulin and Mrs. A. Fraser, 19-13.

Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh Hostess To St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. B. Reid, opened the meeting with a word of welcome to all and all joined in singing hymn "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross", and repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Mrs. L. Munro read the Scripture from Luke 16, followed by prayer by Mrs. H. Rollins. Roll call was responded to with the word, "Stewardship". The minutes were read and approved and business discussed and the report given from the treasurer, Mrs. E. Cain. The president reminded the ladies of the united services of the Churches to be held later in the month in St. Paul's United Church. The offering was received and dedicated.

Mrs. S. McIntosh presided for the following programme; hymn, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee"; a reading, "Black and White", by Mrs. L. Daffoe; Mrs. D. Matthews, a lovely piano solo; Mrs. D. McIntosh, an interesting reading on the "House of Happiness", speaking of the good work done by those in charge, Rev. and Mrs. Toombes.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Carr, of River Valley, gave a wonderful address on "Power Unlimited". Mrs. R. Eggleston gave a reading, which gave every one much thought, "If Jesus Came Into Your Home". This very fine meeting closed with the hymn, "Rise Up, O Men of God" and the Mizpah Benediction.

A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. McIntosh and her assistants and Mrs. Foster expressed the thanks of the Society.

Bride-Elect Honoured

On Tuesday evening, September 6th, a linen shower was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Gay, in honour of Miss Joan McGowan, of Campbellford. About 20 relatives and close friends attended.

The bride-elect was escorted to a chair, beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and bells.

Several contests and games were enjoyed, after which Mrs. Percy McGee, gave two humorous readings.

The bride-to-be opened the array of gifts, which were attractively displayed in a decorated Wishing Well.

Joan graciously thanked the ladies for the lovely gifts and invited everyone to visit her in her home.

The hostess served a dainty lunch and a social time was enjoyed.

Teen Town

On Friday, September 9th, the regular Teen Town dance was held in the Community Hall. The winners of the spot dance were Linda Morrow and Raeburn Scott and the winners of the draw were Barb Moore and John Noble.

There will not be a dance on Friday because of the Fair dance.

Linen Shower For Bride-To-Be

Mrs. Gerald Clancy, Harold, R.R. 2, was hostess at a linen shower in honour of Miss Marlene Carlisle, a bride-to-be, on Friday evening last, September 9th. Some twenty friends of the guest of honour were in attendance.

Mrs. Clancy acted as mistress of ceremonies for a programme, including a reading by Mrs. J. Carlisle; contests by Mrs. Jas. McIntosh and Miss Ruth Morgan, and a piano solo by Mrs. Harry Brown.

An appropriate address was read by Mrs. Clancy and Miss Carlisle was the recipient of numerous beautiful gifts and a bride's book. While she opened her gift parcels, the hostess fashioned a hat from the ribbon.

Miss Carlisle expressed her thanks and appreciation to the donors and the hostess, after which dainty refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

First Fall Meeting St. James' C.W.L.

It was the pleasure of the ladies of St. James the Minor Parish C.W.L. to watch a very talented lady, show her skill and creative power in arranging some very beautiful floral arrangements on Thursday evening.

This took place at the first meeting of the Fall season at the home of Mrs. John Kerby. Fifteen members and four guests were present when Father O'Neill opened the meeting with the League Prayer. Final plans were made for the catering to the livestock sale at Hoard's Station this month.

All the ladies of the Parish are urged to lend a hand. It was decided to have a bake sale in October but no definite date was set. After the business meeting, Mrs. Arthur Leavelley, of Loughborough, England, mother of the hostess, held the attention of all the ladies present with her amazing skill at making floral decorations.

While most people would still be thinking of how to arrange the first flower, Mrs. Leavelley, with her nimble fingers had an arrangement done. A special thanks must be given to Mrs. James Chambers, of Stirling, who so kindly donated the flowers. Mrs. Leavelley has been in Canada since the latter part of May visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Kerby and grandchildren Elizabeth, Marie and Michael, of Ivanhoe; also her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stephens and children, Ivanhoe. Mrs. Leavelley expects to sail home to England on Friday.

Boy Scout Paper Drive

The next wastepaper drive will be held on Saturday, September 24th. Citizens are asked to please save their paper for the Scouts. Boys will start to pick up the paper at nine a.m.

Juveniles Lose To Cardiff

Stirling Juvenile Softballers dropped out of the play-off picture on Monday night when they were defeated 9 to 4 by Cardiff in the third and deciding game of the series. The game was played on a Peterborough diamond. Stirling won the second game of the series, played at Frankford on Saturday night, 13 to 5. The winners will meet Stittsville in the next play-off round.

Posted To England

Cpl. Don Francis, Mrs. Francis, Diane, Janey and Robbie, left today (Thursday) for Montreal and will sail Friday on the Saxonia for Langar, England, where he has been posted with the R.C.A.F.

Chicken Barbecue Proves Successful

The chicken barbecue, sponsored by Stirling Encampment No. 80, I.O.O.F., in the main Fair Grounds building on Tuesday evening, proved a decided success. District Firemen Gathered Here

The Fire Brigades of more than 12 municipalities gathered for a meeting on September 7th in Stirling of Hastings Prince Edward Mutual Aid Fire Fighting Association. The meeting was directed by Fire Chief John Aquino, of Batawa.

Chief Gerald Vance spoke briefly and, as co-ordinator of the Association, complimented the various brigades on their recent fine showing in competition. He also announced the Ontario Hydro would present a demonstration for member brigades on what happens when a stream of water is poured on a high tension wire. It was suggested that the demonstration be held in Belleville on September 14th in the early evening so it could be completed before dark. He also pointed out that the lapel pins recommended by the Hastings and Prince Edward Association were in use throughout the province and more than a thousand were already being worn.

During the business part of the evening, Pat Callahan, Pointe Anne, was appointed to the Program Committee. It was also revealed that the point standing in the annual competition was: Deseronto 20; Batawa 19; Frankford 17; and Tweed 16.

Will Create Memorial Trophy

It was also agreed that the Association would purchase a trophy in memory of the late Fire Chief Orser, of Trenton, and be used for the Annual Competition. When the business part of the meeting was over Stirling Brigade was host at a luncheon served to about 50 members present.

St. Mark's W.A.

The July meeting of St. Mark's W.A. was held at the cottage of Mrs. W. J. Barlow, at Crowe Lake, in the form of a pot luck dinner.

A 2 o'clock, the meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Jones. Hymn 268 was sung, followed by prayers. The roll call was answered with a verse from the Bible containing the words "Light".

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given. After a short discussion, it was decided to have an afternoon tea on August 25th.

Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Eggett are to be the visiting committee for August and September.

The meeting closed with prayer. Several readings were given and a contest conducted by Mrs. Heath.

A cup of tea was served and a social half hour spent.

August Meeting

The August meeting of St. Mark's W.A. was held at the cottage of Mrs. B. Woodbeck, Oak Lake, in the form of a pot luck dinner, which was much enjoyed by all present.

The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock by the President, Mrs. H. Jones. The hymn, "Blest Are the Pure in Heart", was sung, followed by the Litany and prayers taken by Mr. Fleming.

The Bible reading was read by Mrs. Woodbeck.

Mrs. Jones welcomed all present. The roll call was answered by 11 members and 5 visitors. The minutes were read and adopted and the treasurer gave her report. Correspondence was read and dealt with.

It was moved by Mrs. Neal and seconded by Mrs. Fraser that the Afternoon Tea date be changed to September and other branches be invited. Mrs. O'Kraika, Deane's President, is to be asked to speak.

Mr. Fleming closed the business portion of the meeting.

Mrs. Woodbeck introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Clarence Holmes, who gave a very interesting and inspiring talk.

Mrs. Fleming, in her capable way, thanked Mrs. Holmes for her message.

Mrs. Wellman gave a reading and Marjorie Vilneff conducted a contest, after which a cup of tea was served by the hostess. Mrs. Jones thanked

Mrs. Woodbeck for her hospitality and all enjoyed a social half hour.

Keith Brown, M.P.P., Named Chief At Curve Lake

Ontario parliamentary history was made at Curve Lake, Monday, to the beat of Indian tom-toms.

Keith Brown, MPP for Peterborough, was created an honorary Ojibway Indian chief in an impressive pow-wow ceremony at Curve Lake Reservation.

Mr. Brown, resplendent in black and orange plumes, said after the ceremony he believed himself the first Ontario MPP honoured with an Indian chieftainship.

As Chief Sunrise, he takes the place of Chief Blue Sky, better known as Peterborough Federal MP Gordon K. Fraser, who died in May.

Placing the headdress on Mr. Brown, reservation Chief Elsie Knott said: "It is hard to find a replacement for a man such as Gordon Fraser. However, if Mr. Fraser could be here today to help us select a man to take his place, we are sure he would choose the man we have selected."

Mr. Brown smoked the pipe of peace with Chief Elsie and her counselors. The pipe passed from hand to hand in the symbolic act of friendship which the Indians say is unchanged in 300 years.

Visiting Indian chiefs and elders from the Six Nations Reserve, Brantford joined the Curve Lake Indians in the chief-making dance.

Seneca Indian Chief Hiawatha — a famed exponent of the graceful Eagle Dance — helped Mr. Brown through the intricate moves of the dance, leading him by the hand through the swirling dancers.

Mr. Brown pledged his support to the reserve, which has been hard hit by unemployment. Funds raised at the pow-wow, which was instituted by popular Chief Elsie Knott, are used for welfare work on the reserve.

The installation of Keith Brown, MPP, as an honorary chief climaxed three days of festivities at the reserve.

The pow-wow began on Saturday with modern dancing. This was followed Sunday with tribal dancing and the sale of Indian corn syrup, corn bread, and other famed tidbits from the red man's cuisine.

During Monday's entertainment, visiting Indians from Six Nations Reserve were present to participate in the scalp dance, target shoot, Indian baby race and other features.

Staff Trapped

Hospital staff were trapped in an elevator and all available fire engines and police cruisers were called out Sunday when public utilities maintenance crews cut off power near Belleville General Hospital. The fire trucks were despatched when the hospital's fire alarm was tripped.

Gough-Miller Wedding

Baskets of snapdragons, gladioli, and roses adorned the chancel in Madoc Presbyterian Church, on Saturday, September 3rd, at high noon, and white satin bows designated the guest pews for a pretty, early fall wedding when Marcia Joy Miller, of Foxboro, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, became the bride of Arthur Oakley Gough, of Foxboro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Gough. The Reverend J. Sinclair officiated.

Mrs. Irene Crawford provided the traditional wedding music. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in her bridal gown of white net over satin with pointed lace skirt top, and fitted bodice with long, lily-pointed sleeves. Iridescent sequins and seed pearls were used extensively as accents. She wore a shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion and sequin encrusted head-dress, and carried a traditional bouquet of bridal flowers.

Mrs. Shirley Wilson, of Holloway, Ontario, matron of honour, wore a pink sheer, with white accessories, matching headdress, and carried a cascade of white carnations. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joyce Gough, of Belleville, was also in pink sheer, with matching headdress; Mrs. Lorraine Adams, of Madoc, in blue sheer, with matching headdress, and carrying a cascade of pink carnations; Miss Jean Gough, of Foxboro, in blue sheer, with matching headdress, also carried a cascade of pink carnations. Little Miss Margaret Miller, of Madoc, wore a frock of blue sheer with matching headdress and carried a basket of white carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Gerald Mann, of Foxboro, while Mr. Allan Gough, of Foxboro, and Mr. Donald Fleming, of Madoc, ushered the guests.

The reception, which followed the ceremony, was held in the church parlours, where the bride's mother received guests in belle rayon brocade in sheath design, with corsage of Happiness roses. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, wearing brown silk sheath, with corsage of white gardenias.

For the honeymoon to northern points, the bride travelled in a multi-colored bolero dress of nylon, with mauve and white accessories. Upon their return, the happy couple will make their home in Belleville.

Attending the wedding were guests from Toronto, Peterborough, and Ottawa.

Entered Into Rest FRANK LOUGH

Stricken with a heart attack at his home, 376 Dufferin Avenue, Belleville, formerly of Foxboro district, died suddenly early Friday morning.

He was born in Marmora township 80 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lough and after receiving his early education in the township, he farmed successfully for many years in the Foxboro district, retiring seven years ago to reside in Belleville.

Mr. Lough was a member of the United Church and is survived by one son, William Lough, of Ridgeway, one daughter, Mrs. Gilbert (Gladys) Sills, of Sidney township, four brothers, George, of Ameliasburg, Marshall, of Hanna, Alta., Howard, of Brantford, Stewart Lough, of Trent Road, and two sisters, Mrs. John Bonter and Mrs. James Auckland, both of Marmora. Also surviving are five grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. His wife, the former Margaret Weese died some years ago.

The funeral was held in the Chapel of the J. R. Bush Funeral Home, on Monday, at 2 p.m., with Rev. R. F. Darke, of Foxboro, officiating. Interment Belleville Cemetery.

Rawdon Junior Farmers

The September meeting of the Rawdon Junior Farmers was held on Monday evening, September 6th, in the Masonic Hall, Stirling at 8.30 p.m.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the Junior Farmers song. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read by Carol Fairies.

An announcement was made concerning the County's annual church service to be held Sunday evening, September 11th, in Cooper United Church, at 8 p.m.

The Rawdon Junior Farmers are sponsoring a "Hard Time" dance in the Stirling Community Hall. Dancing is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Everyone is welcome.

The October meeting — Parents' and Visitors' Night — will be held on Monday evening, October 3rd, in the Masonic Hall, Stirling.

Elsie Martin and Paul Heagle, the affirmative team, then debated against Ruth Morgan and Jack Donnan. The resolution was: Resolved that Young People are not given enough credit for work done in the community.

Glenn Heagle then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Orville Mussall, who delivered a most helpful and constructive speech, featuring pointers and principles of good debating.

Jean Sine thanked Mr. Mussall for his interesting message.

The jovial Rawdon Tattler, prepared by Marilyn Reid and Sandra Chambers, was read by Marilyn.

Several sing songs were enjoyed, followed by recreation.

Lunch was then enjoyed by all.

Wellman's W.M.S.

Mrs. Chas. Dunham was hostess to the Women's Missionary Society of Wellman's United Church, on Wednesday, September 7th. The president, Mrs. Omar Dracup, opened the meeting with a few brief remarks and the hymn, "We Plough The Fields", was sung. Rev. W. G. Fletcher led in prayer.

The Scripture lesson, St. John 4: 7-21, was read by Mrs. Keith Clancy, after which Mrs. Dracup gave meditations on this lesson. She brought out the fact that we should have one world brotherhood under Jesus Christ. She closed with prayer.

"O Worship The King" was sung and Master Allen Dracup took up the collection.

There was a lengthy business discussion during which time the catering for Stirling Fair and a wedding were dealt with.

The program followed, with Mrs.

Jack Dunham giving a reading, "Teach Him Gently If You Can". Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins favoured with a vocal solo, "Thirty Pieces of Silver". Mrs. John Carlisle gave a reading entitled, "In As Much". Mrs. W. G. Fletcher rendered a vocal solo, "Jesus Took My Burden".

This program was followed by a chapter from the Study Book entitled, "African Man Hunt". Everyone took part reading descriptions of different phases of the life in Africa. There were descriptions of villages, house structures and living conditions. The health habits and education of the inhabitants were fully described. The backwardness of the conditions in the country are so prevalent in every phase of life that one realizes the desperate need there of help along any line that can be given.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher gave an account of the present situation in Africa, stating that things are tremendously confused at the present time.

Mrs. Dracup thanked those taking part in the program, also the hostess for her hospitality and closed the meeting with prayer.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

Here's the Modern Plan to get the things you need!

BANK OF MONTREAL

Family Finance Plan

Bring all your personal credit needs under one roof
with a low-cost B of M life-insured loan

Here is the modern approach to finance the things you want to buy for your home and family... to take care of expenses for school, college, vacation and so on... and, of course, to meet emergencies.

The Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan enables you to plan your purchases and helps you meet unexpected expenses under one single comprehensive plan.

Here are four good reasons why — whether single or married — you should use the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan...

"MY BANK"
TO 2 MILLION CANADIANS
B of M

- 1 All loans are automatically life-insured. Should you die before your loan is repaid, your debt to the Bank will be cancelled.
- 2 Monthly repayments can be extended up to two years — or even three, if need be. This means that FFP can be tailored to suit any salary.
- 3 You can borrow up to $3,500, depending on your income, to buy the things you want for your home and family, or to meet emergencies.
- 4 Planned repayments help you run your income — instead of letting it run you.

If you have a steady income and can make monthly loan-repayments without hardship, you can finance almost any useful purpose through the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan. Why not talk to the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch... you'll like their helpful attitude. Whether you are a B of M customer or not, you will find a warm welcome.

Hastings Co. Junior Farmers Visit Elgin County

The Junior Farmers of Hastings County were given a conducted tour of many of the highlights in Elgin County by the Juniors of that County on the week end of August 26 to 28, 1960.

This event was an exchange visit between the two counties. Last year the Hastings' young farmers were host to the Elgin County Juniors.

About fifteen Juniors from Hastings and as many of Elgin's busy Juniors attended the well planned tour of Elgin County. The tour started with a visit to a 36-acre tobacco enterprise and with harvesting operations in full swing, it proved to be a very educational stop.

Many other interesting stops were made. A visit to a fully mechanized poultry operation demonstrated the importance of labour saving machinery. The next stop was at a crafts and pottery shop where a fascinating demonstration on pottery making was given. The girls, particularly, enjoyed the crafts and pottery on display. The tour continued with a visit to Selwood Farms where a large herd of Ayrshires are maintained.

On the way to see the site of this year's International Plowing Match, a visit to a Feeder Steer Lot was made. Here again, the operator stressed the importance of labour-saving machinery to cut down the cost of production.

Following the visit to the Plowing Match site, which at this time is nothing more than many level acres of fertile farm land, a delicious supper was served at a local church.

On Sunday, the Hastings Juniors attended church with the people with whom they were billeted and ended the visit with a picnic at Pinefore Park in St. Thomas. Farewells were exchanged and the Hastings group left with many happy thoughts of Elgin County and the new friends they had made.

Gov't. Action Urged To Halt Mine Closing

Five municipalities in this area will press for government action against a shutdown of Deloro Mining and Smelting Company.

The company, a major industry in the area for 50 years, plans to close by the end of the year because of slumping prices for cobalt.

Reeves of the five municipalities decided Thursday night to draw up briefs on the economic threat to the area. Deloro officials also were asked to submit a brief outlining factors contributing to the decision to close.

These will be presented to the federal government with a request for action. Municipalities concerned are Manora-Lake, Madoc and Rawdon townships and Marmora and Madoc villages.

Huntingdon Township also will be asked to join the delegation.

W. Hastings District President Pays Official Visit

Mrs. E. C. Hay-Ellis was hostess for the September meeting of River Valley Women's Institute with sixteen members and four visitors in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Roy Tucker, extended a welcome to all and followed with the Ode and prayer.

There was a good response to the roll call, "A Rural Sound That Appeals To Me". Mrs. George Heasman presented her report and the correspondence included a letter from the F.W.I.O. president, Mrs. L. G. Lymburner re a special project. Leaders were appointed for both Junior and Senior Club work. Five dollars was donated for a special entry at Stirling Fair.

Mrs. Roy Bush told of the death of Dr. Ruby Green, of A.C.W.W. She began her demonstrations in 1917 and retired in 1946.

A large array of food and clothing was brought to the meeting for a burned out family.

Mrs. Ralph Utman presided over the programme. Miss Adeline Bush gave the motto which stressed that those who seek success must first make a venture if they wish to succeed. She closed with a message entitled "Go Right on Working".

Mrs. Ernest Carr read "Great Grandmother Remembers Her First Sugaring Off". Miss Alice De Bruyn contributed an accordion selection.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Everett Phillips, Belleville, president of West Hastings District W.I., was introduced. She gave a summary of plans to date re the 60th Anniversary of the district in 1961. She chose as her theme "Citizenship and Education". The speaker stressed that each individual study democracy and its meaning and then use their franchise. We are all world citizens and must broaden our horizons and be prepared to assist the peoples of the world. Each branch should co-operate with District Area, Provincial, National and A.C.W.W. Groups and by all working harmoniously together much can be accomplished. She told of the expansion and development of our Canadian North and the F.W.I. of Canada is assisting in this expansion. They are sending Mrs. Wm. Hough, of Stratford, to carry homemaking projects. They will have as their theme "Start Where You Are, With What You Have". She closed her informative message with "The A.B.C. of Living".

Mrs. Gerald Brooks voiced appreciative thanks. Miss Cheryl Utman conducted a contest on "Trees". The meeting closed with "The Mary Stew are Collect". The hostess and lunch committee served refreshments and enjoyed a social half hour.

Campbellford Night School To Continue

The Northeast Northumberland District High School area board has authorized the continuance of the night school classes at Campbellford High School.

Carman Knox and W. R. Loucks were re-appointed as the board's representatives to the night school committee. The classes have proved quite popular in recent years and have the reputation of being the best in Ontario among the schools of comparable size.

Spring Brook W.A.

The regular meeting of the Spring Brook W.A. met at the church on Thursday afternoon with twenty-three members and several visitors present.

Mrs. Harry Haslett was in charge of the Devotional. The theme for the month was "The Test". Mrs. R. McKeown read the Scripture taken from Galatians. Mrs. Gerald Broadworth read the Lesson Thoughts and the prayer for our Missionary was given by Mrs. Ed. Bateman.

The roll call was answered by each member presenting a gift or donation for a layette to be sent to a mission hospital. Mrs. Mason read an invitation inviting the members to an afternoon Tea to be held at St. Mark's, Bonarlaw, September 8th.

Mrs. George Thompson gave a report for the Parsonage Committee. A motion was made that the parsonage committee make arrangements to have some decorating done at the parsonage.

Mrs. Burkitt was celebrating her 90th birthday anniversary and the gathering sang "Happy Birthday" and presented her with an autographed card.

The programme was as follows: Mrs. Harry Haslett gave the topic, "The Second Mile". A reading, prepared by Ethel Peake, was given by Mrs. McKeown, while Mrs. Ed. Bateman and Mrs. Rowena Burkitt also gave readings. Musical selections by Linda and Joyce Sine were also enjoyed.

The meeting closed with prayer and lunch was served by the hostesses and their assistants.

Women's Canadian Club

Members of the Women's Canadian Club of Belleville and District are looking forward to an interesting program for the coming season. It is the policy of the Canadian Club to build up a wider understanding of world affairs and our country's part in them. To further this policy, the Club has brought, and will bring, outstanding speakers on subjects of national and international interest to Belleville.

The Canadian Club does not compete with any other organization and makes no demands on its members.

The fee is $3.50 for the season, which consists of eight meetings and several of these are followed by a social half hour when refreshments are served.

New members are welcome from all localities within a twenty-five mile radius of Belleville. Gentlemen are always welcome by paying a fee of fifty cents at each meeting.

Now in its forty-seventh year in Belleville, the Women's Canadian Club announces its program for the 1960-1961 season.

SOEST, West Germany—Our story this week will interest our publishers of weekly newspapers and, we hope, our readers. We visited "The Beaver" the weekly newspaper of the 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade Group, and for once since arriving here found ourselves in our own element.

We sat in the editorial office at Headquarters and we went downtown to the Soester Anzeiger where Herr Jahn prints The Beaver. We revelled in the smell of ink and the clatter of the Linotypes and presses.

The Beaver had its beginning in The Welfare News, published in the early days by Herr Herbert Hertampf. Working with the Welfare Officer, he devised the idea to acquaint the newcomers of services available, theatres, radio and churches.

In May, 1957, Brigadier Roger Rowley assented to the establishment of the weekly newspaper, and in the first issue appealed for the fullest co-operation. The Beaver took on like wildfire.

As the Canadian weekly mirrors its town. The Beaver has carried that tradition in its service to the Canadian serviceman and his family in a foreign land.

Capt. "Jim" Mitchell of the Queen's Own Rifles, a former infantryman with The Winnipeg Rifles, is editor. His home background (and his pipe) fitted him for the job. In Winnipeg he wrote up the junior basketball and hockey leagues with which he was associated, and also the Manitoba Young Liberals of whom he was vice-president. In fact, he was in The Tribune office so much that most of the employees looked upon him as a member of the staff.

The second senior man next to Herr Hertampf, in terms of service with The Beaver, is a Scotsman whose life story makes a thrilling tale.

Dick O'Neil, of Hamilton, Scotland, served in Montgomery's old regiment, went through Dunkirk, met the Canadians first at Falaise, secondly at a detention camp, served at the war crimes trials, and was a WO II at the Werl prison, near here, where the German prisoners were impounded, including Kust Meyer.

Dick is a civilian employee of the brigade, and his fluent German makes him a valued member of the Beaver, especially as advertising manager.

The other two employees are two German girls, who speak excellent English. Ruth Held is Capt. Mitchell's "right hand man" at the editorial office and looks after the births column, an important section of The Beaver. Renate Milbradt assists with proofreading and writes "The Women's World". Last week she told the Canadian wives "It's Beer That Makes Your Thirst A Pleasure". Beer is universal in Germany, and an old proverb says that a glass of beer a day is good for health and complexion. Can you housewives imagine Beer Soup — Homemade Style?

The set up of The Beaver is very much like our own weeklies. They have unit correspondents who take the place of our country correspondents. Regular features include "Community News" of Hemer, Werl and Soest, where the Permanent Married Quarters are located; The Sportlight, "Gunner's Salvo", radio programs of Canadian Army Europe and British Forces Network, Church Directory, Hussar Highlights, Sapper News, "Jimmy's Jottings", cinema programs at the several Forts, The Watchdog (Black Watch), "The Watchdog Beat" (Provost Corps), camera, legal and travel columns, and news from back home.

Advertising runs from local car dealers (who do a land office business with the Canadians) to camera dealers (who, likewise, love the Canadians), sports equipment, national ads, the Bank of Montreal with branches in the three communities, and a full page ad from Maple Leaf Services, which parallels the chain store.

The Beaver is printed in the shop of Soest's daily newspaper. If weekly publishers in Canada think they have troubles, not one of these Linotype operators knows any English, nor pressman! Printer's measures are in centimeters, and German terms are used in proofreading and copy marking.

Campaign On Human Rights Code Announced By Premier Frost

The Ontario Anti-Discrimination Commission, under the chairmanship of Louis Fine, is launching an intensive campaign to acquaint the people of the Province with the aims of The Human Rights Code. Letters have been written to all Mayors and Reeves, the clergy of all denominations, newspaper editors, librarians, service club and fraternal society executives requesting co-operation. A special appeal is also being made to members of the Legislature for their assistance in making the campaign a success. Brochures, tracts and posters have been prepared to explain the Acts of the Legislature on which the Human Rights Code is based — The Fair Accommodation Practices Act and Fair Employment Practices Act. Under the Code, "It is public policy in Ontario that all its citizens are free and equal in dignity and rights, without regard to race, creed colour, nationality, ancestry or place of origin."

In announcing the campaign Premier Frost issued the following supporting statement:

Statement of Human Rights Code
By Hon. Leslie M. Frost,
Prime Minister of Ontario

There could be no greater impediment to our progress as a Province and as a Nation than the practice of racial or religious intolerance and discrimination. If such evils were ever permitted to gain headway, it would spell disaster and ultimate ruin for a country like ours. That is why Ontario's Human Rights Code was brought into being; for us in Ontario, citizenship is indivisible.

It must never be forgotten that our country was able to take the path to nationhood only because two great races composed their differences and subordinated them to national needs. That policy, based on mutuality, has brought us rich rewards down through our history. We have now become a greatly expanded partnership of peoples in which men and women of many national origins and cultures are contributing their rich creative talents and skills to the building of a greater Province and Nation. Many of them have come to Canada in recent years and we are particularly happy that so many of them have chosen to make our Province their home. We warmly welcome them as members of our family.

I am satisfied that the majority of Ontario's employers and those supplying public accommodation and services are living up to the spirit and letter of the Code. Unfortunately there have been some exceptions, but in most cases where violations have occurred our conciliation officers have been able to sit down with the disputing parties and arrive at a satisfactory settlement. After all, it is not tough laws that make men and women do the right, but obedience to the law, which comes, not from fear of sanctions, but rather from a desire to respect the dignity and rights of their fellow citizen, regardless of race, creed or colour. In our view, the Human Rights Code expresses the conscience of Ontario and we are confident the overwhelming majority of our people are prepared to put it into practice.

No one will deny that there are pockets of injustice and animosity still operating in Ontario. We must realize, however, that these are old evils and are not limited to any one group or groups. They have always been the ugly companions of unhappy souls and the scourge of civilized society. It has been said that nothing is more terrible than ignorance in action. In our enlightened multi-national community, there could be no greater injustice than racial discrimination and the depriving of a fellow citizen of another race, creed or colour of his dignity and fundamental rights. We are certain that the remnants of racial prejudice in Ontario can only be overcome by enlightenment and understanding. That is the purpose of the present effort to win total acceptance and practice of our Human Rights Code.

Robbery At Campbellford

Safe-crackers escaped with about $226 in cash when they used nitro glycerin to blow a heavy safe inside a vault at the public utilities office, in Campbellford, early Sunday morning.

The thieves first broke into the utilities' warehouse adjacent to the office where they stole several wrecking bars and crow bars. They used these to force open a door at the rear of the office, then went to the vault.

The vault door was not locked due to a defect in the mechanism.

Police said two separate charges of nitro were used and the men finished the job with heavy crowbars, stolen earlier.

Municipal Road Grants Increased

Provincial road subsidies for municipal road construction have been increased for the current fiscal year by $2 million and those for municipal road maintenance by an unspecified amount, Highways Minister Fred M. Cass, Q.C., announces.

This brings the total for municipal road construction to $42 million. Previous to the increase, the appropriation for maintenance was $24,500,000.

With many municipal road projects having been held up throughout the Province on account of difficulties in financing, Mr. Cass felt that the additional appropriation for capital projects will have "the happy effect of allowing municipalities all over the Province to recommence road programs".

LIVER — FOR VARIETY

Often when the organ or so called variety meats are mentioned, people turn up their noses in disdain. The main reason for such adverse reaction is probably that many do not know how to prepare and serve variety meats properly. The Consumer Section of the Canada Department of Agriculture has tested many ways of cooking variety meats and has developed some excellent methods for each type. Follow these instructions and you will be amazed — your family will even look forward to eating variety meats at least once a week.

Types of Liver

Liver is the best known and most popular of the variety meats. It is a tender meat although there is some variation in the tenderness and flavour of the different types.

Beef liver is less tender than calf or lamb liver. It is coarse grained with a pronounced flavour.

Calf or veal liver is the most tender and the mildest flavoured liver. It is considered the choicest liver and is usually the most expensive.

Lamb liver is less tender than calf liver and is mild flavoured.

To Prepare And Serve Liver

Wipe the liver well before cooking. Remove the skin by inserting a sharp knife under it and pulling or scraping the skin away from the meat. Carefully cut out the tubes with sharp, pointed scissors.

All types of liver may be panfried. Coat the liver slices with seasoned flour. Brown in a small amount of fat for about one minute over high heat. Then turn and cook over moderate heat, 2 to 3 minutes on each side. After browning, partly cover the pan. This will make the liver more juicy. Liver may be cooked to the medium-done stage, that is until it is light pink in the center or to the well-done stage when the pink colour has just disappeared. Do not over-cook liver as it will become tough.

Panfried liver may be served with fried bacon or onions. It may be fried without flour, in the bacon fat as you would fry steak.

Calf and baby beef liver are tender enough to be broiled. Brush slices of liver with melted fat. Place on cold rack of broiler pan so that the liver is 3 inches from the heating unit. Broil 4 to 5 minutes each side. Brush second side with fat after turning.

Beef and pork liver are good braised. Coat slices with seasoned flour. Brown in a small amount of fat for 1 minute over high heat. Reduce the heat. Add some liquid (water or tomato juice) to cover, about 1 cup liquid per pound of liver. Cover closely and cook slowly on top of stove or in the center of a moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes.

For more information on variety meats, write for the book "Meat — How to Buy — How to Cook". Send 50 cents to: Queen's Printer, Ottawa.

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

At a Bible Society Conference in Singapore a discussion took place on the relevancy of the Scriptures to the situation in the far East. Such phrases as "the uniqueness of Christ" and "the superiority of Christianity", recurred again and again in the remarks of these Asian Bible Society leaders.

When the chairman of the meeting, The Ven. H. M. Arrowsmith, General Secretary of the Australian Bible Society and Chairman of the General Council of the United Bible Societies asked why it was thought that Christ was unique, the Rev. J. S. Weerasinghe, Secretary of the Bible Society in Colombo replied, Christ is unique because He alone answers life's ultimate questions. The obvious extension to this reply was to ask the question "But what are life's ultimate questions?" Mr. Weerasinghe, after careful thought gave the answer, "Life's ultimate questions are, Whence have we come? Why do we persist? Where are we going?"

A profound silence followed this answer until a remark was passed that in the story of Christ as told in the Scriptures we find explanations as to why Christ has the answers. Mr. Weerasinghe has recently been released from his Bible Society duties in Colombo to promote the use and understanding of the Bible in the whole of the East.

Petherick's

(Too Late For Last Week)

How evident it was on Tuesday morning that school was starting, after a pleasant summer for most of the pupils. Voices of children could be heard as they pedaled to school or stood in groups waiting for the bus to transport them to a place of higher learning. S.S. No. 1 has Mr. Gerald Young, of Campbellford, again as teacher with Miss Barbara Wallace, Masters Tommy Kerr and Tommy Pollock starting their school life. S. S. No. 2 has Mrs. Ray Sharp, of Campbellford, formerly of North York as teacher of 21 pupils with Miss Kathy Southworth and Master Brian Burkitt in Grade one. May the coming year bring success to all of you.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tinney on the arrival of a son, Robert Wesley, a brother for Debra. Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith (nee Connie Fry) on the arrival of their son at Port Hope, a grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fry.

Miss Enid Petherick, of Toronto, spent the holiday week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Petherick.

Rylstone Defeats

Petherick's in Overtime
Saturday night's softball game was a "real good game", as the fans say and went into overtime when the score was 5-5 at the end of regular play. Petherick's added one in the eighth, but Rylstone came back in the ninth to conquer their old rivals by scoring two runs.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

FALL IS FINE FOR A BARBERRY BEE

Husking bees are a thing of the past, but a barberry bee is a modern "must" in many areas of Ontario. Common barberry is classed as a noxious weed under the Ontario Weed Act. The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture recommends a "kill out" campaign wherever these shrubs are found. There is a job for everyone in a barberry bee: boys and girls to locate the shrubs men to kill them, and municipalities to organize the bee. The ladies can play a part also. The fruit can be used for jam, jellies, pies or even to replace cranberries. The juice adds a tang to preserves or jellies.

Cereal rusts cost Ontario farmers millions of dollars each year. Counties which have organized barberry bees know they pay off in higher crop yields. Counties like Durham, Ontario and York have almost wiped out common barberry. Others from Grenville in the east to Grey in the west, are busy with barberry bees each year. These counties use everything from 2,4-D and sodium chlorate to tractors. The Field Crops Branch assists municipalities in eradicating the common barberry.

Get rid of common barberry. Japanese barberry is quite innocent. If the shrub has single spines and smooth-edged leaves, it is Japanese and harmless. If the spines are in groups of three and the leaves are edged with little spines, the barberry is common and should be destroyed.

Timely Tips

Ventilate your potato storage to dry out insulation and timbers during the hot weather, says L. W. Argue, refrigeration and storage engineer with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Thoroughly clean walls and floors, and remove old potatoes and debris. Follow this with a complete fungicide spray that will not leave an odour (either a sodium chlorate or a lime and copper sulphate — bordeaux mixture). It kills bacteria, fungi, and keeps the storage fresh.

Avoid carbon dioxide poisoning during silo filling by running the blower 20 minutes before entering the silo, warns Bill Ridgeway, assistant safety specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. This suffocating, odorless gas is heavier than air and collects above the silage until fermentation stops. A lighted lantern is a good test for silo gas. If there isn't enough oxygen to keep the flame going there is not enough oxygen to breathe.

If someone becomes a victim of silo gas, quickly remove him into the fresh air and apply artificial respiration.

Don't follow wheat with wheat on the same land, cautions W. H. Waddell, in charge of wheat research at O.A.C. "Take-all" disease can severely reduce yields. Plant 2 or 3 years of non-susceptible crops such as corn, oats or forage. (Write Prof. Waddell, Field Husbandry Dept. for control materials for seed.)

Sand down rusty spots on harvesting machinery before storing, advises Don Clark of the Agricultural Engineering Department. Then, cover the spots with a rust inhibitor (sold by gasoline dealers), and paint. Don't expect aluminum paint to do the job of a rust inhibitor; it only acts as a surface for paint.

Have you replaced a small silo with a larger-diameter silo? If so, the small silo may be just the right size for storing wheat, corn, oats, or concentrates, suggests Dr. Stan Young of the O.A.C. Field Husbandry Department.

Keep pullets that have been moved to the laying pens from range on the same ration for at least 2 or 3 weeks after they are housed, or until production starts, warns E. C. Hunt, poultry extension specialist at O.A.C. Provide birds with as much green feed as they will eat each day, if possible, to offset the sudden change. Similar feed troughs and waterers will help pullets get accustomed to new surroundings, too.

Annual Meeting O.M.H.A.

The 27th Annual Meeting of the O.M.H.A. will be held at the King Edward Hotel in Toronto on Saturday, November 5th, 1960. Over 300 delegates will attend this meeting. Nominations and proposed amendments must be in the hands of the Secretary not later than Saturday, October 15th, 1960.

All Minor Hockey team affiliated with the O.M.H.A. will again be able to insure all their players.

This was announced by board president Hector Arnold. Main purpose of the move is to centralize board operations.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)
THIS MENTAL HEALTH KICK

When we turned on the TV last night, there was another of those boring dissertations on mental health.

My son said, "Dad, what's this mental health kick that's going on? That's all you hear these days!"

I told him his question was a good one and that it would take a book-length lecture to answer it; but in the meanwhile, an over-simplified but reasonably accurate answer would be that in the conflict between the Protestant ethic and the Freudian ethic, most of the talking is being done by the latter's supporters.

Bill looked blank. "What in the name of Mental Health is the Protestant ethic?" he asked.

"The Protestant ethic is the idea that man is endowed with free will and that each of us stands accountable for his acts before God. In other words, men of this kind are expected to be self-reliant and self-responsible — and, therefore, must be free. You can't hold an individual responsible for his acts unless he is free to choose his own way. For those who believe in the Protestant ethic, capitalism or free enterprise or competitive enterprise, whatever you call it, is the ideal system."

"I get it," said Bill, who has a couple of years' university under his belt. "Freud suggests that nobody is capable of facing the world and that we're all neurotics from the moment we're born. We can't fight it — we've got to adjust to it."

"Right," said I. "You put it well. And from the sound of that TV discussion, the idea of individual initiative, or the Protestant ethic, is getting another kick in the pants."

"Whose side are you on?"

"I'm for the Protestant ethic," I said, "and to the dickens with Freudian notions. They rob the individual of his dignity. If Freudians were honest enough to believe him right down the line, they'd go off in a corner and curl up their toes. It's a false doctrine of despair all through, for how can a neurotic citizenry build a safe society? They're licked before they start. They claim society owes everybody a living, but they forget that by their own witness, society is half nuts!"

"You don't sound as learned as my professors," said Bill, "but I think you've got something there. Freud sounded pretty good to me because he said I'm not to blame for anything — but I knew darn well there was a catch to it. I hope the Freudian ethic — or whatever you call it — gets that kick in the pants you were talking about."

And that, I think, is what most young men would say, if they had both sides of the story. The trouble is, those who are staging these big mental health sprees, never do give both sides of the story!

Europe is the smallest of the world's continents.

Brother of Mrs. Lee Grills Died Saturday

Stirling and district friends extend sympathy to Mrs. Lee Grills in the loss of her brother, Stanley Harold MacDonald, of Shannonville, who died Saturday morning in Belleville General Hospital. The late Mr. MacDonald was a retired General Merchant, and was in his 66th year.

He lived all his life in the Shannonville area and operated a general store there for 32 years. He retired June 29th, 1959.

Besides his wife, the former Olga Garrison, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lee (Bernice) Grills, of Belleville, and Mrs. Marjory Coyle, of Colborne, Ont.

Funeral services were held Monday.

The thing that goes the farthest Towards making life worthwhile, That's worth the most, that costs the least.

Is just a pleasant smile, 'Tis full of wealth and gladness, too, With many kindness bent, 'Tis worth a thousand dollars, And doesn't cost a cent.

67th Anniversary

Rylstone United Church

On Sunday evening the church was comfortably filled when former members and friends from nearby congregations gathered to celebrate the 67th anniversary of the church at Rylstone with the present congregation. The visiting minister was Rev. H. H. Lackey, of Warkworth, who chose as his text St. John, Chapter 14, verse 9, "Jesus Saith Unto Him, Have I Been So Long Time With You, and Yet Thou Not Knowest Me". Mr. Lackey pointed out that often valuable and interesting things are not appreciated by those who are most familiar with them. Special music was rendered by Bill Isaac, Warkworth, and Jack Chenoweth, Campbellford, who sang two lovely duets, "Fairest Lord Jesus" and "Follow Me", with organ accompaniment by Mrs. F. M. Rutherford, Campbellford, who had charge of the organ for the entire service, a post which she held for some time when she resided at Rylstone.

Mr. Harry Seymour, minister at Rylstone, introduced Mr. Lackey, the visiting musicians and expressed the thanks of the Rylstone congregation. The church was a bower of flowers from local gardens, to which Mr. Seymour also paid tribute. He also announced the ple social and entertainment to be held in the church on Friday evening, September 16th.

Large Crowd Enjoys Fine Exhibits And Programme At Stirling Fair

Exhibits Of Ladies' Work Big Feature — 4-H Clubs Hold Achievement Day

With ideal weather prevailing Stirling Fair attracted the largest crowd in its history on the occasion of its one hundred and second anniversary on Saturday last. "One of the best Fairs" was the common expression heard from the patrons and President Earl Wallace and the Board of Directors are to be complimented on the success attending their efforts.

Fair secretary, R. E. Shortt, said this year's attendance was among the highest for the annual autumn event.

Excellent Horse Show

There was an excellent horse show with both heavy and light classes being well filled as some of the best horse flesh in the Bay of Quinte was on exhibition.

In the light horse class, the following well-known exhibitors were noticed: James Johnson, of Frankford; Don Heath, of Campbellford; Earl Johnson, Geo. Sutherland and John Sheridan, Stirling; and N. Whytock, Madoc.

A heavy entry list in the heavy horse class with Earl Nugent, of Nanpance; Geo. Sutherland, Stirling; Don Heath, Campbellford; Murray Heath, Jim McCormick, Robert Danford, of Holloway; and Harold Johnson, of Stirling, having horses entered.

The pony class also received a good share of attention from exhibitors. Entrants included, C. C. Clarke, Kingston, N. Whytock, Madoc, and Carman Downey, of Crookston.

In the saddle horse class, V. Lange, M. MacMullen and Mrs. Ruth Brooks were also entrants.

The best lady driver was Mrs. John Sheridan, with Mrs. N. Whytock, second. John Sheridan won the best driving horse class, with Geo. Sutherland, second. He also won the best light horse class, with N. Whytock, second.

Sandra Day

The entries of C. C. Clarke, of Kingston, ridden and driven by Sandra Day, his 8-year-old niece, in the various pony classes, drew well merited applause from the appreciative crowd of spectators.

Exhibits In Main Building

The main exhibit building had its array of produce of garden and field, home cooking that made the mouth water, and handicraft ranging from large quilts to the smaller items of wearing apparel. The excellence of the farm and garden exhibits, as well as the fancy work, drew many fine compliments from the fair patrons.

Commercial exhibits in the main building included Jack's Appliance Shop, G. C. Mouck Hardware, C. Kilpatrick, Marmora, office equipment, and B. Farrell, local Necchi Dealer. A booth where the lady directors made pennants and crests, also did a good business.

The Trent-Moira 4-H Forestry Club also had an interesting exhibit of various species of tree twigs, leaves and seeds, in the main building.

Lady Directors To Be Congratulated

The Lady Directors of the Fair, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Percy Utman, are to be congratulated on the success of their portion of the Fair. They have worked tirelessly for the improvement of the floral, needlework, school, and domestic science sections, many congratulatory remarks were heard about the quality and the well displayed exhibits.

Two demonstrations were arranged this year — Mrs. Munby brought a splendid display of seed work, showing what can be done to make pictures and pieces of jewellery from the lowly seed.

Mrs. Harold West, with her assistant, Mrs. Ed. Richardson made school crests from felt. These found a ready market with the school children.

For the first time the lady directors set up a non-competitive display of their handicraft. Each director contributed one article which was later sold.

Since the organization of the lady directors, about two years ago, a great deal has been accomplished in the way of improving the local Fair. Domestic Science

The Domestic Science exhibit featured a delectable assortment of pies, cakes, cookies, tarts, bread and buns, and other examples of home baking art; also bottled goods, eggs, and boxed lunches.

Colorful Display

The Stirling Horticultural Society provided a colourful display of summer blooms and plants, attractively arranged in separate groups.

Products of farm and garden including a variety of fruits, vegetables, grains and seeds, were also on display.

Ladies' Work

The ladies' work section was by far the largest exhibit, with the domestic science section running second in number of individual items.

Lovely examples of clever and imaginative needlecraft were on display. Included in this division were ladies', men's and children's wear, a thrift division, and home craft section, featuring quilts, rugs, cushions, crocheted table cloths, dollies, embroidered and cutwork pillow cases, apron and towel sets, stuffed animals and pictures.

A public address system, set up on the grounds and operated by F. DeCarroll, Campbellford, gave splendid service and carried the announcements of events to all parts of the grounds.

Cheese Show

There was a large commercial cheese exhibit with district makers entering a total of close to fifty cheeses, including Stiltons and square cheese.

Harold Elliott, of Foxboro, carried off top honours, with other entrants being Don Pollock, Ivan Sine, E. Reid, T. Searles, Ross Lain, D. Rowe, J. Gray and Claude Reid.

School Section

It was in the agricultural building that the work of the junior department stood out. There were many fine exhibits of weeds, insects, vegetables and flowers. In addition there were the regular public school classes in drawing, writing and other school work. This exhibit attracted a great deal of attention and doubtless will continue to be a regular feature of the fair.

Good Midway

The midway attractions by Allan Shows were well patronized during the afternoon.

A Bingo game by the lady directors and a Boy Scout Booth, as well as the dinner and luncheon by Wellman's United Church were well patronized.

4-H Clubs

Achievement Day

A big feature of the fair was the part taken by Stirling district Junior Farmers and 4-H Club members.

Under the direction of its club leader, Douglas Dettlor, the Stirling 4-H Calf Club held its achievement day with an almost 100 per cent competition by club members.

Thirty-two club members turned out for the fall fair with their calves with Ronald Heath winning the overall club event. Joseph Hagerman was the club's top showman for the day. Ann Sutherland showed the best calf.

Stirling-Rawdon Area Board Met

Routine matters occupied the time of the members of Stirling-Rawdon High School Board at the regular monthly meeting held in the High School on Monday night. D. W. Rodgers presided and was supported by Mrs. R. L. Hutton, J. B. Belshaw, R. B. Murray, E. Colden and James Johnston.

Principal John L. Good gave a report on the examination results in June last and outlined the work of the members of the staff for the coming year.

W. C. Farmer, shop teacher, reported one of his classes was unwieldy in numbers and suggested an outside project such as the erection of a garage to ease the situation. When completed, the building could be sold. Members of the board were favourable to the suggestion and Mr. Farmer was given authority to proceed with the project.

Chairman D. Rodgers reported a delay in the processing of debentures for the school addition due to some minor clerical changes required. He had discussed the matter with town officials and every effort was being made to expedite their issuance.

Following a lengthy discussion on routine matters and the passing of various accounts, the meeting adjourned.

Decorative Lighting For Christmas Season Discussed By C of C

Public Utilities Commission To Offer Prizes Totaling $100 For Best Lighting

Decorative Lighting for the coming Christmas season was the subject of a lengthy discussion at the monthly meeting of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday night. Geo. Lyons, president, was in the chair and E. Burrell filled the duties of secretary.

A committee, composed of President Lyons, R. B. Bell and L. Rawlings, was given authority to investigate the cost of assembling strings of coloured lights, the number already on hand and the approximate cost of power. If the costs fall within the price range agreed on by the Chamber, the committee is empowered to proceed with the project. It is planned to string the lights across Front St. from Emma to North and across Mill St. from North to James streets.

The payment of the various accounts was authorized on motion of Messrs. J. B. Belshaw and W. J. Morton.

A letter was tabled from the Stirling Public Utilities Commission offering prizes totalling $100 for residential and commercial decorative lighting at Christmas.

A petty cash fund was established for use of the secretary to cover mailing costs, etc.

Several suggestions placed in the C. of C. Suggestion Box at the Fair were tabled by the secretary.

The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the chair.

To Tell Of Trip To Africa At Mount Pleasant

You are cordially invited to Mount Pleasant Church on Sunday evening, November 20th, at 8 p.m., to hear Mr. Harvey Putman, of R.R. 6, Belleville, tell of his thrilling experiences in Africa from June 25th to September 1st, of this year. Mr. Putman was one of twelve Canadians chosen from some forty applicants for operation "Cross Roads — Africa". He became interested in the project after hearing Dr. Robinson address the United Church Board of Men, at Keswick, Ont.

Mr. Putman will bring moving pictures and will have much of interest to tell and see. Young and old, whoever you are, come, see and hear Mr. Putman on November 20th.

Kitchen Shower For Bride-To-Be

Last Thursday evening, Miss Janet Anne Good was the guest of honour at a surprise kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. R. A. Patterson, Front St. Mrs. R. E. Fox and Mrs. D. Sine were joint hostesses.

The bride-to-be was given a seat amid streamers and pastel umbrellas. The evening was spent in contests and designing and making gowns for a doll bridal party.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the bride-to-be and in a few well-chosen words, Janet Anne voiced her thanks for the lovely gifts.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses and brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Speaker At Rotary Club

Doug. Consul, a diesel expert, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of Stirling Rotary Club on Tuesday night.

Mr. Consul showed slides and gave an interesting talk on the DEW line. He was introduced by his father-in-law, Geo. Lyons, and the thanks of the Club were expressed by Rotarian Les Rawlings.

Elected Worthy Grand Matron O.E.S.

At the 45th annual sessions of the Grand Chapter of Ontario, Order of the Eastern Star, held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, this week, Mrs. W. T. Elliott, of Stirling, was elected to the office of Worthy Grand Matron for 1960-61. Mrs. H. Munby, of Springbrook, has been appointed Grand Martha. Installation ceremonies will take place Friday night.

Loses Brother In Plane Crash

Stirling and district residents extend sympathy to Mr. D. Robson, Edward St., in the loss of his brother, Pilot Officer Peter Robson, of Belleville, who was killed Monday in a jet trainer crash near Baldr, Man. He was stationed at the RCAF base at Portage La Prairie, Man. His instructor F.O. D. Rea, 28, of Whitby, is missing.

The young officer was born in Belleville 21 year ago, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Robson, R.R. 3, Belleville and resided in that community all his life. He attended the Belleville Collegiate Institute and graduated with high marks. Choosing the Air Force as a career, he entered Rhodes Military College at Victoria, B.C., and was a student for two years, later moving to Royal Military College at Kingston, where he graduated last May with a B.A. degree and then was assigned to the Portage La Prairie base for jet aircraft.

He is survived by his wife, the former Suzanne Anderson, of Victoria, B.C., a bride of 15 days; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Robson, of Belleville; two brothers, Douglas, of Stirling, and Donald, of Madoc, and one sister, Miss Judy Robson, also at home.

Boy Scout Paper Drive

On Saturday next, Stirling Boy Scouts will make a waste paper collection in the Village. Citizens are urged to support the Scouts and have their waste paper on their verandahs or at the curb early in the morning. Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated by the boys and their leaders.

In Hospital

Friends of Mrs. Russell Rupert will regret to learn that she is a patient in Belleville General Hospital. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Heard On CJBQ

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Stirling R.R. 3, Public Relations Officer of West Hastings District Women's Institute, was heard over CJBQ radio station, Belleville, on Tuesday at 12.45 p.m. She outlined the various projects completed by the Institutes in West Hastings and offered several suggestions for the promotion of public relations.

Transferred

Miss Jean Sine, who has been a member of the local Bank of Montreal staff for the past three years, has been transferred to a New Toronto branch. Prior to her departure, she was presented with a travel alarm clock by members of the local staff.

Legion Members And Hockey Fans 'Shun'

The Stirling Legion have planned to replace the old boards in the Legion Arena. Work parties have been called for Wednesday evenings. All interested members, hockey fans and skating enthusiasts are asked to assist in this project to put the Arena in better condition for the children of this community. First work party on Wednesday, September 28th, and every Wednesday thereafter until the job is completed.

Please bring your own tools, if available.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald E. Coombes, R.R. 3, Frankford, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Veva, to Mr. Charles Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis, of Tweed. The wedding will take place on October 8th, 1960, at St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, at 11 a.m.

St. Paul's Woman's Missionary Auxiliary

The September meeting of St. Paul's Woman's Missionary Auxiliary opened with quiet music played by Mrs. R. Stapley, followed by a poem, "Where Did The Summer Go?", by Mrs. Packman.

The worship service was in charge of Mrs. David, assisted by Mrs. E. Lavery, who read the Scripture Lesson, John 5: 1-17, and Mrs. Ayhart, who offered prayer.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen was present to introduce the new study book, "Turning World", and to bring a few highlights from the executive meeting held at Ivanhoe September 3th. The main news item was the changing of time of the Fall Rallies from October to November. Thanks to Mrs. MacMullen was expressed by Mrs. H. C. Martin.

Prayer for our missionaries was offered by Mrs. S. Williams.

Mrs. Richardson gave an excellent talk entitled "Mountain-top experiences."

Plans were made for a Union meeting at St. Paul's on the afternoon of September 27th when ladies of Anglican, Presbyterian and Eggleton United churches and the River Valley Study Group are invited to come to an informal gathering for devotion and social discussion to promote unity and Christian fellowship.

A social half hour with refreshments served by Mrs. Lansing and her group was enjoyed.

Mrs. Brooks voiced the thanks of the meeting to those in charge.

St. Mark's W.A.

The regular meeting of St. Mark's W.A. was held in the Church Hall on Thursday, September 8th.

The meeting opened by singing the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers", followed by the Litany and Prayers taken by Mr. Fleming.

The Bible reading, taken from the 12th Chapter of 1st Corinthians was read by Mrs. E. Heath.

Owing to the number of visitors present from Marmora, St. Thomas W.A. and Springbrook Woman's Association, the business was dispensed with, excepting a letter from Mrs. Mitchell, the Diocesan President, who regretted not being able to be present.

A programme followed, with all branches contributing, as follows:

A piano solo, "In the Garden of Tomorrow", by Mrs. Ralph Wellman; reading, "A Sermon in Rhyme", Mrs. Lindsay Tanner; solo, "O Lord Rebuke Me", Mrs. Fleming.

At this point, the guest speaker, Mrs. O. Krafka, Deanery President, was introduced by the president, Mrs. H. Jones. Mrs. O'Krafka spoke on the Five Aims of the W.A. and Understanding One Another.

A reading was given by Mrs. M. Mason, "Ploughwork"; solo, Mrs. Colleen, "The Lord's My Shepherd"; reading, Mrs. Hewitt, "The Faithful Few"; reading, Mrs. J. Wellman, "Song of the Farm".

Mrs. W. J. Barlow very capably thanked all who had in any way helped with the programme and Mrs. O'Krafka for her interesting talk.

Mr. Fleming closed with prayers and the ladies served a delicious lunch and a social hour was spent.

UNICEF Children Of The World Art Exhibit

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, lends a helping hand to youngsters in 106 different countries, areas and remote islands. Helping in this effort are Canadian youngsters; they support it with the pennies garnered from the annual Halloween Shell out. But this children's crusade — by children and for children — is more than a fund raising project. As well, it tries to acquaint all children with one another no matter in what country they live.

To dramatize this educational effort the Ontario Committee for UNICEF has arranged an international children's art exhibit to be shown in Toronto from September 21st to October 1st. Theme chosen was THE LAND IN WHICH I LIVE. Foreign countries, working through their schools, were asked to send at least six drawings, sketches or paintings done by children around the age of 12.

Youngsters from 50 countries have put on paper their familiar surroundings which are far from conventional. Alan Jarvis, the Art Advisor to this project, says, "The vitality of the work is astonishing."

UNICEF, Children-of-the-World Art Exhibit will be shown at Eaton Auditorium, College Street, Toronto, from September 21st to October 1st. Guided tours will be conducted from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Special tours have been arranged for groups of school children so they may view the world as seen by the young in heart.

FIRST TIME OFFERED . . .

Swift's Premium
ProTen Tendered Beef

is tendered by an exclusive Canadian patented process No. 578457. This is a new scientific process that develops the natural tenderness of Swift's Premium Beef. Now you can oven-roast chuck and rump roasts and broil chuck and rump steaks in the way formerly recommended for only rib, sirloin, and porterhouse cuts of beef.

Time saver, too! Swift's Premium Proten Tendered Beef, when pot roasted as usual, takes 15 to 30 minutes less time than is required for non-tendered beef.

Does Swift's Premium Proten Tendered Beef have the same appearance as other fine beef? Yes.

Does Swift's Premium Proten Tendered Beef have the same full flavour of other fine beef? Yes, with added tenderness.

Can Swift's Premium Proten Tendered Beef be used in your favourite beef recipes? Yes.

Can Swift's Premium Proten Tendered Beef be served rare, medium, or well done? Yes.

Calf Stolen From Local Farmer

Two Belleville area teen-aged youths, Francis O'Neill and D. R. Stapley, have been taken into custody by provincial police and are charged with the theft of calves, owned by Rawdon township district farmers.

Provincial Police at Madoc said the calves, owned by John Lanigan, of R.R. 2, Stirling, and Clarence Wright, R.R. 3, Campbellford, were stolen from pasture fields and then taken to the Hoard's Station sales barn for sale Monday night.

The theft was first discovered by Mr. Wright, who found his calf at the sales barn and notified police.

The O'Neill youth returned to the sales barn to pick up the money from the sale of the two calves only to be taken into custody by waiting provincial police officers. It was then discovered that the other calf had been stolen from Mr. Lanigan.

Canada's Armed Forces

TODAY —
AND 15 YEARS AGO

J. A. MORRIS
Editor, Prescott Journal writes from EUROPE AND THE UNITED KINGDOM

SOEST, West Germany — This week we want to tell you about a Canadian Army man and his wife and family and how they live in this area of Western Germany so many miles from home and in a strange country, with strange people and language.

Through the good offices of the acting commanding officer, Major William Mulhern, 1st Battalion, Canadian Guards, we met Corporal J. G. Hamilton, of Ottawa, and we visited his wife, Maureen, and their four children in the spick and span apartment at the Permanent Married Quarters (the PMQ, as it is known).

The Hamiltons have a three-bedroom apartment in the six apartment flat, with kitchen, bathroom, dining room and living room. A balcony from the second-storey apartment looks over the play area about which this group of apartments is built.

The Army provides all the essentials, including electric range and refrigerator — and the only things the families have to bring over are sheets and pillowcases, knickknacks and radios. Their rent, paid through the special allowance, equals about $33 a month, including heat and services.

Mrs. Hamilton said she is happy with the accommodation, she finds the furniture serviceable and sturdy, and, even, though a transformer has to be used for Canadian electrical appliances, the Army appliances are all built for German voltage.

The Hamiltons are a typical family we discovered, living in the PMQs. They have four children, Stephen, 6, Kathleen (a real ball of fire) 3; Peter, 2, and John, 4 months.

Stephen attends the elementary school at the "overflow" school at Fort Chambly, going on the school bus. They attend church at Fort York, where Roman Catholic and Protestant Chapels look after the spiritual needs of the soldiers and their families. Each of the "forts" has its chapels.

Mrs. Hamilton shops at the MLS store, just around the corner in the PMQ area, where she can buy Canadian-type foods at prices comparable to those back home.

"For six marks (about $1.40) we can fill the trunk of our car with vegetables at the Soest market", Mrs. Hamilton said.

Do they have enough entertainment and social life? The big problem, said the Hamiltons, is to find enough nights in the week. Mrs. Hamilton is a Bingo fan, and attends the Bingos run by the Community Council and the Red Patch Club. They go to movies at the forts, there is entertainment in the Army messes and a dance once a month. Also, they can attend the British Army shows at Lepstadt and Iserlohn. Periodically, throughout the summer, regimental bands give concerts in the three community areas.

Like the hundreds of other Canadian families in the Brigade area, the Hamiltons are enjoying their experience. They haven't been able to travel as much as other families, as they have four small children, but they have been to Holland since coming over last Fall, and they have plans to use future leave periods in seeing more of Europe from their Volkswagen.

They'll be happy, no doubt, to return home at the end of three years to see their families and friends, but in the meantime they're making the most of their opportunity.

Next week we'll tell you about a family unable to obtain quarters in the PMQ, and who are living in accommodation rented from a German family.

W.M.S. Presbyterian Executive Plans Fall Rallies

Beulah United Church ladies were hostesses to the Belleville Presbyterian Executive of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church on Friday, September 9th, when they met at Ivanhoe. Mrs. Clarence Holmes, of Belleville, presided. Mrs. Lincoln Elliott, of Tweed, who is the Vice President of Conference Branch, led in the opening devotional, taking as her theme, "Into All The World Together" and using the 2nd chapter of Ephesians as illustrations. She mentioned the many dividing walls which we, as Christians, must break down. Hymn 139, "Thy Kingdom Come", was sung.

Mrs. R. G. Coulter, treasurer, gave the financial report, stating there had been an increase sent to the Branch, but that there was still a large sum yet to come up to the allocation for this year and still have some left over for Gifts for Building Advance.

Mrs. Holmes welcomed and introduced the new officers as follows:

Mrs. C. C. Atton, Tweed, Secretary; Mrs. S. Hughes, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Don Williams, Belleville, Secretary for Explorer Groups; Mrs. Garnet May, Belleville, Supply Secretary; Mrs. F. Davidson, President, Belleville Presbyterian W.A.

The Fall Rallies were decided upon as November 3rd at Madoc; November 4th at Napanee; November 7th Belleville East; November 8th Belleville West; and Prince Edward Section November 9th. Dominion Board are sending Miss Eileen Ratz, B.R.E., who has been a port worker for 13 years and Miss Miranda Brown, B.R.E., who has worked at Church of All Nations, Toronto, and in the west, to come as a team to speak at the rallies.

Mrs. Holmes introduced Miss Elsie Hunt, a W.M.S. worker, from Burns Lake, British Columbia. Miss Hunt went from White's Church, Bayside, and this Presbyterian, and is therefore well-known in this district. She is presently Hospital Administrator at the W.M.S. Hospital at Burns Lake which is 700 miles northwest of Vancouver between Prince Rupert and Prince George. There is a population of 1200 there but the hospital serves some 6000 people throughout the bush country of B.C. They have just completed a new hospital with 36 beds but can be expanded to 50 beds when necessary. The new hospital has been built by the government but is under W.M.S. supervision and run by Miss Hunt. The W.M.S. gave the old building and $60,000 towards building the new one. The Women's Missionary Society originally built the hospital and went into the country to fill the need when no other agency would. Miss Hunt had been in medical work in the west since 1937. Mrs. Gerald Stoneburg thanked Miss Hunt on behalf of the ladies for her most informative talk.

Mrs. Holmes closed the meeting, quoting from Job 2, verse 32, "Who so ever shall call on the name of the Lord, He shall be delivered".

The noon lunch was prepared and served by the ladies of Beulah United Church. Mrs. Davidson spoke during this time and expressed the thought that both the W.M.S. and W.A. will soon be one organization and that all will co-operate as fully as they do now.

Special Meeting Of O.F.A. and O.F.U.

General agreement was voiced on the increasing need for farmer unity, at a special summit meeting between Ontario's two general farm organizations. This meeting was held September 6th in Toronto with all executive members of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and the Ontario Farmers' Union in attendance.

The meeting was called primarily to explore jointly how general farm organizations could best serve Ontario farmers, and to discuss common goals of the O.F.U. and O.F.A.

Agreement was also reached on the duplication of effort by the two organizations in certain areas. A third point of agreement was that farm women have a role to play in general farm organizations.

The discussion covered the possibility of the O.F.A. and O.F.U. presenting joint briefs in the future on subjects of mutual interest and agreement. The organization and financial structure of each of the organizations came under scrutiny also in the talks.

The September 6th meeting of executives of the two organizations is significant because it is the first time the two groups have come together to jointly examine the ills of agriculture and to discuss what might be done to provide unified assistance to Ontario farmers. Although there is no suggestion of merger of the two organizations, another similar meeting was requested for the future, with no date set as yet.

Safety Tips From Fire Department

Make sure that all ash trays hold cigarettes so that they cannot fall to the floor and start a fire.

Make sure that there are a few fire extinguishers in the home, and that they are charged and ready for use at all times.

Have the furnace and the chimney checked for leaks and clogging at least once a year.

Keep all gasoline and kerosene outside the home, stored in strong metal containers, tightly closed.

Keep all trash picked up in adjacent vacant lots and keep weeds and grass cut.

Keep a first-aid kit in the house and learn what the contents will treat.

Keep all household medicines and chemicals out of the reach of children as well as guns, matches and any ammunition.

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

In a recent book named "Wayleski" by Peter Fraenkel, which tells the absorbing story of the early days of the Central African Broadcasting Service, a quotation from a letter sent by an African listener sums up the effect of this broadcasting to Africans in the words: "My radio brings the whole world to my hut." The heat rising from a million little hut fires has combined to create the thunder storms of change which the political weather prophets of the West only recognized when they are breaking overhead.

To quote the author of the striking phrase above we hear him say, "I hear some important events happening in Europe — I listen to talks on agriculture, veterinary and English. The reading of the Bible is not excluded — I feel proud when I switch on my Sapean Special, and have the whole world in my hut."

By the miracle of electronics the Word of God is brought to the ears and often to the hearts of millions of Africans by the services of the Cen-

CANNING TOMATOES

Tomatoes contain a natural acid which makes them quite easy to can, according to the Information Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. For flavour and keeping quality, tomatoes selected for canning should be uniformly ripened and firm. All bruised or decayed spots must be carefully removed. Any piece of decayed or soured spot which finds its way into the jar will cause spoilage later on.

Wash tomatoes well before removing the peel. Plunge them into boiling water for about half a minute, dip into cold water, remove peel and all of the hard green core. Tomatoes may be canned whole or in quarters. Whole tomatoes are packed into clean jars as soon as the peel is removed, filling to within just half an inch of the top of the jar. Make a good solid pack, as the tomatoes will shrink when the heat of processing is applied. If desired, two teaspoons of salt and sugar mixed may be added to each quart jar. Fill the jars to within half an inch of the top with tomato juice. Adjust the jar top. If tomatoes are quartered before packing, tomato juice will not be required. Pack quartered tomatoes very solidly in the jar, pressing them down firmly enough so they make their own juice. Fill jars to within half an inch of the top, adjust jar cap and process.

The boiling water bath is the most generally used processing method for tomatoes.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

SOME PHILOSOPHY

Can scarcely wait to pass this tip along to you readers. It is something I have known for a long time, but last night, at a party, I had it confirmed by a professor of psychology. Keep reading, because this little hint is worth its weight in gold to you and your folks.

A lady had remarked, in the party small talk, that she had a friend who was always a delight to be with because he knows every inch of his city and all the history back of it, and is forever surprising you with new information.

I piped up to tell about a farmer, near Pilot Mound, who is a walking encyclopedia as far as his own district is concerned. Knows every creek or river. "Most interesting man you ever met," I said.

At this point, the professor said, "You know, I haven't met either of these men. Yet I can tell you something about them, just as certainly as if I'd known them all my life."

I guess we all looked a little doubtful. Anyhow, the professor turned to me. "Your farmer at Pilot Mound — he's well-to-do, a steady type of chap, never flustered, and he improves his position every year. His fields are weed-free, his buildings above average, and he is known for his common sense. He doesn't fall for every new fad, yet he doesn't resist progress. Right?"

"Dead right," I agreed, "you must have been reading his mail."

The professor smiled and began to tell the lady next to me the style and dimension of her friend until she cried, "That's enough — you must have known him."

"No," said the professor, "but there are certain qualities in people who know their city or district inch by inch. These are men or women who have made contact with their environment. In some, it comes naturally. In others, it is acquired. It is either a mark of character, or it builds character, or — as most of us think — both at the one time! It's health in every way to make complete contact in your environment. Improves you in countless ways. You ought to try it. Now, take this street we're on . . ."

You know, he's right. I am sure of it. I have seen enough of that sureness-of-foot-and-thought in men like my farmer friend to be convinced. When I moved to Manitoba some years ago, I bought a couple of books on the history of the province and a few travel books, too. Did me a lot of good. I still get lost once in a while, but I'm not the dunderhead I used to be. Guess maybe I am making contact with my environment.

Why don't you try it. Now — take that house you live in . . . !

SCHOOL TEACHERS

are undeniably saddled with plenty related to their rightful duties and responsibilities . . . without the supernumary, and mostly thankless, concern for the VISUAL capacities of their charges. That concern is tied to the parents!

Based on the findings of present-day authorities, we learn that:—

"EIGHTY per cent of learning is SEEING; FORTY per cent of school children require the professional care of the Vision Specialist".

M.P.'S TO PROBE WHY IMPLEMENTS GO UP

A Commons committee that will inquire into prices of farm equipment—and the reasons for their rise—was launched with indications that M.P.'s have plenty to discuss.

Annual price boosts, frequent model changes, difficulties of getting repairs and what one M.P. called "the hidden relationships" behind equipment prices were among issues raised as the agriculture committee began its study.

The committee won't start calling witnesses until next session.

A main issue is the farm complaint that rising prices of farm machinery have outstripped the increase in the price of farm produce. The price index of farm machinery rose 11 per cent from 1957 to 1959 while that of farm products advanced three per cent.

Elmer Forbes (P.C.-Dauphin) said the committee will want to find out why farm machinery prices have risen almost 100 per cent in the last 10 years.

"Is there a combine existing between manufacturers in regard to prices?" he asked. Tractor prices were "pretty much the same" regardless of the manufacturer.

Committee members could not agree on whether to call individual farmers as witnesses. It was decided to draft a questionnaire which committee members could distribute to farmers when they return to their constituencies later this summer.

AGRICULTURE SEEKS ACCESS INTO COMMON MARKET

The chief Canadian delegate to the fifth world tariff conference called recently for "reasonable" access into Common Market countries for Canadian agricultural products.

H. B. McKinnon said agricultural trade was of particular concern to Canada because it represented more than 40 per cent of Canadian exports to Common Market member states.

After an opening meeting, representatives of nearly 50 countries went into closed session for talks and negotiations scheduled to last until next June 30th.

The American delegation also was expected to press hard for reductions in the proposed common tariff of the six-country Common market and individual tariffs of the seven-country European Free Trade Association.

Preliminary discussions until Dec. 31st will centre around the need for Common market countries to compensate others for raising a large number of tariffs bound by existing agreements.

The second part of the conference will be concerned with a general round of tariff reduction negotiations by all members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

McKinnon told the conference the Canadian government believed it was important that a "satisfactory settlement" provide "reasonable and known terms of access to the community for agricultural products."

ONE-THIRD OF CONSUMER DOLLAR GOES TO FARMER

The need to achieve maximum production out of a given amount of land and machinery is necessary for farmers to keep abreast of modern methods and techniques.

That was the advice by E. L. Woodley, director of the Western Ontario Agricultural School, Ridgeway, at a luncheon talk recently at Sarnia, Rotary Club. He stressed the need of greater attention to marketing procedures, if the farmer is to benefit from his own initiative.

Mr. Woodley said that, although most city consumers may not believe it, the average Canadian farmer gets only one-third of the money paid by consumers for farm produce.

Marketing is Key
Efficient marketing organization, he said, was the key to increasing the farmer's share of the consumer's dollar.

The last 15 years since the end of the Second World War, have seen tremendous advances in agriculture, especially in production, Mr. Woodley said. Production has increased 2½ times in that period he said.

Three types of assistance are offered to farmers at Ridgeway, agricultural school. It operates an 80-acre experimental farm to improve the status of agriculture through increased production. Second — it attempted to bring the results of this research to the farmers through the agriculture department's extension service. Third — it has for nine years offered to young farmers an intensive two-year course in the most modern farming methods.

SEES EFFICIENT USE OF LAND ON FAMILY FARM

The family farm makes a major contribution to the cause of conservation, immediate past president Elmer L. Sauer, of Urbana, Ill., asserted at the convention of the Soil Conservation Society of America, at Ontario Agricultural College recently.

Mr. Sauer saw a moral obligation to preserve and advance "the material and moral contributions which family unit farming systems have given to our democracy."

The increasing tendency to largeness, including factory-type farms and the squeezing out of family farm and ranches, create problems with which all must concern themselves.

For the most part, use of land resources is most efficient under the family farm system, where there is a personal interest in the land. Part of the current U.S. surplus of corn, wheat, and cotton was due to soil mining, overcropping and improper land use and rotation, Mr. Sauer said.

To achieve maximum income, a farm family must have adequate land and other capital resources, possess a reasonably good knowledge of its farming alternatives and have faith in ability.

STOP TULIP BLIGHT IN THE FALL

"Never say die" is one motto that could apply to that fungus disease, tulip blight, because it seems that this pesky garden foe over-winters right in your tulip beds or diseased bulbs. That's why it pays to fight the thing in the fall.

Tulip blight is also called botrytis blight of tulips or tulip fire. The first signs are tiny dark flecks on the bulb scales. Later these flecks run together, giving a burnt appearance. The margins may become raised, while the diseased areas are yellow or brown in colour. Badly infected bulbs won't give you any plants next spring and tulips that do open will be stunted and blighted.

Infected flowers have small whitish or light tan spots on the petals. These spots also merge to form brown areas. Some buds may become blighted before opening.

Leaves become speckled and water-soaked in appearance. Stems may fall over in some cases.

Botanists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture suggest this planting plan for the fall. Choose an open, sunny site with good circulation for the bulbs, since there will be less blight if the tops can dry quickly after rains and dew. Plant disease-free bulbs, first removing the dry outer scales and examining the bulbs. Discard any that show disease symptoms. Don't plant in beds that showed disease the year before. Count on two years before the bed is free of disease. Sterilize infested beds if tulips must be planted there, using this system. Dig the bed with a fork, making sure that the soil is loose to a depth of 6 inches. Water the bed with a solution consisting of 1 gallon commercial formalin (37 per cent formaldehyde) per 40 gallons of water. Apply half to 1 gallon of solution for very square foot of bed. Cover the bed with a tarpaulin or several thicknesses of wet newspaper for at least 2 days. Then re-dig the soil to allow for the escape of the formalin fumes. This may take about 10 days. Do not use this treatment in perennial borders, or where the chemical may damage the roots of adjacent shrubs. Avoid getting formalin on the skin and try not to breathe the fumes; it can be quite irritating to the eyes, nose and skin.

Essential for Canadian economic growth is increased saving by Canadians so that there can be investment which results in new productivity, new wealth in goods and services.

Timely Tips

It won't be long before seed salesmen will be around selling their latest corn hybrids. Look at this year's corn now and see how your silage hybrids are making out, suggests Dr. Stan Young of the O.A.C. Field Husbandry Department. Seventy per cent of the feed value in a mature plant is in the ear. Make sure your hybrid is one that will mature by silo filling time. If not, it might pay to pick another. One test of maturity is breaking the ear in half. Look at the kernels on the top half — this lets you see the smooth side of the kernel opposite the germ. The part of the cob farthest from the kernel fills with starch. If the corn isn't mature, the part of the kernel nearest the cob will show a lighter, milky starch.

Always apply belt dressing to the side of the belt going away from you and watch for lacing or fasteners that might throw the dressing stick, warns Bill Ridgeway, assistant farm safety specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Start a cold or frozen belt slowly and with a constant tension. This will prevent cracks and breaks and prolong belt life.

Buckthorn and barberry stumps sprouting? Spray them with a mixture of 1 quart of brush killer to 5 gallons of cheap fuel oil, suggests botanists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Tree growth usually starts around the outer edge, especially from the bark. Spray this solution until the bark is saturated and the liquid starts to run off. Be sure there's complete coverage all the way around the stump. One caution: it's best that the bark be dry when you spray. If water is present the treatment might be imperfect.

CONSERVATION NEWS

FIRE PROTECTION

and Forests has established one of the best systems known for preventing, detecting and controlling forest fires. Much information is still lacking, however, in the behaviour of fires under varying conditions of temperature, humidity, topography and forest type. To gather this vital data, the Federal Forest Research Division assisted by Ontario Research Branch and the Tweed District staff will study fires under controlled conditions on three different sites in the Tweed District.

These sites, three of several suggested, were chosen only after all agreed that from them the desired information could be obtained and that there was no doubt of controlling fires on these areas. On two sites the species composition is the same—a stand of poplar, white birch and maple over balsam fir—but Site 2 has considerably more blowdown than Site 1. Site 3 has similar stand conditions to Site 1 but different species composition in the overstory — mostly balsam fir. Thus, if it is possible to burn the three sites under the same conditions of temperature, humidity and wind, some relationships might be established between burn behaviour, species composition and stand conditions.

Prior to the burn the following will be done: where the areas are not presently bounded by a permanent road, rock outcrop or waterway, a bulldozed fire line will be established; weather records will be taken for two weeks on each site; a detailed topographic map will be made for each area; records of species found on the areas will be taken.

Just before the fire is set, men and hoses will be placed around the area. During the fire all necessary records, such as wind velocity, wind direction, humidity, rate of spread, etc., will be taken.

Past burn information will include the record of damage to the regeneration and the stand and observation of the areas probably continuing for more than one year.

The ultimate aim of this program is to recognize and map fuel types to facilitate the work of the field staff. This is a long range objective and will not be reached until the study has included fire in all major fuel types throughout Ontario under varying conditions of topography and weather.

Medallion Electric Homes built with your dreams in mind

To be able to Live Better Electrically is all-important to modern families.

Recognizing this, the electrical industry has established a standard which will guarantee the excellence of a home's electrical system. A home that features the better installations and facilities that meet this standard is awarded the Medallion Symbol.

When you buy a home built to Medallion electric standards—you are assured of extra comfort, convenience and efficiency in these three important ways... all of which help to protect your investment.

1. FULL HOUSEPOWER—with plenty of circuits, outlets and switches.
2. PLANNED LIGHTING—a new high standard of lighting for all areas.
3. APPLIANCE CONDITIONING—at least one major unit is already installed plus wiring to accommodate additional major appliances.

You can modernize your present home to Medallion standards

All progressive builders and electrical contractors recommend and will install electrical systems that qualify for Medallion certification.

Community Fetes Newly-Weds

The River Valley community and neighbours tendered Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McCrory (nee Joyce Harry) who were recently married, a presentation party recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harry, R.R. 3, Stirling.

Mrs. Allan McDonnell presided over the programme and extended best wishes for future happiness to the newlyweds. Mrs. Percy Utman led in the sing song of popular tunes.

Selections were read by Miss Cheryl Utman, Mrs. Roy Bush, Mrs. Ernest Carr, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. Jack Bush, Mrs. Harry Vandervoort, Mrs. Glenn Bush and Robert Vandervoort.

The newlyweds were given seats of honour and Miss Marilyn Conley read an appropriate address, referring to the days when Joyce was a member of River Valley 4-H Girls' Club.

Messrs. Allan McDonnell and Ralph Utman made the presentation of two upholstered occasional chairs.

The recipients expressed their thanks and invited everyone to visit them when they are settled in their new home.

A surprise feature was when the group sang, "Happy Anniversary" for Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush, who were celebrating their wedding anniversary that day.

The committee in charge served refreshments and all enjoyed a social half hour.

STIRLING HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

The bus going to the Rose Show at Casa Loma, Toronto, will leave the Community Hall, Stirling, at 7 a.m., sharp, October 3rd.

St. John's Evening Guild

St. John's Evening Guild met at the home of Mrs. Bosiak for their September meeting with 14 members answering the roll. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report given.

It was decided that the Guild meetings would be held on the first Monday night of each month.

Mrs. Green expressed the need for more women to work with the Altar Guild.

Tuesday, September 27th, is World Day of Prayer to be held in St. Paul's United Church and Mrs. Noble asked the Guild members to keep this date in mind.

The president asked that all who have flowers, fruit or vegetables to beautify the Church for Harvest Thanksgiving Sunday, September 25, to please leave them in the Parish Hall by noon on Saturday.

The meeting was closed with the members repeating the Guild prayer. Mrs. Mouck gave two interesting readings, after which dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Carr thanked the hostess, Mrs. Bosiak, and co-hostesses Mrs. Mouck and Mrs. Holt.

Doris Dunham Given Shower

Mrs. Clifford Clancy, of Wellman's opened her home on Wednesday, September 21st, to a large number of ladies who gathered to honour Miss Doris Dunham, bride-to-be. Mrs. Ruth McIntosh, Mrs. Muriel McIntosh and Mrs. Pat Merrill, acted as co-hostesses.

After Doris was seated in the chair of honour, tastefully decorated with streamers and bells, she and her mother were presented with coronets.

Ruth McIntosh acted as mistress of ceremonies for a short and varied programme, which opened with a sing song, led by Mrs. Clancy. Mrs. Bernice Seeley gave a reading and Mrs. Will Jeffs favoured with a musical number. Pat Merrill and Ruth McIntosh led two enjoyable contests. Mrs. Bill McAdam gave a reading and Mrs. Jim Pollock sang a solo. Muriel McIntosh read a short verse and led the guest of honour forward to view a nicely decorated wishing well containing her gifts. Ruth McIntosh read a brief address.

After opening a beautiful array of gifts, Doris very graciously thanked the ladies, stating also how wonderful it was to see all her old friends whom she hadn't seen while she had been away.

The hostesses served a delicious lunch and a social half hour was spent.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Observed 106th Anniversary

Rev. R. A. Sinclair, B.A., of Madoc, Guest Minister —
Special Music By The Choir

Favoured with lovely fall weather, the 106th Anniversary observed by St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, on Sunday was quite successful. The church was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Craighead.

Rev. R. A. Sinclair, B.A., of Madoc, was the guest minister, and delivered outstanding messages. Mrs. Harry Morrow, organist, presided at the console for both services. Many former members and visitors were present on this anniversary occasion.

At the morning service, Rev. Sinclair spoke on the theme "Stand Up and Be Counted". There were too many who were content to coast along without getting behind the wheel and doing something for the cause of Christianity, stated the speaker.

At the evening service, he challenged his listeners to go out and "do good", in spite of the fact that their efforts would be belittled by some and they would be labelled as "do-gooders".

Special Music

By The Choir

Special music was provided by the choir at both services, under the direction of Mrs. H. Morrow.

In the morning, the choir rendered the anthem, "O Saviour, Precious Saviour", and Mrs. Geo. Heasman sang a solo, "Jesus Lover of My Soul". At the evening service, the choir sang the anthem, "In Deeper Reverence", and Miss Linda Anne Morrow rendered a solo, "I'll Walk With God".

Canvas For CNIB To Be Held In Stirling October 3rd To 10th

To the average citizen of Stirling and Hastings County, it must come as a great surprise to learn that there are 75 persons registered with and receiving services from The Canadian National Institute for the Blind in this county, 7 of whom became blind during the past year. Also there are 120 registered as eye service or prevention of blindness cases, and that during the past year, 64 eye examinations were arranged and reports received, with 28 being provided with eye glasses or new lenses, etc. or artificial eyes or some form of treatment. The eye service programme of the C.N.I.B. includes not only eye examinations and glasses, but transportation costs if required, and services from the Low Vision Clinic and the Eye Bank of Canada, two of the newer services.

During the year, the Institute's Field Secretaries contacted 133 of the registered blind, as well as making many prevention of blindness contacts to discuss problems and arrange for services. Miss Philpott, the district home teacher, taught valuable skills for the blind to 10 pupils, 6 of whom were able to make handicraft items which were sold through the Blindcraft Shop and other sales outlets, another C.N.I.B. service for the blind.

As a sighted person, the reader of this article can go to the local book-store or Public Library and get books by your favourite authors. Your blind neighbours cannot do this. Yet the world of books is open to them through the Institute's Library service, and 18 sightless folk of your county used this service, borrowing books on long-play records or in embossed type. Some have their own record players on which to play these recorded books, but in addition, 8 portable record players are loaned to the blind by the Hastings County Advisory Board, which serves the blind of this county.

What would you do if there were a blind child in your family? Many parents, some of whom you may know, have had to face this problem: but no longer alone. The C.N.I.B., through its Pre-School Blind Child and Eye Service Departments, assist and guide the parents and the children in the difficult task of learning without sight, and follow the children through school, either in the local

A real estate deal of interest was completed this week when Jack and Dorothy McCaughen purchased the Empire Block from Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, of St. Catharines. The deal was completed through a Kingston realtor.

St. Paul's A.O.T.S. Corn Roast

Members of St. Paul's A.O.T.S. Men's Club entertained their wives and lady friends at a corn roast held on the banks of Rawdon Creek on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. R. Philp on Friday night last.

C. E. West, president of the Club, welcomed the members and their guests. Jack Bush led in community singing with Maurice Bell providing music on his banjo. Several contests were enjoyed and refreshments consisting of corn, wieners, coffee and soft drinks were enjoyed. The programme was closed with a friendship circle and the benediction.

Trousseau Tea In Honour Of Miss Janet Anne Good

Mrs. J. L. Good entertained at a Trousseau Tea Saturday afternoon and evening, in honour of her daughter, Miss Janet Anne Good, whose marriage takes place this Saturday.

Miss Patricia Patterson opened the door during the afternoon and Miss Jacqueline Finkle during the evening. The guests were received by the hostess, the guest of honour, and Mrs. James Palmer.

Mrs. R. A. Patterson welcomed the guests in the living room and invited them to the dining room during the afternoon and Mrs. D. Sine during the evening. The table was covered with a lace tea cloth and adorned with pink and white gladioli and tall white tapers in silver holders.

Tea was poured in the afternoon by Mrs. E. W. Rowland, of Peterborough, Mrs. J. B. Belshaw, Mrs. Lloyd Rowland, of Peterborough, and Mrs. Gordon Bailey, and in the evening, by Mrs. A. Packman, Mrs. Thelma Tulloch, Mrs. C. I. Hatton and Mrs. G. W. Jones. Others assisting were Mrs. G. B. Bedford, Mrs. R. D. Cooke, Mrs. D. Patterson, Mrs. G. Finkle, Mrs. F. Lyons, Mrs. R. Marbury, Mrs. T. Wells and Mrs. C. A. Wells, of Trenton.

In charge of the trousseau rooms were Mrs. David Vice, Mrs. Edgar Hay-Elis and Miss Lynda Sine, while Miss Nancy Finkle had charge of the guest book in the afternoon and Miss Judy Patterson, in the evening.

Guests were present from Ottawa, Campbellford, Trenton, Belleville, Stirling and the surrounding district.

Won Toaster Door Prize

Mrs. Grant Hubble, Stirling, was the winner of an electric pop-up toaster as a door prize at the Trenton Lions Bingo on Monday night. Her many friends extend congratulations.

Energetic Bowling League Opens

On Friday afternoon, September 23rd, the Energetic Bowling League commenced their 1960-61 season. The teams are: Shrinking Violets, captain, Naomi Eggleton; Blooming Poppies, captain, Laura Waite; Lonely Petunias, captain, Frances Heath; Daffy Dahlias, captain, Betty Johnson.

The president welcomed the bowlers, especially the new members. The rules were read by the secretary, and bowling was started. Some very good games were bowled. Those with scores of 200 or over were Vera Woodcock, 200; Lenora West, 207 and 271; Marjorie Potts, 212, and 220; Ollie Thompson, 210; and Frances Heath, 216. The high single, 271, and high triple, 658, were bowled by Lenora West.

We'll see you next week at the newly-renovated Bowl-o-drome.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Louis Rodgers, of West Hill, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rodgers, and attended the McGee-McGowan wedding in Campbellford on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shank left on Sunday for their home in Vancouver, B.C., after spending several weeks guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haggerty.

Messrs Major Fraser, Harry Clarke and Wm. Fowler attended the reunion of the 21st Battalion held in Peterborough on Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Sinclair, Glenn, Margaret Ann and Alex, of Madoc, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. K. J. Rooney, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pitcher, of town, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pitcher, of Frankford, to Ottawa on Sunday. On Monday night, they attended a banquet arranged for officials.

Mrs. M. Dickson, who has been visiting her daughter in Vancouver, B.C., for some time, arrived home on Saturday last. She was met at Malton by Mr. and Mrs. E. Warren.

Agents of the International Harvester Co.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Tompkins, of Ottawa, and Mrs. and Mrs. Nesbitt Haggerty, of Wooler, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Tompkins on Wednesday night.

Anniversary Services At Carmel

Anniversary Services were held at Carmel United Church on Sunday with a capacity attendance at both services.

The guest minister was a former pastor, Rev. E. A. Baker, U.E., of Toronto, who occupied the pulpit in the morning and was assisted by Rev. A. Packman, in the evening. The text in the morning was taken from the Epistle of James, "Be Ye doers of the word and hearers only", applied to the subject "Merry-Go-Round or Somewhere". The evening subject was "Look at Your Ticket", based on the parable of the Prodigal Son.

Special music, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Pyear, included two anthems at each service, with solo parts by Mr. Harry Brown and Mr. Ron White. Mr. Douglas Pyear and son, Barry, rendered a soprano and tenor duet. The choir was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Grant Richardson, Stirling, Mrs. Roy Neal, Belleville, and Mrs. Joe Black. The church was tastefully decorated with fall flowers by Mrs. Lorne Brooks.

A fellowship hour was held in the Jubilee Hall after the evening service when Rev. and Mrs. Baker renewed old friendships in the Stirling district. The Carmel ladies served a social cup of tea.

56th Wedding Anniversary

Congratulations are extended Mr. and Mrs. Major Fraser, John St., who observed their 56th Wedding Anniversary on Wednesday, September 28th.

Mr. Fraser is a native of Hastings and Mrs. Fraser was born in Norham. They were married in Campbellford on September 28th, 1904. They have three sons, Lester, of Peterborough, Gerald, of Glen Ross, and Albert, of Stirling, and one daughter, Mrs. Roy Chapman, of Brandon.

Miss Mary Marlene Carlisle and William Geo. Stacey Exchange Vows

A very pretty double-ring ceremony was solemnized at high noon on Saturday, September 24th, 1960, in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, with Rev. Arthur Packman officiating, when Mary Marlene, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Carlisle, Stirling, R.R. 3, became the bride of William George Stacey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stacey, of Newtonville, Ontario.

Tall standards of vari-coloured gladioli, with yellow predominating, were used at the altar and the guest pews were designated with white satin streamers and bows.

Miss Grace Pitman, A.T.C.M., rendered traditional organ music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. James Pollock, of Wellman's, who sang, "I'll Walk Beside You", before the ceremony and "A Wedding Prayer", during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor-length, bridal gown of white miramist, fashioned with molded bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, ending in lily points at the wrists. The back was adorned with a long row of we buttons. A billowy overskirt of gardenia white silk organza, embroidered with large white roses, enveloped the skirt.

A shoulder-length veil of silk tulle illusion was deeply embroidered along the scalloped edge and was draped on a bandeau headpiece of ruching and trimmed with simulated pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of regal gold roses with frosted ivy, and wore a strand of pearls.

Mrs. Gerald Russett, Harold R.R. 2, was matron of honour for her sister and was gowned in a street-length frock of copper-tone crystal charm, with matching hat in leaf design. She carried a semi-cascade of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums with wide satin streamers.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Michael Kube, Oshawa, and the bride's cousin, Mrs. Gerald Clancy, of Wellman's, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of Emerald green crystal charm silk, with matching hats in leaf design and carried semi-cascades of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, with wide streamers of yellow

Bid Farewell To Miss Doris Donnan

Presentation Made Prior To Leaving For Hay River;
Short Program Presented

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Donnan, of Stirling, was the scene of a very pleasant evening on Wednesday, September 21st, when the friends of Stirling / Pentecostal Assemblies gathered to bid farewell to Doris Donnan, who left on Tuesday, September 27th to become a missionary nurse at Hay River.

After a brief period of reminiscing, Pastor Robert Donnan called the group together, expressing appreciation and gratitude to the people who came and also a special "thank you" to Doris for her "Labour of Love" in the church, and to wish her great happiness in her work for "Our Lord". Mrs. Don McCoy led in prayer, asking God's richest blessing for Doris.

A short programme was enjoyed and consisted of all present taking part in singing several choruses. Doris and Bob favoured with a beautiful duet, "Behind the Clouds". Several of the group gave personal testimonies.

An address was then read by Mrs. Lee Smith and Mrs. McCoy presented Doris with a mantel radio, a bronze pin-up lamp and a necklace. Doris replied in her gracious manner and spoke briefly on how the Lord had called her to minister to the people of the North land.

The Pastor then showed colourful slides of interest to everyone. Mrs. Melville Donnan closed with prayer and a delicious lunch was served. On Sunday, September 25th, Doris Donnan ministered a favourable sermon which was recorded on tape by Jack and Dorothy McCaughen, who later presented the Donnan family with the recording.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Family Finance Plan...

Bring all your personal credit needs under one roof
with a low-cost B of M life-insured loan

Already thousands of Canadians are turning their dreams into reality with the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan. They've found that bringing all their credit needs under this single comprehensive plan really works wonders for them in getting the most out of their income.

Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan loans are putting students through college, paying emergency costs, financing off-season vacation trips and filling all sorts of needs for the home and family—all adding up to easier, happier living.

If you have a steady income and can make low-cost monthly payments, this modern plan could help you realize a good many of your dreams. All loans are life-insured, monthly payments can extend over two years—or even three—and you can borrow up to $3,500 depending on your income.

Your neighbourhood branch of the B of M is the place to go to talk over your needs. Whether you are a customer or not, the same warm welcome awaits you.

Family Day For
Hasty Pees
Regiment

Sunday, October 2nd, 1960, has been designated as Family Day for the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

It will begin with the families and men gathering for Church Services. The Protestants will gather at the Belleville Fairgrounds for service, conducted by Padre Alexander Wakefield, the Roman Catholics will attend Mass at St. Michaels, celebrated by Father Murphy, unit Chaplain.

After lunch the unit will participate in an Inter-company Drill Competition. The winning Company will carry off the "Little Chief", a prized possession of the Regiment. The day will end with receptions being held in all the Messes.

Woman Drowns

Mrs. Kenneth Kerr, 20-year-old expectant mother, Trenton, was drowned Sunday night when she fell 20 feet into swirling water from a dam on the Trent River near here.

Mrs. Kerr had been fishing from the dam with her husband, news editor of the weekly newspaper, Trentonian. She apparently lost her balance.

FORSYTH — In memory of my husband, John Forsyth, who passed away September 29th, 1951.

The blow was great, the shock severe I little thought the end was near. And only those who have lost can tell The pain of parting without farewell. More each day I miss you, Friends may think the wound is healed.

But they little know the sorrow That lies within my heart concealed. — Sadly missed by his wife, Catherine Forsyth. 32-1p

TODAY AND 15 YEARS AGO

SOEST, West Germany — Last week we told of a couple living in quarters designed for the Canadian Army. This week, as a comparison, we want to write of a young couple living "on the economy", the term used to describe accommodation rented from a German family, and buying food and other needs in the German stores and market.

Guardsman M. E. Fife, Parrsboro, N.S., of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Guards, and Mrs. Fife pay $49 a month for a furnished apartment, heating it themselves, in "Little Canada", a section of Soest where several Canadian families are living. They have one bedroom, living room, kitchen and bath.

Living quarters are available for about one-half of the Canadian families here with the Army. The rest just find quarters "on the economy". This is becoming increasingly difficult, we were told, because the policy of the German government has changed. Providing considerable financial assistance for new housing, the Government states that German families and the thousands of refugees pouring in from East Germany must have first choice — after present Canadian tenants. What will happen at rotation time? This will mean the end, also, to the lucrative rents from the well-paid Canadians.

The Fifes are happy in their home. Their landlady speaks good English, and they are becoming fairly fluent in German as they do much of their shopping in the local corner store and on the Soest market. They are only about 10 minutes drive from the MLS store, so they get along very well with their shopping.

To help the families living out of town, Army buses make regular runs to bring the wives into the stores, and trucks accompany the buses home to carry the supplies.

They are able to buy more and more Canadian-type foods, even in the German stores, and unsliced, wrapped "Canadian Bread", made in Germany. Meat in the German stores is cut while you wait, as it was in the shops back home a few short years ago. It is good, but a bit more expensive than the Danish meats at the MLS. However, all cuts are completely boned by the German butcher.

They find the German people very neighbourly. They were especially kind when the Fife's only child, an 11-month-old boy, died recently. A host of flowers was brought to the home and to the military cemetery at Werl.

Guardsman Fife is a member of a German rifle club, which enters competitions all over Europe. He is coaxing his wife to join also, in time for the trip to Cologne. They have been to Switzerland, Holland (the Canadians shopping paradise), and around Germany in their Opel, the German made GM car. They plan a lot more travelling.

They attend shows at the Fort, Bings at the Red Patch Club, and social visits with their German and Canadian neighbours. They listen to the Canadian Army Europe Radio Station from Werl, and on Saturdays see the Perry Como show on German TV. Since their baby died, Mrs. Fife has taken up oil painting "by numbers" to pass the daytime hours.

They are happy with their lot. It is an experience they could not have bought, and they intend taking full advantage of their tour of duty in Europe.

Rylstone W. A. Pie Social

Rylstone W.A. held a very successful pie social and entertainment on Friday night in the church. Mrs. Donald Rose, of Peterborough, assisted by Wm. Donaldson, showed the movie "The Seaway" and other films. Following is the programme: Chairman's remarks, Mr. Harry Seymour; Marimba solo, "The World is Waiting For The Sunrise", by Marshall Sills, of Campbellford, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Carolyn Townes; encore, "A Medley of Sacred Songs"; remarks about the movies, by Bill Donaldson; movie, "Building the St. Lawrence Seaway"; prayer by Mr. Seymour; movie, "Bruins Go On a Picnic" and "Enchanted Isles"; and thanks to all who helped with the programme or in any way, by W.A. President, Mrs. W. Spencer.

Sandwiches, pickles, stuffed celery and olives, as well as a good variety of pie, was served at the close of the programme and the evening came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

Rawdon Council

Rawdon Township Council met at Harold on September 1st, with the members all present. On motion of Morton and Johnston the letter received from Mrs. F. M. Rutherford was placed on file.

Morton and Brown: The Provincial Treasurer of the Department of Health of Ontario be paid $1c for insulin supplied.

Johnston and Brown: the amount of $42.00 be paid for the two quarters of the year for the Springbrook street lighting. Morton and Johnston: that W. J. Barlow be paid $10.00 for registering letters from the Tax Collector. Morton and Brown: the following relief vouchers be paid — Treasurer, City of Belleville, $10.25; Hiram Mumby, $10.00; W. J. Barlow, $66.48; Johnston and Brown: Road Voucher No. 8, for $2,704.42 be paid. Beckett and Morton: Harold C. Martin be paid $16.00, being the premium on Treasurer's bond for the year. Brown and Morton: Council adjourn to meet Monday, October 3rd at 7.30 p.m. Kenneth Mumby, W. J. Barlow, Reeve Clerk

West Huntingdon Endeavors Sunday School Class

The Endeavors Sunday School members were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lainsen. Mr. Arthur Wilson conducted the first part of the meeting. A fine sing song was enjoyed by all, followed by worship call. The Scripture Lesson was read and explained by Mr. Clayton Wright, and was taken from St. John's Gospel, the 17th chapter. Mr. Alex McCurdy offered prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read. The roll was called and the announcements made.

Following this, Mrs. William Grant conducted the remaining part of the programme. Mr. William Grant gave an interesting violin solo. Mr. George Dyson read a paper on "The Story of the United Church". Mr. Grant favoured with another violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Grant on the piano.

Following the benediction, Mr. Mac Sables conducted two contests. Lunch was then served.

Kill Quackgrass This Fall

You still have time to get rid of quackgrass this fall. John Curtis, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture Field Crops Branch says right now's a good time for chemical quackgrass control.

He says: "There will be little residue left in the spring to injure next year's crop. Also chemicals seem to do an excellent job when applied in the fall."

Curtis suggests using dalapon at 10 to 15 pounds per acre in 100 gallons of water or amino triazole at 10 pounds of product in 100 gallons of water. Apply chemicals only when the grass is growing actively.

Follow up this treatment with a plowing 10 to 14 days later.

Costs? The field crops extension agronomist says dalapon will cost from $10 to $15 per acre; amino triazole will cost $18 to $27 per acre.

Bank of Montreal First In Advertising

For the second consecutive year, the Bank of Montreal has been rated first among the nine Canadian chartered banks and second among the 15,000 banks of North America for its advertising over the past 12 months.

The standing is based on a survey of financial advertising conducted by Vincent Edwards and Co., New York, reported in the annual "Bank Ad-Views" review of Canadian and U.S. financial advertising.

The Seattle-First National Bank placed first among all North American banks.

With the exception of only two years in the past 15, the B of M has been rated first among Canadian banks in the "Bank Ad-Views" survey and has received a "Socrates Award" each year.

Twice during the same period, the Bank of Montreal was first among all North American banks having received the "Socrates High Award of the Year" in 1946 and 1954.

Marmaraton Closing Due End Of Month

A six-week shutdown at the Marmaraton mines will start at the end of this month, putting 250 men out of work. It was reported Monday.

The iron mine at Marmaraton, 25 miles north of Belleville, is a subsidiary of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation in the United States.

Shower Gifts On Couple Recently Wed

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Heasman, R.R. 4, Stirling, was the scene of a happy gathering on Friday evening when the immediate neighbours and friends from the River Valley community tendered the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Howell, (nee Joanne Heasman) a presentation party.

The living room picture window was adorned with pink and white streamers and bells, and a large basket of variegated gladioli. Two chairs were decorated in pink and white.

Mr. Harold Bush was master of ceremonies and led a sing song of old familiar tunes, with Mrs. Phil Conley as accompanist.

Selections were read by Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. Roy Tucker, Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh and Mrs. Ernest Carr. Piano solos were rendered by Misses Sonda Chambers and Marilyn Conley.

Mrs. Roy Bush read an appropriate address which had been written for the occasion by Mrs. Clifford Lansing. This told of Joanne's participation in 4-H Club work and other activities and extended a welcome to Chesley, who is a member of the Toronto Salvation Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell were presented with an upholstered occasional chair, a large wall mirror, and a footstool, by Messrs. J. R. Donohoe, Glenn Bush and Hadley Richardson.

Joanne and Chesley expressed their thanks for the party in their honour and invited their friends to visit them in their Toronto home.

Brief addresses were given by Messrs. George Heasman, Mr. James Heasman, of Toronto, the bride's uncle, and Mr. H. Howell, of Toronto, the bridegroom's father.

The newlyweds unwrapped several individual gifts, after which the committal in charge served refreshments and all enjoyed a social hour.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

THE FAMILY

It would be a foolish father who would force each member of his family along precisely the same lines. The wise father tries instead to give each youngster a chance to develop his potential skills to the utmost, avoiding discrimination of any kind. To hold back an ambitious child in favour of a slower one would be considered foolhardy.

Most families operate sensibly, so that each member may develop fully. The young earner who saves most is allowed to keep his savings and use them in his own way and is not obliged to turn them over to his less frugal brother or sister. In other words, the normal penalties of life are allowed to operate side by side with the normal rewards. In the happy family, a great deal of flexibility exists under a set of rules fair to all. A good father would not impede the success of one son in order to insure the success of another.

Does this mean that there is no charity in family life? Not at all. In-home after home, the more talented child will voluntarily assist a slower brother. This is true charity, because it is on a voluntary basis, and thus has great spiritual value.

Few public organizations can match the family unit for spiritual values. Families where there is lack of love, compassion, generosity, charity and innumerable other values, are rare indeed. Even a man who is a rotter in public life will display remarkable virtue in the interests of his family, even to the point of risking his life for them.

The world will never go completely to pot as long as family life continues. If ever the family unit is destroyed, and public authorities attempt to replace natural parents, civilization will be doomed.

KIDNEY — FOR VARIETY

Variety meats should appear more often on your dinner table as they are nutritious and less expensive than most meats. They supply valuable quantities of iron and are good sources of vitamin A and the B vitamins. Besides liver, variety meats include kidney, heart, tongues, sweetbreads, brains and tripe. The Consumer Section of the Canada Department of Agriculture has tested various ways of cooking kidney and suggests them as a good beginning towards helping you prepare and serve variety meats.

Types of Kidney

Kidneys differ in flavour and tenderness and all are not cooked the same way.

Beef kidney is not as tender as other types and is strong flavoured. Veal kidney is similar to beef kidney but is milder flavoured.

Pork kidney has a characteristic strong flavour.

Lamb kidney has a mild flavour.

Beef and pork kidneys will have a milder flavour if they are covered with cold, salted water (1 tablespoon salt to 4 cups water) and allowed to soak for 1 hour in the refrigerator before cooking.

To Prepare And Serve Kidney

To prepare a kidney for cooking, remove the membrane and cut the lobes away from the fat and tubes with sharp pointed scissors. Cut the kidney crosswise in 1/4 or 1/2-inch slices or pieces.

Veal, lamb and pork kidneys may be panfried. Brown in a small amount of fat over high heat for 1 to 2 minutes. Continue cooking over moderate heat, turning often, about 3 to 5 minutes. The kidney is well done when the red colour has disappeared in the center. Do not overcook as it will become tough.

Panfried kidneys may be served with a gravy made by adding a few tablespoons of water to the drippings and simmering for a few minutes. Melted butter or a mixture of melted butter and lemon juice may also be served on kidneys.

You can broil veal, lamb and pork kidneys. Slices cut 1/2 to 1 inch thick will take 3 to 4 minutes on each side. Brush them with fat before broiling.

Beef and pork kidneys may be braised in water or tomato juice. Brown sliced kidney in a small amount of fat over high heat about 1 to 2 minutes. Season. Sprinkle lightly with flour and brown again. Add liquid to a depth of 1/2 inch, about two-thirds cup liquid per pound of kidney. Cover closely and cook slowly on top of stove or in center of moderately slow oven (325 deg. F.) for 35 to 40 minutes.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

When the New Testament was published in Sonhai and St. Matthew's Gospel was printed in Tamachek for the people who lived along a large loop of the Niger River in the French Sudan there were a very few of the people who could read. Later, schools were established even in this remote corner of the Sudan so at least some portion of Scripture was ready for use in these schools.

Scriptures in other tongues are available in this area. A Moslem was given a French Bible by a Missionary in Timbuctoo. Upon reading it he became so angered by its teaching that he burned the Bible. The memory of some of the words he had read never left him. He wanted to get another copy of the Bible but was afraid to ask the Missionary. When his hunger for the Word overcame his fear, he went to the Missionary and given another copy.

When his work took him out in the desert his only light was a native lamp using for fuel melted fat from hyenas which he had killed. The feeble glow compelled him to hold the book so close to the light that its heat scorched the pages. On his next visit to the Missionary he asked to become a Christian.

By the feeble light of his hyena fat lamp he had found the Eternal Light.

Peak demands for power in December, 1959, reached a record 5,550,500 kilowatts or almost one kilowatt for every man, woman and child in Ontario. This peak was 8.1 per cent above the corresponding month in 1958.

HEALTH TRENDS

Increasingly recognize the importance of greater attention to the VISUAL state... as a casual factor in BODILY stress.

Accordingly, many an intelligent patient voluntarily declares positive relief from GENERAL discomfort, in some instances of long standing duration.

1961 OLDSMOBILE F-85

New addition to the Oldsmobile line is the 1961 F-85 four-door sedan. The F-85 is Oldsmobile's entry in the lower-priced, smaller-sized automobile field. It seats six people and is 188.2 inches long — 30 inches shorter than the 1960 Oldsmobile 88. Built on a 112-inch wheelbase, it is 71.6 inches wide and 52.6 inches high. It is powered by a new aluminum Rockette 155 hp V-8 engine designed for increased fuel economy.

"But I can't spend my telephone money!"

This is a true story.

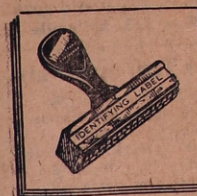

One of our telephone people recently passed a neighbourhood lunch counter where some children were about to order a second round of milk shakes and soft drinks. One little boy, called Jimmy, found he only had one dime left. He announced firmly:

"I can't spend my telephone money!"

Obviously, Jimmy's parents had convinced him that he'd never have to worry — nor would they — about being late or getting lost if he always kept a dime for a phone call: there's always a telephone nearby!

So Jimmy's telephone dime buys his mother peace of mind... it seems like such a good idea that children know how to reach home by phone.

Ivanhoe

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw attended anniversary services held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Harper Rollins.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mitz were Mrs. Wm. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Detlor, Foxboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Detlor, Belleville.

Mrs. Estella Reid spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. John Rittwage, Brighton.

Monday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw were Mrs. Jno. Wright, Miss Margaret Wright, Mrs. Arthur Wood, Mr. John Gay, Miss Jayne Gay, Mr. Stanley Prest, Mrs. Wm. Shaw, Mrs. Bateman Tanner, Madoc, Mr. P. M. Wood, Molra Lake. Mrs. Wm. Shaw and Mr. P. M. Wood were celebrating their birthdays.

Richard Leo McAvoy Dies at Bancroft

Old friends in this district learned, with regret, of the passing of Richard Leo McAvoy, at the Red Cross Hospital, Bancroft, on September 18th, 1960.

Dick, as he was familiarly known, was the son of James and Julia McAvoy. He was born in this commu-ity, where he spent his early life.

For a number of years, he was a valued employee of the Standard Pavement, the Raynor Construction and McFarland Construction companies. Prior to his death, he owned and successfully operated a General Store at Maynooth.

Possessing a genial personality and a keen sense of humor, he was popular with young and old. He was always willing to contribute to any worthy cause and was a true friend to the poor and needy.

Mr. McAvoy was a faithful member of St. Ignatius Martyr Church.

The sympathy of this community is extended to his wife, the former Mary Fitzgerald; his brother, James and family, of Ivanhoe and other members of his family.

St. Paul's W.M.A.

St. Paul's Woman's Missionary Auxiliary was hostess to a joint meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian, St. John's Anglican, Eggleston United and River Valley Woman's Auxiliaries on September 27th.

The purpose of the meeting was to encourage Christian fellowship and unity among the members of the different churches.

STIRLING HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

There are still a few vacant seats on the bus going to Toronto, October 3rd to the International Rose Show. Anyone wishing to go, may contact Mrs. F. Armstrong or Mrs. Ross Bush.

Mrs. Noble presided over the first part of the meeting, opening with a short poem, "Forgive". Hymn "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" was followed by the Scripture Lesson from Psalm 19, read by Mrs. Foster. Mrs. Reid led prayer. Mrs. Stapley read a timely poem, "Your Church and Mine".

You go to your church and I'll go to mine, But let's walk along together; Our Father has built them side by side.

So let's walk along together. The road is rough and the way is long.

But we'll help each other over, You go to your church and I'll go to mine, But let's walk along together.

You go to your church and I'll go to mine, But let's walk along together;

Our heavenly Father is the same, So let's walk along together. The chimes of your church ring loud and clear.

They chime with the chimes of my church;

You go to your church and I'll go to mine, But let's walk along together.

You go to your church and I'll go to mine,

But let's walk along together; Our heavenly Father loves us all, So let's walk along together.

The Lord will be at my church today But he'll be at your church also; You go to your church and I'll go to mine,

—Phillips H. Lord - 1902

The hymn, "Blest Be the Tie", was sung. This meeting was held as a follow-up of the "World Day of Prayer", with a similar meeting to be held in May 1961, and semi-annually from then on.

Mrs. Packman spoke briefly, welcoming the visiting ladies and offering the following suggestions in regard to our relationship with God:

1. That we pray more.
2. That we pray for our ministers and group leaders.
3. That we pray for our Sunday School Superintendent and children.
4. Pray, exercise faith, then comes service.

The next World Day of Prayer will be Feb. 17th, 1961, local groups meet-

"At Home"

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Watson, R.R. 3, Campbellford, Ont., will be at home to their friends and relatives on Wednesday, October 5th, from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

ing at St. Paul's United.

The offering was gathered by Miss Thomas and Mrs. Beatty and was dedicated by Mrs. Bruce Stapley. A reading, "Hymn Singing", was given by Mrs. F. McGee.

Mrs. V. Richardson gave an excellent talk on "Building a Better Community", stating that the four basic requirements for same were wisdom, courage, temperance and justice. She noted the remarkable progress our race has made having conquered space and split the atom but in spiritual matters we are yet in the stone age. Jesus said, love to God and love to man is the fulfilling of the law. Hymn, "Zion's King Shall Reign Victorious", was sung.

Mrs. Noble reported that on the last Woman's World Day of Prayer, meetings were held in 3,500 centres in Canada and the offering was $50,000. The prayer chain is growing longer and stronger.

Afternoon tea was served to more than sixty ladies and a social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Rooney was asked to tell of similar meetings held in Vernon, B.C. She said they all used a book for study and their meeting was considered the highlight of the year.

Mrs. M. Clancy voiced thanks to the ladies in charge.

Shower At Mount Pleasant

On Saturday evening, September 24th, the Mount Pleasant community tendered the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston (nee Eleanor Smith), a party in the church hall which was decorated with baskets of summer blooms. Rev. W. G. Fletcher presided over the programme and led the sing song with Mrs. Carleton Potts as pianist.

Musical selections, clarinet and piano, were given by Allan and Janet Fletcher and a double clarinet duet by Hugh and Norma Hoard. Misses Donald Heath and Barbara Hadley gave a piano duet, while Misses Carol and Jean Sharpe sang. Piano solos were given by Mrs. John Mulhern and Miss Sally McAdam. Selections were read by Mrs. Edgar McKeown, Mrs. Percy MacMullen and Mrs. Harry McAdam.

The newlyweds were given seats of honour and Miss Gail Scott read an appropriate address. They were the recipients of a five-piece bridge set, telephone table with matching chair, lamp and magazine rack and individual gifts. Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

High School Students Visit Stratford Festival

(by Anne Reid)

At 6.45, early Friday morning, September 16th, on the deserted street in front of Stirling High School, stood one lone vehicle — the long, green bus of Mr. Wannamaker.

Soon, twenty-three sleepy-eyed students and one bright-eyed teacher, Mr. E. Hay-Ellis, made the way to their seats, looking forward with great anticipation to the events which were to follow in the day — the main one, of course being the presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Shakespearean Festival in Stratford.

Upon arrival in Stratford, much to our delight we found a picturesque scene of graceful swans, gliding on the calm Avon and of wooden bridges spanning the distance between the tree-lined banks.

The two stars of Romeo and Juliet, Julie Harris and Bruno Gerussi, made the two and a half hour performance seem like minutes. Their tremendous ability as actors made the audience become a part of the thrilling street fights, of the tender love scenes and of the fate of the two "star-crossed lovers".

To each of us that went, it was truly an experience we will not soon forget and to those who have not gone, if the opportunity should avail itself, we can say it is truly a worthwhile venture.

Stacey-Carlisle Wedding

surrounded with white bells and misted at the base in white tulle. The nuptial flowers completed the setting. Lettered wedding serviettes and souvenirs in silver trim added festive beauty. The other tables were decorated with matching heart-shaped novel frames with silver trim and centred with yellow marigolds.

Mr. Charles Carter, Burnbrae, uncle of the bride, was toastmaster and proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded. The groom proposed a toast to the attendants and the groomsmen replied. The bride's father also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Stacey chose for her wedding trip to North Bay and northern points a dress of royal blue all wool flannel, with matching short buttoned jacket, a winter-white feather hat and gloves with black suede shoes and matching purse. Her corsage was pink and white feathered carnations.

On their return, they will reside at Newtonville, Ontario. The large number of guests were in attendance from Niagara Falls, Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Grafton, Trenton, Campbellford, Peterborough, Port Hope, Orono, Hastings, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Newtonville, Belleville, Frankford, Springbrook, Bonarlaw,
